RAIL MEN THRU WITH NEW DEAL, LEADER WARNS

Vows to Prove It at Next Election.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 17 [Special].—A sensational political break occurred today between spokesmen for the nonoperating railroad unions and the New Deal. It came during a meeting of the house interstate commerce committee when George M. Harrison, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Clerks and an ardent supporter of President Roosevelt since 1933, declared the railway employes were "thoroly disgusted" with the way the administration has handled their wage dispute and would "tell them so at the next election."

Aroused by repeated assertions made at the hearing by Stabilization Director Fred M. Vinson that the 8 cents an hour increase proposed by a Presidential board was inflationary, Harrison climaxed the hearing by saying President Roosevelt had twice approved the 8 cent recommendation, but had been, in effect, overruled by Vinson.

"Ran Out on Us."

"The government agreed to the 8 cent recommendation at one time but later ran out on us," Harrison declared heatedly. "That's speaking plainly."

Harrison showed every indication that he and his associates, representing 1,100,000 nonoperating employes, had exhausted their patience and expected nothing from President Roosevelt or the administration.

Pressed by a committee member to state frankly what the prospects were regarding his men in line with a strike call for Dec. 30 announced by the operating brotherhoods for 350,000 other employes, Harrison said:

"The heads of the unions have no intention of doing anything contrary to the national interest, but there has been terrible pressure on us by our members. Our people are mad at what has happened. They are thoroly disgusted. I don't think it did the Democrats a damn bit of good the way they handled this thing and our people are going to tell them so at the next election."

Dispute Beyond Compromise.

Previously Harrison had indicated the dispute had gone beyond the possibility of a compromise. He said his men were determined to hold the President to what they considered his plighted word when he approved the 8 cents an hour recommendation of an emergency board.

Replying to a question by Rep. Charles A. Halleck [R., Ind.] concerning the President's part in the wage dispute, the union chief said Mr. Roosevelt "could have done the job if he had taken the bull by the horns," but he had lost hope that the President would act.

"We are here because we cannot get action any place else," he continued.

Arrogance Denounced.

Harrison told Rep. Halleck he had heard compromise rumors, but the unions would not listen to anything but the 8 cents an hour increase. He then denounced "administration arrogance and bungling," and asserted "the people are sick and tired of the way they are being treated by burocrats in Washington."

Vinson, he said, had not read the testimony taken during 44 days of hearings before the Presidential emergency board and had not even permitted the unions and carriers to confer with him before he vetoed the increase.

Galvin Suspect Shot 4 Times; Screams Clew

A jewel thief with many rackets and aliases was found beaten and shot to death yesterday in his room in the St. James hotel, 444 St. James place. Police said last night that the solution of the mystery of his slaying probably also would solve many crimes, possibly including the Galvin murder case.

Edward J. Ross.

The victim, whose true name is believed to be Edward J. Ross, 38 years old, had been sought by state's attorney's detectives for several months as a suspect in the slaying of Mrs. Lillian Galvin, wife of Paul V. Galvin, radio manufacturer, and her maid, Miss Edna Sibilski. The two were shot to death in October, 1942, in the Galvin home, 3038 Normandy place, Evanston, from which more than $30,000 worth of jewelry had been taken.

Hit by Four Bullets.

Ross, a dapper crook, who had in his wardrobe 20 suits of clothing, 300 silk ties, 14 hats, and 16 pairs of shoes, was found shot three times in the head and once in the abdomen with a .38 caliber revolver. He also had been beaten on the head. The weapon, with five bullets fired, was found beside the body.

The victim wore only a rainbow colored pajama top and white shorts. A maid who went to the room to clean it found his body beside an inadoor bed which had not been slept in. Police fixed the shooting at 1:45 a. m. At that time a woman guest in the hotel heard several shots and a woman's screams. Police said a woman may have been with Ross.

A clew was given by Mrs. Ruth Mack, 524 Diversey parkway, a hostess in a loop tavern. She said that the revolver found near Ross' body was not his, but that a .45 caliber pistol which he kept in his apartment was missing, evidently taken by the killer when he discarded the slaying weapon.

Told of Expecting Visitor.

A pocket in one of Ross' trousers had been cut out and only $2 was found in his room. Mrs. Mack said that a three carat diamond ring and $450, including $150 she had lent him the day before, were missing.

Mrs. Mack, whose husband, a member of the army air forces, is in England, said she telephoned Ross about 1 a. m. yesterday, and that he told her he was expecting a visitor. Mrs. Mack was questioned at the Sheffield avenue station with her daughter by a former marriage, Miss Dawn Bushelle, 17.

Mrs. Mack told the police that Ross was a heavy bettor on the horses and until recently had an interest in a handbook on Broadway in the Town Hall district. Police said Ross also had an interest in a juke box concern and formerly was an organizer for a waiters' union.

Chief of Detectives John Sullivan, Capt. John Howe of the Sheffield avenue station, Lt. Thomas Kelly of State's Atty. Courtney's office, and Coroner A. L. Brodie questioned witnesses and sent detectives searching for known pals of Ross. One of those sought is Paul Labriola, a stepson of Lawrence [Dago] Mangano.

Varied Record in Crime.

Lt. Kelly said Ross had used the aliases of Edward Rogers and Edward English among others. In 1926 he was sent to Joliet penitentiary for robbery under the name of Sidney Rossman and was paroled four years later. In 1938 he was sent to the federal prison at Leavenworth, Kas., to serve a year for counterfeiting. He had been arrested more than a dozen times since as a suspect in jewel robberies.

Ross' brother, Joseph Rossman, a bootlegger once charged with robbing a synagogue, was shot to death in gangland style in 1929.

200 Lb. Man Suffocates When Trapped in Barrel

New Brunswick, N. J., Dec. 17 (AP).—John M. Wilkinson, 37 years old and weighing 200 pounds, fell into a barrel in the attic of his home and suffocated. His mother found his body, with feet and head protruding, but his legs jammed against his chest. A post-mortem disclosed no complications to contradict the theory Wilkinson had been standing on a bed to reach a wire when he lost his balance and fell backward into the barrel.

THE MONSTER DOOMS ITS CREATOR

AMERICA TO GET WRIGHTS' PLANE

Dispute Ended; Craft Now Is in England.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 17 (AP).—The airplane in which Orville Wright made the first power driven flight is coming back to the United States after long years of exile in England, thereby ending one of the great scientific quarrels of this country.

President Roosevelt announced the plane will be returned to rest in the Smithsonian institution in a message to a testimonial dinner tonight for Wright on the 40th anniversary of the flight.

"The nation will welcome it back as the outstanding symbol of American genius," the President said.

Wright and his brother, Wilbur, let the plane go to England for exhibition when the Smithsonian institution refused to recognize their flight at Kitty Hawk, N. C., as the first. For many years, it credited the first power flight to Samuel Langley, another aviation pioneer. Now the Smithsonian institution recognizes the Wright flight as the first.

Develop Secret Planes.

Robert P. Patterson, undersecretary of war, a speaker at the dinner, said the United States has "secret planes in development and in the air today whose performance might startle the dream artists of the Sunday supplements."

"There is secret accessory equipment already in use on world battlefronts, which, adapted to the needs of peace, will make worldwide commercial plane operation a simple and routine matter," he said. "We are proving that every day."

Wright presented the Collier trophy, awarded annually since 1911 for American aviation achievement, to Gen. H. H. Arnold, chief of the United States army air forces, for his organization and leadership of the army air forces thruout the world."

Jones Reads Message.

The President's message was read by Secretary of Commerce Jesse H. Jones.

"Orville and Wilbur Wright did not labor and toil to create an instrument of war," Mr. Roosevelt said. "Knowing them as I do, their inspiration was not a destructive weapon. The impelling force which drove them on to ultimate success was to make a contribution to the progress of men.

"When the war is won it will be our obligation to convert to peaceful pursuits the gains in the field of aviation that war has brought. Experiments which would have required decades will have been accomplished in a few years and, if we will, we can use all of these advances for a lasting peace. God willing, we will."

Storm Curtails Ceremony.

Manteo, N. C., Dec. 17 (AP).—Aviation's 40th birthday was celebrated here today near the spot where the Wright brothers made their first flight, but the elaborate exercises planned for the occasion were curtailed sharply because of the worst snowstorm in this area in 26 years.

Instead of the thousands expected to attend, a small audience of naval men gathered at the navy's auxiliary air station and heard Maj. Gen. T. J. Hanley Jr., commanding the army air forces' eastern flying command, pay tribute to Orville Wright, the surviving brother, and to Wilbur Wright.

It had been arranged to hold the exercises at Kitty Hawk where on Dec. 17, 1903, the Wrights first proved that man could fly in a heavier-than-air machine. The storm, however, prevented this.

Tells Why Australians Hail MacArthur as 'Great Chief'

[The following story of an off the record conference with Gen. MacArthur was written by the editor of the London (Ont.) Free Press and president of the Canadian Press, who has been in the Australia area since Nov. 7.]

BY ARTHUR R. FORD.

[Distributed by the Associated Press.]

ALLIED HDQ., Southwest Pacific, Dec. 17.—Gen. MacArthur, commander in chief of allied forces in the Southwest Pacific, today gave a long interview to the Canadian newspaper party visiting Australia.

He talked off the record in English as masterly and vigorous as that of Prime Minister Churchill. He gave us his views of the progress and strategy of the war in Europe and the Pacific, and his ideas of what should be done to bring the war to a successful conclusion.

He also touched on the delicate subject of United States politics and wound up with his philosophy of war and life in which he quoted the Bible, Adam Smith, and Abraham Lincoln.

Call Him "Great White Chief."

The general utterances will have to remain the secret of the newspaper delegation which had the opportunity of interviewing the man whom the people of Australia, as a term of affection, call "The Great White Chief."

On our plane flying to headquarters was an Australian cabinet minister. Quite seriously he told me he intended to see the "Great White Chief."

The people of Australia are not hero worshipers. They are just the opposite. But MacArthur landed in Australia when the country was in desperate plight. The flower of the Australian army and air force with all their equipment was in Britain or the middle east. The Japanese were marching southward. It seemed nothing could stop them. Australia feverishly prepared to meet the enemy but realized the outlook was dark.

Like a Hollywood Hero.

Then came MacArthur, hero of the Philippines who had rallied that country to retard the Japs' progress. Australia views the United States thru the eyes of Hollywood and he was everything that Hollywood painted an American hero. He was handsome. He was dominating. He was masterful. He was courageous. And he was an orator.

Australia accepted MacArthur with enthusiasm. The people cheered him and the government coöperated with him.

We found MacArthur all that the Australian people said of him.

He received us cordially and paid tribute to the fighting qualities of the Canadian soldiers, whom he had learned to admire in France in the last war. He knows the dominion well.

I asked if he would give us his views on the war and explain the Pacific strategy. Making it clear he would only talk off the record, he launched into an hour and a half of intimate and revealing discussion.

Confident of Success.

He started with Europe and moved east until he had covered the world orbit.

At times he spoke with eloquence and vigor. He has a logical mind. He has courage, as his military record shows, and he has unusual powers of expression.

He is a colorful personality with dynamic energy, sure of himself and confident of his ability to defeat the enemy, providing he gets the necessary support.

It is not hard to understand how he caught the imagination of the Australian people and why MacArthur is to them the "Great White Chief."

SMASH JAP AIR BLOW AT ARAWE; DOWN 14 PLANES

Yanks Tighten Grip on New Base.

GEN. MacARTHUR'S HDQ. IN NEW GUINEA, Dec. 18 [Saturday]—(AP).—American planes, providing protection for ground forces securing the invasion beachhead on New Britain, have broken up repeated enemy air attacks, shooting down nine bombers and five fighters, it was announced today.

Ready for the expected retaliatory air blows, which quickly followed the capture Wednesday of Arawe, on the southwest coast, the patrols took on the invaders in a series of sky battles. Three other raiders probably were downed. No mention was made of allied air losses.

Beneath this air umbrella, the Cape Merkus peninsula, which was taken under naval and plane bombardment at a low cost in lives, was strengthened against any Jap counter-move.

Today's war report made it clear that every position seized has been retained, saying: "Territory won in our landing operations is being consolidated by our ground forces"—units of the 6th United States army of Lt. Gen. Walter Krueger.

Pound Cape Gloucester.

While the American fighters were turning back the Jap air force over Arawe, Liberators made two heavy assaults with 232 tons of bombs on Jap positions some 85 miles to the northwest, at Cape Gloucester. That position, nearest to the New Guinea coast from which the New Britain invasion was made, now has taken a pounding by more than 1,100 tons of bombs since late November.

The first of the two attacks was delivered on Wednesday, the day of the invasion of Arawe, and the second was on Thursday.

At the invasion scene of Arawe, the Yank forces were reported holding almost all of the nearly three-mile-long peninsula. No additional casualties have been reported since the landing.

[Among the midwestern soldiers who took part in the Arawe invasion were Privates Howard Lawrence, Madison, Ill.; Edward Hurlbut, Cary, Ill.; Gerhardt Boehs, Chapin, Ill.; Richard L. Rowley, Milwaukee, Wis.; and Henry T. Wegner, Cudahy, Wis. Technical Sgt. Edward Honnegger, Forrest, Ill., flew in a Liberator bomber which covered the invasion.]

Eliminate Snipers.

Headquarters said a few snipers still in the area are being systematically eliminated.

Expansion on Arawe peninsula and repair of the Arawe airdrome, which was found unserviceable, will give allied forces a base within 260 miles of Rabaul, once the symbol of Nipponese power in the South Pacific but now largely neutralized as the result of heavy air attacks.

Westward across narrow Vitiaz strait from New Britain on New Guinea's Huon peninsula, Australian forces moved into the coastal supply village of Lakona, 14 miles north of Finschhafen on Wednesday.

Tanks were employed to drive the enemy out of his holdings, while artillery fire and infantry weapons took a heavy toll of Japs seeking to escape across the Sanga river. Some Japs were blasted out of caves.

Today's reports emphasized anew the ability of allied air forces to smash enemy targets simultaneously over widely separated areas.

Planes Rip Bougainville.

On Wednesday, the same day swarms of planes covered the New Britain landing, the Solomons air force of Adm. William F. Halsey ranged over and around invaded Bougainville in 230 sorties and dropped 175 tons of bombs. In the biggest strike, 130 Dauntless dive bombers and Avenger torpedo bombers with fighter escort hit the Jap air field and other bases at the island's north tip.

In other air strikes, Liberators made a round trip of more than 2,500 miles from Australia to bomb Jap oil refineries at Balikpapan, on Borneo, and Makassar in the Celebes; two enemy tankers were hit and one of 2,000 tons was sunk near Hermit Island, 120 miles northeast of Wewak, New Guinea; Australian flown Beaufighters sank a 4,000 ton transport Thursday off Timor, and 24 supply barges were destroyed or damaged off New Britain and New Guinea.

German Plot to Kill 'Big 3' Told by F.D.R.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 17. — In high spirits but mysteriously reticent on the Cairo and Teheran conferences, President Roosevelt returned to his desk today from the five week journey to the meetings with Prime Minister Churchill of Great Britain, Dictator Stalin of Russia, and Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek of China.

The only news of his trip which he had to contribute at a press conference this afternoon was the report of a German plot on the lives of the Big Three at the Teheran conference, tho he said he didn't take much stock in the story.

When he reached Teheran from Cairo, the President, as he narrated the incident, went immediately to the American legation. Stalin was already at the Russian legation in a well guarded compound. Churchill was housed in the British embassy, which adjoins the Russian compound. The American legation was some distance away.

Stalin Phones of "Plot."

The night the President arrived he received a telephone message from Stalin that information of a German plot to assassinate the trio had been received by the Russian secret service. Stalin urged that in the interest of safety from attack while passing thru the streets, Mr. Roosevelt accept an invitation to move to the Russian legation.

The President accepted the invitation and moved to the Russian legation the next morning. The meetings were held there. Churchill was able to enter the Russian compound from the British embassy without going into the street.

No attempt on their lives was made, but Mr. Roosevelt thought the precautions were wise, for there are German spies everywhere and it would have made a pretty good haul to have got all three head men of the principal powers fighting the axis.

Silent on Details.

Mr. Roosevelt would not answer questions on details of the Cairo and Teheran agreements. He was not expected to say anything about the plans of the allies for the initiation of a second front against Germany and the war program in the Pacific, but he was not disposed to disclose the results of the political negotiations, such as the treatment of post-war Germany, the question of the territories the soviet union proposes to annex, and American

SENATE PASSES DISCHARGE PAY OF $200 TO $500

House May Force Higher Figure.

BY JOHNSON KANADY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 17.—The drive to provide mustering out pay for veterans of this war moved ahead rapidly today as the senate, with less than two hours of debate, approved a bill providing a minimum of $200 and a maximum of $500 for every person honorably separated from the military services since the start of the war in December, 1941.

Initial cost of the program, which is expected to receive house approval shortly after the first of the year, or on a long chance, possibly next week, is placed at 350 million dollars to provide the service award for the estimated 1 million men and women who have already been discharged from the service.

The bill carries the name of Sen. Alben W. Barkley [D., Ky.] majority leader of the senate, who introduced a mustering out measure late in November. The provisions of the plan, however, are those contained in a bill introduced by Republicans of the senate.

Bridges-Austin Plan.

The plan, embodied in a measure introduced by Senators Styles Bridges [R., N. H.] and Warren R. Austin [R., Vt.] calls for mustering out payments in the following groups:

For persons who have served outside the continental limits of the United States after Dec. 6, 1941:

[A] For 18 months or more, $500.

[B] For 12 to 18 months, $400.

[C] Less than 12 months, $300.

For persons who have served within the continental limits of the United States after Dec. 6, 1941:

[A] For 12 months or more, $300.

[B] Less than 12 months, $200.

As passed by the senate, one-third of the amount would be paid at the time of discharge, and the rest in two equal monthly instalments. In the case of $200 awards, however, the amount would be paid $100 at discharge and $100 a month later.

Drops Flat $300 to Each.

The original Barkley bill called for a flat $300 award to every veteran. The senate military affairs committee struck the Barkley language and adopted the Bridges-Austin plan.

Passage of the senate bill scraps the plan advanced by Sen. Gerald P. Nye [R., N. D.] yesterday to provide a maximum of $700 mustering out pay and a minimum of $250, spread out over periods ranging up to a year. A similar proposal is now in the house, which may force the senate to raise the ante on final passage.

Senator Barkley, in calling for passage of the measure, suggested it should be rushed thru before Christmas. The house, loaded with other matters, is not expected to be able to consider it that early.

Sen. Edwin C. Johnson [D., Colo.] who reported the bill for the military affairs committee, placed the total number of persons who have left the services at about one million. Some of these have been lost in action, in which case the award reverts to their families.

50 Million for Heirs.

These awards, Sen. Johnson said, would amount to about 50 million dollars. In addition, he said, another quarter billion dollars will be necessary to carry the program over the next few months.

A large group of men who are now veterans of this war—those who were discharged because of being more than 38 years old—will be borderline cases when the determination of awards is made.

A clause in the bill reads that such payment shall not be made "to members of the armed forces who have had no service outside the continental limits of the United States and who are discharged or relieved from active service solely on their own initiative for occupational reasons."

Many of the approximately 295,000 men over 38 discharged from the army had no overseas service, and were discharged on their own application after showing they were going into essential jobs as civilians.

In general, however, the awards will be given to all others who are separated from the service "under honorable conditions," who rank below a brigadier general.

YANKS BOMB JAP MARSHALL BASE TWICE IN ONE DAY

Score Many Hits on Wotje Air Field in Dusk Raid.

PEARL HARBOR, Hawaii, Dec. 17 (AP).—Heavy Liberator bombers of the American 7th army air force, making their second attack of the day, smacked the Japanese airdrome on Wotje atoll of the Marshall Islands with numerous direct hits at dusk Wednesday.

A press release from fleet headquarters announced the new raid. As in the earlier attack, announced last night, there was no enemy interception, altho Wotje has a good air field, and anti-aircraft fire was light.

For eight straight days American planes have bombed or strafed one or more of the 32 atolls in the mid-Pacific Marshall group, 300 miles north of the American held Gilberts. The attacks have been directed chiefly at the numerous enemy air bases in the islands.

30 Zeros Bag One Liberator.

The enemy's Taroa air field on Maloelap atoll also was raided Wednesday, said last night's announcement. Apparently the Japanese had brought in additional fighter support, because 30 fighter planes intercepted the army bombers and one Liberator was shot down. It was the first plane to be lost since the current series of attacks began in the Marshalls more than a month ago.

Two Zeros were shot down, eight were probably destroyed and eight were damaged, the navy reported.

Subs Sink Eight Jap Ships.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 17 (AP).—Eight more of the cargo ships Japan needs to keep her empire a going concern have been sunk by United States submarines. This report today by the navy brought the score of United States submarines in the Pacific to: Japanese ships sunk 374, probably sunk 36, and damaged 114, a total of 524 as against the announced loss of 15 subs.

The newest victims of the far-ranging undersea craft were two large transports, two large tankers, three medium freighters and one small freighter.

It is possible that some of the recent submarine successes were scored by raiders based on newly-won Gilbert island atolls. Possession of these bases moved the powerful American submarine forces hundreds of miles closer to the Japanese sea lanes and made possible much faster "round trips" of destruction.

Bataan Relief Seal Sale Posters to Go Up Today

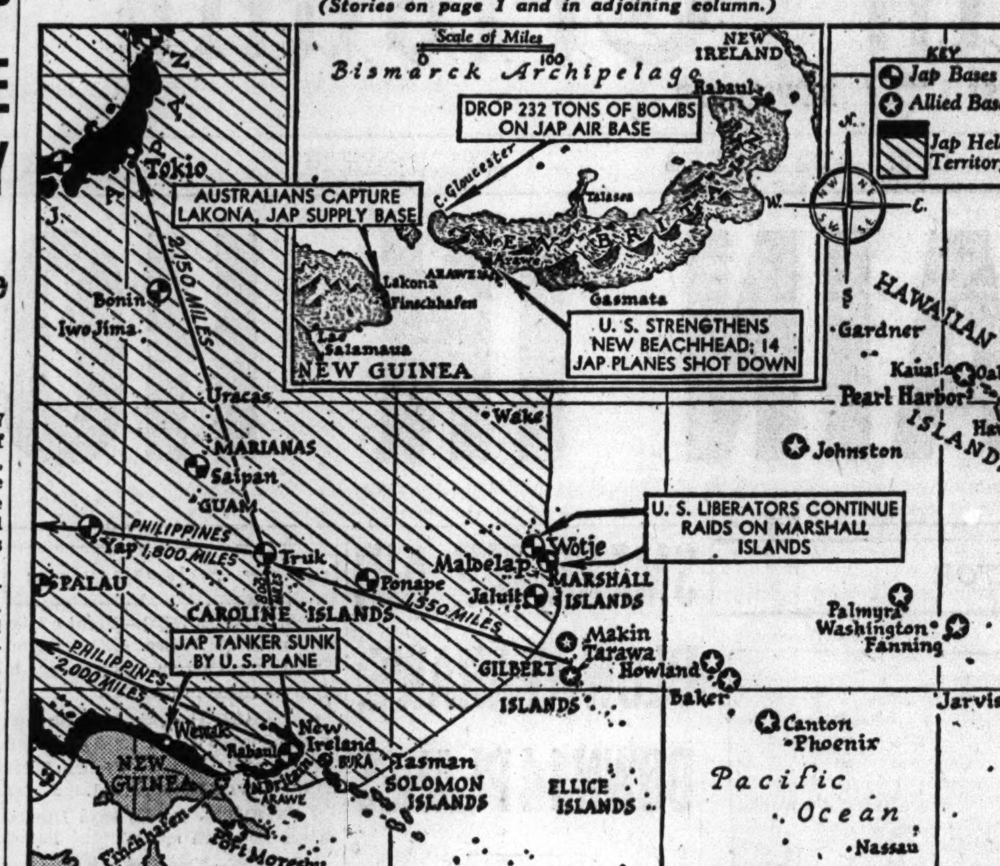

Posters announcing the sale of seals to benefit the Bataan Relief Organization of Illinois will be distributed today thruout Chicago area, it was announced yesterday at the organization's headquarters, 105 West Adams street. The white, blue and orange posters bear a Carey Orr cartoon depicting a group of American soldiers in an enemy prison camp. Proceeds from the sale of the seals will be used to send supplies to imprisoned veterans of the capture of Bataan.

TARAWA MARINE VETS ARRIVE AT COAST HOSPITAL

Many Survivors of Guadalcanal.

San Diego, Cal., Dec. 17 (AP).—Less than a month after they waded ashore on Tarawa atoll a group of wounded United States marines have returned here for hospitalization.

The returning leathernecks are among the remnants of the units which went ashore in the first assault waves. Some had only one wound, but others had scores. The navy said none was in a critical condition.

Many are seasoned veterans of Guadalcanal. They were seasoned to bullets, but as Pfc. Victor Desmarris, 21, of Detroit ruefully remarked—"not in the quantity we got on Tarawa."

Cheered by Opener.

The marines said they started ashore cheered by the invasion's prelude—red flashes from the navy's big guns, the great fires which followed, and incessant bombings and straffings by American planes.

"I was so happy I almost cried," said Pfc. Walter W. Johnson, 19, of Oshkosh, Wis. "It was swell to think that Tarawa was being blown off the map—but in making the landing we found the Japanese were ready for us."

Some of the wounded spoke particularly of their buddies among the marines and navy corpsmen.

John Dean Campbell, pharmacist's mate third class of Ogden, Utah, was praised by Pfc. Harold A. Holmes, 21, Ticonderoga, N. Y., for displaying "real nerve."

"Every time Campbell saw a marine fall he'd shove off—to heck with the mortar fire," Holmes related. "On the second day I saw him spot a marine who fell under an awful barrage. Campbell ran to the area, couldn't find the marine, and kept running around looking for him—all the time under fire.

"I couldn't bear to watch. I turned my head. Then Campbell came back, so tired he almost was crawling. Once he found a piece of shrapnel poked thru his pocket and wondered how it got there."

Forced to Abandon Tractor.

Pfc. Wayne E. Rogers, 21, Earleville, Ia., was with a group of marines forced to abandon an amphibian tractor and take to water 15 feet deep.

"I couldn't swim very much but kept dog-paddling toward shore," he recalled. "Somewhere I lost my rifle and gas mask. I don't know how I made it, but I kept repeating the 23d psalm which a minister in New Zealand taught me. Soon I was ashore."

CHINESE PUSHING JAP FORCES OUT OF 'RICE BOWL'

Enemy Army Retreats 9½ Miles a Day.

CHUNGKING, China, Dec. 17 (AP).—Japanese forces south of the Lin river, which twists eastward into Tungting lake to split the Chinese "rice bowl" in half, are retiring under pressure at the rate of nine and one-half miles a day, Maj. Gen. C. C. Tseng, American-trained Chinese army spokesman, said today.

He predicted the Japanese soon would be cleared from the area south of the Lin river, thus restoring to China at least half of her "rice bowl."

Two Pockets of Japs Left.

Two pockets of Jap resistance remain south of the Lin river, Tseng said, northwest and northeast of the highway town of Linli.

A large region east and north of Linli already has been entirely cleared and Chinese units have reached Sinchow, a village south of Tsingshih, a war report stated.

As the Chinese continued to hammer at the Jap forces in these regions, other Jap columns north of the Lin river fell back under Chinese attacks from the west, Tseng reported.

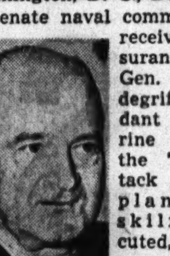

Battle Near 2 Key Towns.

The Chinese high command said fighting still was raging on the outskirts of Ansiang and Nanhsien, two important towns north of Tungting lake, and that the Japs had counter-attacked from their base at Lihsien. This attempt to reënforce beleaguered remnants of the enemy southwest of the city was frustrated, the Chinese said.

The region between the suburbs of Linli and the vicinity of Tukow and Tsinghuatsan has been cleared of the enemy, it was stated.

MORE 'TARAWAS' MUST BE FACED, GENERAL WARNS

Washington, D. C., Dec. 17 (AP).—The senate naval committee today received an assurance from Lt. Gen. A. A. Vandegrift, commandant of the marine corps, that the Tarawa attack was "well planned and skilfully executed," but the general warned that losses in such attacks in the future also will be heavy.

Lt. Gen. A. A. Vandegrift.

Tarawa, bloodiest fight in marine corps history, cost the American victors 1,026 dead and 2,557 wounded in 72 hours of battle.

Vandegrift wrote to Chairman David I. Walsh [D., Mass.] of the naval affairs committee in response to an inquiry as to why losses were so heavy.

No Foxholes Off Shore.

After discussing the difficulties of the operation and grimly commenting that "there are no foxholes off shore" for the men who storm beaches, Vandegrift added:

"No one regrets the losses in such an attack more than does the marine corps itself. No one realizes more than does the marine corps that there is no royal road to Tokio. We must steel our people to the same realization."

Vandegrift's statement is in line with the conviction of other officers who consider that the war is past the period when victories can be won at low cost.

The reason is that the war in Europe and the Pacific has moved into zones which the enemy must defend bitterly and which can be taken only by frontal assault.

Toll of Million Lives Seen.

One well-qualified estimate is that it may cost 1,000,000 lives to breach the Nazi defenses and establish a bridgehead in western Europe.

Vandegrift told Walsh it was necessary to distinguish between an attack on a large land mass and a small island such as Tarawa. In the former case, he said, the enemy, unable to defend all beaches strongly, must defend all lightly, while holding his major strength in a central reserve, ready to be thrown against any point of major attack.

But in the case of such a small island as Tarawa, the enemy can dispose the bulk of his forces on the beaches so that forces attempting a landing immediately come under heavy fire.

AP's Allen Held in Poland, Fellow Captive Writes

Baltimore, Md., Dec. 17 (AP).—Mrs. Tracey Diggs of Linthicum Heights, Md., said today she had received a letter from her husband in a German prison camp disclosing that Larry Allen, Associated Press correspondent, was confined in Poland. Lt. Frank Diggs wrote that Allen was a fellow prisoner in a camp near the village of Schubin, Poland. Allen was captured during an unsuccessful British naval landing in Libya, and held prisoner in Italy before the allied invasion of that country.

NAME AIR BASE IN GILBERTS FOR 'BUTCH' O'HARE

Washington, D. C., Dec. 17 (AP).—Three air fields in the recently conquered Gilbert Islands have been named in honor of naval and marine heroes lost in the war in the Pacific. The navy announced these designations today:

Mullinnix field on Buota Island, Tarawa, in honor of Rear Adm. Henry Mullinnix of Attica, Ind., who was aboard the carrier Liscome Bay when she was torpedoed in the Gilbert Islands area last month.

O'Hare field on Apamama, in honor of Lt. Comdr. Edward H. [Butch] O'Hare of St. Louis and Chicago, one of the early marine aces, missing in action since Nov. 26.

Hawkins field on Betio Island, Tarawa, in honor of Marine Lt. William Deane Hawkins of El Paso, Tex., killed in action in which his special "Scout-Sniper" outfit captured a pier on which the Japs were machine gunning the landing force at Tarawa.

MONTREAL UNION CHIEFS TALK OF BIG STRIKE CALL

AFL Affiliate Leaves for Ottawa Parley.

BY DON STARR.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MONTREAL, Que., Dec. 17.—Paul Fournier, president of the Montreal Trades and Labor council, whose 104 local unions embracing a membership of 100,000 are affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, left today for Ottawa where, labor leaders declared, he would make preparations for a general strike in Montreal, which produces almost half of all Canada's war equipment.

Fournier will confer in Ottawa with Percy Bengough, national president of the Canadian Trades and Labor congress, with which the local is affiliated and which in turn is associated with the AFL.

The statements of labor leaders predicting a general strike came on the heels of the successful culmination of the strike of policemen and firemen which was led by the Canadian Congress of Labor, a rival union organization making inroads on AFL domination.

Vote Down No-Strike Pledge.

They followed last night's action of the Montreal Trades and Labor council's vote against the no-strike pledge. The vote was registered on a motion to ask the national congress to recall the pledge in view of the success of the strike of the Montreal city employes. Terms of a contract for the Montreal workers are to be discussed tomorrow.

Labor leaders in powerful positions stated flatly today that there is a very real likelihood that the general strike will become nationwide.

Revelation of the step about to be taken came from Robert Haddow, an avowed Communist who, as head of the Montreal Machinists' union, controls about 40,000 members, half of whom are aircraft workers.

Seek to Outstep CCL.

"Fournier is preparing a general strike, but you must not say that now," Haddow said. "He must call a general strike before Marquette does." Paul Marquette, czar and chief organizer of the rapidly growing CCL, engineered the strike of the Montreal city employes.

"Big industries are being knocked over by the CCL with terrible effects on our membership," Haddow said. "Workers see the results being obtained by a strike of the CCL and say 'look what Marquette's done'."

That Fournier's recommendations will carry weight in his Ottawa conference is not doubted. He is a vice president of the national congress. Haddow, questioned as to his influence with Fournier, replied, "We are very close."

Favors City Workers' Unions.

Haddow frankly discussed communism, his own personal leaning toward what he termed the "militant, left wing" policy of the "Congress of Industrial Organizations" in the United States, and his theory that democratic processes had failed to help labor. He said he favored organization of policemen and firemen into unions.

Haddow serves as a councilman in what he termed "this bloody Fascist corporate government" of Montreal. He is one of three elected by the Trades and Labor council under an apportionment by which one-third of the council is elected by public bodies, one-third by property owners, and one-third by tenants.

Montreal has defaulted on its bonds and is now confronted with the necessity of paying a wage increase to the 1,200 policemen and 1,000 firemen which would add approximately $4,000,000 a year to the annual budget.

Pay Highest Taxes.

The city's bonded debt now stands at $279,000,000 and its taxes are among the highest in the nation. Refinancing plans are now under consideration which are expected to give bondholders some relief. Because of the default, control over city affairs has been placed in the hands of the provincial government, which delegated the actual management to its own municipal commission.

Haddow was asked, as a councilman, where he expected to raise the money to meet the salary demands of the CCL. "I would expropriate the bloody capitalist class and set up a socialistic state with public ownership," he replied. He said he would put no limits on the extent to which public ownership would be applied, and added: "It means communism."

"After all, communism is acceptable to most of the labor leaders of the United States and Canada," he said.

Haddow confessed, however, that the money for the pay increases was not available and could not be raised by heavier taxation. "The bondholders are going to lose," he said.

THEATER OF AIR CAST TO SALUTE DOWNES TONIGHT

A radio tribute to Rear Adm. John Downes, retired commandant of the 9th naval district, will be combined with a salute to the WAVES by the Chicago Theater of the Air cast of 100 when it presents Humperdinck's fairy opera "Hansel and Gretel" in the auditorium of Medinah temple, Wabash avenue at Ohio street, this evening.

More than 4,000 persons, including 2,500 WAVES and WAVE prospects and numerous ranking naval officers, are expected to attend the broadcast and a full hour nonbroadcast show which will follow. The entertainment will be under auspices of the treasury department in the interests of war bond sales.

Marion Claire as Gretel.

Marion Claire, soprano star of the Theater of the Air, will be cast as Gretel in the opera. Ruth Slater, contralto, will sing the part of Hansel, and Bruce Foote, baritone, will be cast as Peter, their father. The broadcast will be heard on W-G-N, WGNB, and the Mutual network from 8 to 9 p. m.

The 60 piece W-G-N Symphony orchestra and the chorus of 30 voices will be directed by Henry Weber. Jack La Frandre will have charge of the production.

Col. Robert R. McCormick, editor and publisher of THE TRIBUNE, will pay tribute to Adm. Downes in a brief address on the program. The admiral will deliver an informal farewell to the officers and men of the naval district. Altho he was retired officially on Nov. 30, Adm. Downes has remained on duty pending the arrival of his successor as commandant, Rear Adm. Arthur Schuyler Carpender, who will assume the post Jan. 3.

Added After-Show Feature.

At the conclusion of the broadcast, a typical "Happy Hour" show as presented at Great Lakes will be staged in the temple auditorium with Comdr. E. E. [Eddie] Peabody as master of ceremonies. Otto E. Seiler of the treasury's war savings staff will speak on this portion of the program.

A feature of the post-broadcast show will be the presentation of navy hero George Wendelken of New York City, fireman first class of the Seabees, who will tell of his experiences on Guadalcanal. Wendelken, recipient of a Presidential citation, was Freckles, the boy who amused movie-goers in "Our Gang" comedies in 1925.

On Dec. 25, the Theater of the Air will broadcast a program of Christmas music from the W-G-N main studio. There will be no studio audience.

2 U-Boats Sunk, 2 Convoys Saved, British Report

LONDON, Dec. 17 (AP).—Relentless assaults by British naval and air forces against Nazi U-boats threatening North Atlantic shipping recently saved "two valuable westbound convoys" from attack and resulted in the destruction of two submarines, an admiralty and air ministry bulletin said today.

CAROLS WILL BE SUNG MONDAY IN TRIBUNE SQUARE

The lighting of a 45 foot Christmas tree at 5 o'clock Monday evening in the Nathan Hale court, connecting Tribune Tower and the W-G-N studios, will signal the opening of a week-long series of carol programs. The Mundelein college glee club will be presented in the opening program, which will be amplified over the court. Other musical organizations will be heard on following evenings.

The huge Christmas tree, with the colors of 700 electric light bulbs decorating its branches, is the highlight of Tribune Square Christmas decorations.

Adjoining the Nathan Hale court, the windows of THE TRIBUNE'S public service office are decorated with evergreen boughs.

FRENCH BATTLE BESIDE ALLIES IN ITALIAN HILLS

Crack Units Using U. S. Arms Score Successes.

ALLIED HDQ., Algiers, Dec. 17 (AP).—For the first time since Nov. 11, 1918, troops of the four great allies of the first World war—America, Britain, France, and Italy—are fighting side by side against the Germans, in the mountains of Italy.

Splendidly equipped with the most modern American weapons, crack French units trained in North Africa have been in the battle line for some time and have scored outstanding successes, capturing several important Nazi hill positions and seizing prisoners, the allied command announced today.

This first appearance of French troops in European mainland fighting since the fall of their homeland in 1940 created a sensation among the Italian people.

Contrasts with Italian Debacle.

The successes scored by the mobile French striking force contrasted sharply with the debacle suffered recently by Italian militia in its first offensive gesture in the Mignano area. The French, however, are better equipped and trained than their new Italian allies.

Since they fought alongside the Americans and British in Tunisia, Gen. Henri Giraud's men have learned to use the best American light and heavy machine guns, tanks and tank destroyers and mobile field artillery. Their officers declare they will prove invaluable as the drive toward Rome continues. Their uniforms differ only slightly from those of the Americans.

"Just give us a chance on equal terms," a French soldier said. "If you thought we were good in Tunisia just watch us now."

8th Army Holds Gains.

Announcement of the presence of the reborn French army came as the Nazis intensified their efforts to check the advance of the 8th army along the Adriatic coast.

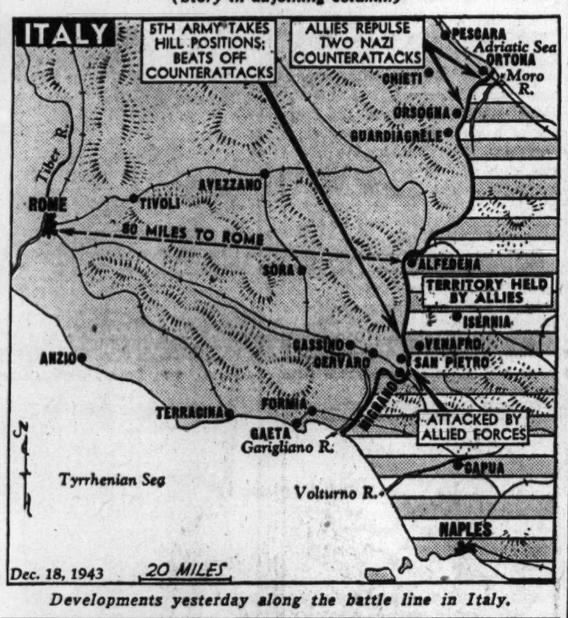

Every effort by the Germans, however, failed to jar Gen. Montgomery's Canadians, New Zealanders and Indians from their hold on the Orsogna-Ortona highway running in from the coast. Two enemy counter-attacks there were repulsed with heavy losses, headquarters said.

Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark's 5th army captured more important hill positions and beat back a German counter-attack west of Venafro. Clark's forces assaulted the Nazi bastion of San Pietro, which guards the road to Rome, and ran into fierce hand-to-hand fighting. San Pietro is seven miles from the main German stronghold of Cassino, northwest of Mignano.

The war bulletin said light aircraft was active against German positions and shipping on both coasts of Italy and against the Nazis in Jugo-Slavia.

Nazis Pit Mountain Troops Against 5th Army in Italy

BY WILLIAM STRAND.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WITH THE 5TH ARMY NEAR VENAFRO, Dec. 16 [Delayed]—The Germans have moved special mountain troops from Russia onto the 5th army front and during the last few days have put scores of planes into the air—their first challenge of allied air supremacy in this sector since the landing at Salerno.

These moves were believed here today to indicate that the Germans are making every effort to hold their winter line anchored on the heights around Cassino and to make the allies pay dearly for every gain along the road to Rome.

Five Divisions on Line.

One unit of mountain fighters now opposing Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark's forces is the 305th infantry division which was known to be in northern Italy only last month.

Another is the 44th infantry division which was busy in Slovenia until recently. In addition there are also the 15th and 29th panzer grenadiers, both crack armored divisions which fought the Americans in Sicily, and the 94th infantry division. The latter outfit, as well as the 305th, participated in the Stalingrad campaign, later being re-formed in France before being sent to Italy.

The appearance of the mountain troops apparently bears out the belief that the Nazis will not send more panzer divisions to this front because the nature of the terrain seriously handicaps their value. The allied armies now are pressing forward thru the same type of mountainous country over which they have been edging ahead for many weeks against deeply entrenched German forces.

Nazis Favor Hitler.

Meanwhile, it has been learned that many Germans taken prisoner firmly believe their forces will triumph. A large number also avow their admiration for Adolf Hitler win, lose, or draw.

More than half of the prisoners believe the war will be over in another year. Many think Germany will win, while others believe the reich will succeed in obtaining an advantageous compromise peace settlement.

PARTISAN CHIEF REPORTS NAZI DRIVE BROKEN

LONDON, Dec. 17 (AP).—A widespread German defeat in the battle of the Balkans was reported today by Marshal Josip [Tito] Broz, leader of the Jugo-Slav Partisan army, in two war bulletins.

Tito said that on the Jugo-Slav battle line the major offensive of Marshal Erwin Rommel was being halted or broken everywhere and his communications crippled by the ripping up of hundreds of miles of rail lines at his rear.

These bulletins from Tito's hidden headquarters were accompanied by the acknowledgment of a Berlin spokesman that the whole of the western Balkans was "in an uproar" and that fighting against the Nazis again had erupted in Albania.

Tells of Nazi Defeats.

Ever since the Nazis sprang forward nearly two weeks ago in the heaviest offensive yet thrown against the Jugo-Slav Partisans, Tito's announcements have been restrained and somewhat gloomy and noted an endless stream of German reserves pouring into the country.

But today in a special bulletin which followed earlier declarations of significant Jugo-Slav successes he declared "the big German offensive against liberated territory is not developing along the lines the enemy expected. From all fronts news is arriving about defeat of the enemy . . ."

Then, front by front, he detailed a sharp turn in the fortunes of a war which now is widely believed to be pinning down as heavy a German force as is being engaged by the allies in Italy.

Lists Successes.

These specific successes were listed in Tito's bulletin:

Complete defeat of enemy forces with heavy losses in Rogatita; a large Nazi column partly destroyed and thrown into retreat in Croatia; an enemy defeat "which will considerably influence his further operations" in western Bosnia, and heavy German losses in a battle still raging in the Livno-Duvno sector; German evacuation of Kladanj in central Bosnia, and the destruction of Nazi supply and communications lines in many sectors.

ROBBED SOLDIER; SENTENCED.

Judge Joseph H. McGarry in Felony court yesterday sentenced Leonard Bruton, 19 years old, Negro, to nine months in the Bridewell for robbing a Negro soldier.

Urges Belgium to Become Part of British Empire

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Dec. 17.—Following the recent declaration by the Union of South Africa's prime minister, Field Marshal Jan Christiaan Smuts, that Britain's future as far as Europe was concerned depended on the formation of alliances with western continental democracies, Antoine Delfosse, Belgian minister of justice and information, yesterday suggested that Belgium may join the British empire.

"It is necessary that a big power should take steps to insure the peace of Europe," he told a Belfast audience. "None could do it better than the British commonwealth. We Belgians are ready to sacrifice part of our sovereignty on the altar of world peace. We ask but one thing: to be free in our interior regime and to earn our living properly and honestly. We are sure Britain is able to understand us and give us that fair guarantee we need for our social reconstruction and the happiness of our people."

Smuts' Idea in Pamphlet.

Altho Smuts' speech was printed practically in full in all newspapers as soon as it was released it is still being published here in pamphlet form under the title, "Thoughts on a New World," and is reported to have a large sale.

The Daily Sketch, quick to grasp the significance of Smuts' declaration that Britain's future is bound up with close economic and political friendship with western European states and the implications of Delfosse's speech, concluded that "some moves are already being made toward that grouping of hitherto independent countries in Europe under the flags of the commonwealth which Smuts foresaw."

Spaak Approves Suggestion.

The Belgian Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak, according to The Daily Sketch, agreed that Belgium's decision to join the British empire would be an excellent method of cooperation between the two countries. Spaak declared he might make a statement on the subject soon and at the same time admitted that Delfosse's speech must represent the Belgian government's viewpoint "to some degree."

SERVICE 'BIBLE' SAYS MARSHALL WILL COME BACK

Washington, D. C., Dec. 17 (AP).—The Army and Navy Register, unofficial but usually authoritative service weekly, will say tomorrow that Gen. George C. Marshall will return to Washington and continue as chief of staff.

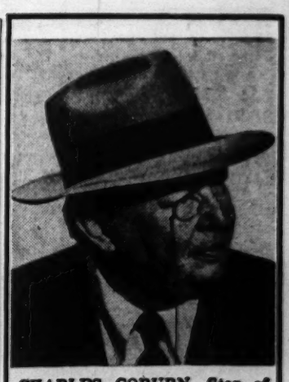

"This is a reversal of the previous intention to send him to London, some time this winter, to take command of allied forces to invade the continent of Europe from the British Isles," the Register says in a story credited to "well informed circles."

The Register's article says the same sources report that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower will go to London to assume command of the invasion forces and "it is indicated that Gen. Harold Alexander of the British army will succeed to command of the allied forces in the mid-Mediterranean." Alexander has been Eisenhower's deputy.

The story adds that shifts in the high command, both in the combat theaters and in Washington, may be expected after Marshall's return.

ALLIES WILL END RULE IN MOST OF LIBERATED ITALY

[By Wireless to the New York Times and The Chicago Tribune.]

ALGIERS, Dec. 17.—A decision which reduces the area under the allied military government and hands over to the Italian government most of liberated Italy was announced today by the allied advisory council for Italy meeting here. This question had been referred to the council by Gen. Eisenhower, commander in chief of the allied armies.

The council recommended that all occupied Italian territory south of the northern boundaries of Salerno, Potenza, and Bari, including Sicily and Sardinia, be promptly placed under the Italian civil administration but under the supervision of the allied control commission which is charged with insuring the application of the armistice.

The council stipulated that the Italian administration, central and local, be by men of good faith and allied sympathies, while pointing out that the decision meant no commitment to Marshal Pietro Badoglio's regime after the capture of Rome.

$4,800,000 in U. S. Mine Equipment for Britain

NOTTINGHAM, England, Dec. 17 (AP).—The British government hopes to obtain $4,800,000 worth of mining equipment from the United States in the coming year to help boost coal production, it was disclosed today by Maj. Gwilyn Lloyd George, minister of fuel and power.

WOMAN ADMITS SLAP DEATH OF 'WHINING' BABY

Rockford, Ill., Dec. 17 [Special].—The 23 year old mother of two small children confessed to States Attorney Max A. Weston tonight she slapped and fatally injured a 9 months old boy entrusted to her care by former neighbors. The woman, Mrs. Leona Lemery of Roscoe, Ill., said she slapped the boy because "the child got on my nerves with his whining and crying," according to Weston. The baby died yesterday.

She was held in the Winnebago county jail on a manslaughter charge. Weston said she might be charged with murder. The child, Sammy Aiello, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Aiello, died at St. Anthony hospital from stromatic brain hemorrhage. Mrs. Lemery had first told hospital authorities the child had fallen from a crib.

The Lemerys and Aiellos lived in the same neighborhood here before the Lemerys moved to Roscoe.

RUSSIAN DRIVES IN NORTH GROW, BERLIN REPORTS

Moscow Mentions Only Kirovograd Push.

LONDON, Dec. 18 [Saturday]—(AP).—Russian forces battling for the Ukraine industrial city of Kirovograd gained in one sector Friday and absorbed strong German attacks in another, Moscow said today, while German reports told of soviet assaults in White Russia that imperiled the Nazi hold on the rail junction of Zhlobin and gained near Nevel.

In a short war report limited to the Kirovograd fighting, Moscow said the Germans in one area broke thru the Russian lines but were repulsed after 800 Nazis were slain. Other Russian units improved their positions and took prisoners, said the report, recorded by the soviet radio monitor.

But Berlin reported several battles in White Russia which may mark the beginning of a soviet winter offensive.

The German reports indicated the most important Russian drive was south of Nevel, about 70 miles from Latvia.

Report Drive Expands.

Yesterday, Berlin said, the Russians extended the attacks to west and northwest of Nevel, throwing in heavy tank forces. Previous German reports said 60,000 Red infantrymen and three tank brigades were engaged in this fighting.

"Heavy battles are taking place here because German troops are meeting the advancing soviets with full weight," Berlin said. "Attacks south of Nevel did not diminish. During the last 24 hours 51 Russian tanks have been destroyed in one sector of the German line alone."

The high command reported "heavy defensive fighting continued thruout the whole day."

Near the rail junction of Zhlobin, west of Gomel, where the Germans said the Russians attacked Wednesday with 100,000 troops, Berlin broadcasts admitted "the soviets succeeded in making a deep indentation." The Germans then said they counter-attacked and restored their lines, annihilating a soviet force.

Reds Attack Near Leningrad.

A German military commentator said the Russians had penetrated the German front "to a relatively great depth," creating a "rather critical situation."

A third Russian attack in White Russia, west of Krichev, continued for the second day, the Germans said, but was repulsed.

In addition, the Germans hinted at a new development around Leningrad, where the front long has been dormant.

"On the Leningrad front fights became somewhat livelier without exceeding their local character," Berlin said. "The soviets attempted to attack the German front. They temporarily succeeded in making indentations on some points."

No Mention of Kiev Bulge.

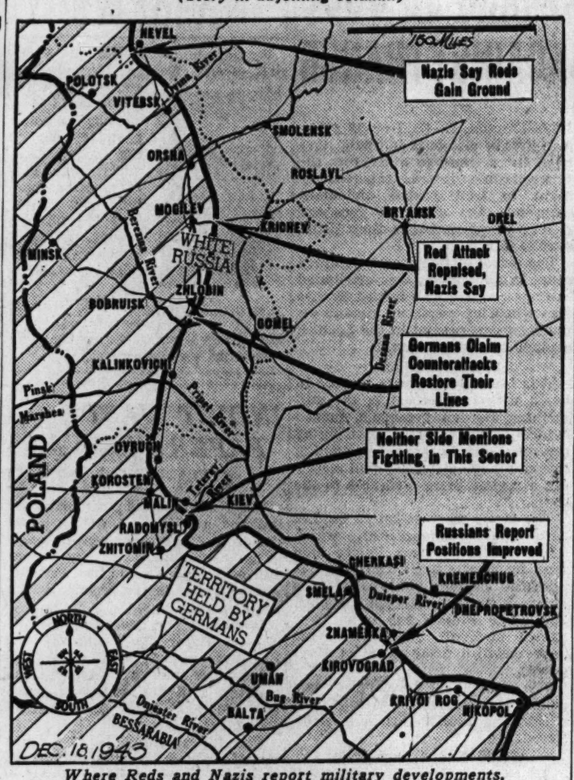

Neither Berlin nor Moscow mentioned the Kiev bulge, where the Germans have been repulsed in attacks some 55 miles west of Kiev. Earlier Moscow dispatches said the fighting still was critical.

Moscow said Kirovograd was in danger as the Russians absorbed German counter-attacks and inched forward on the Dnieper front.

The Germans also were reported resisting stubbornly at Smela, tho the Russians punched a great hole in the Nazi line between Smela and Kirovograd to the south.

MOSCOW'S PRESS TELLS OF NAZIS' KHARKOV TERROR

MOSCOW, Dec. 17 (AP).—Moscow newspapers today told how a German Gestapo captain and a Nazi storm troop commander, under trial for murder by a Kharkov court, openly admitted executions of Russian civilians and war prisoners, explaining they were carrying out orders.

The trials, in which a group of Germans and one Russian traitor are the defendants, are the first since the Moscow pledge by Russia, Britain, and the United States on Nov. 1 that war criminals would be returned to the scene of their crimes and tried under local law.

[Moscow radio, recorded in London by the soviet monitor, said Nazi leaders and the German high command were responsible for war crimes and would be "unearthed from wherever they seek refuge, from even the remotest corners of the world. They will answer with their heads for all their crimes," the broadcast said.]

Newspapers devoted two of their four pages to testimony and the court room was filled with workers, housewives, and soldiers. Three Russian attorneys represented the accused. The prosecutor was Col. N. K. Dunaiev of the justice department.

Accounts Published in Moscow.

Moscow newspapers gave these accounts of the trial:

Hans Ritz, commander of a storm troop company, participated in the forceful evacuation of civilians and took part in executions. His work was chiefly punitive, he testified.

Ritz said he was responsible for falsifying documents which led to executions. In Taganrog alone, he said, he was responsible for the death documents of about 300 persons. Later he was transferred to Kharkov and witnessed the killing of about 3,000 persons in a nearby village.

His commander, he related, stood with him watching the tommy gunners mow down civilians and said, "Show me that you too, know how." Ritz then took his tommy gun and fired into the screaming ranks of people.

Ritz was asked if he thought international laws had been observed by the Germans.

Calls Hitler Responsible.

"I must say there was no question of international law," Ritz told the court. "Adolf Hitler was the man responsible for the reign of cruelty in the soviet union." He added that Heinrich Himmler, head of the Gestapo, had issued orders to "execute according to one's own aryan feelings."

Another defendant, Capt. William Langheld, of the Gestapo, was described as well fed, long faced, and pink cheeked with long, heavy eyelids.

He said he personally killed "about 100" soviet citizens and estimated that about 30,000 were killed by the Germans in Kharkov and Kharkov province, with an equal number in Kiev. About 15,000 were killed in Poltava.

He admitted that five women were executed on one morning. "And what happened to the sixth woman—the mother with the child?" the prosecutor asked.

"She died during a beating."

"And her child?"

"The child began wailing and screaming and finally a corporal killed it."

Langheld related how gas truck death chambers worked and said he had seen them functioning with Russians inside clawing at the windows as they met death.

He said he operated concentration camps at Kharkov, Kiev, Poltava, Dergachi, and Rossosh.

"Did you take active part in the extermination of the soviet people everywhere in those camps?"

Tells French Underground Aid to Allies in Indo-China

NOUMEA, New Caledonia, Dec. 17 (AP).—The same Free French [underground] movement which "permitted the Americans to land in North Africa" has started in Japanese-dominated Indo-China, the outgoing governor of New Caledonia disclosed. "We have two very important French missions, one in India and one in China, furthering this work," Christian Laigret said yesterday. "They are very capable men and their work is successful." Laigret soon will be succeeded as governor by Jacques Tallec.

ARMY TO EAT 35 MILLION POUNDS OF YULE TURKEY

Thirty-five million pounds of turkey will be carved to feed Uncle Sam's fighters at home and abroad on the third Christmas of the present war, Col. Henry R. McKenzie, director of the army's quartermaster market center in Chicago, said yesterday.

Col. McKenzie disclosed that 13 million pounds of turkey have been shipped to battlefronts around the world. Another 22 million pounds has or will be delivered for the yuletide dinners of Yanks in camps in this country and on island installations.

The master dinner menu for the day includes creamed celery soup with croutons, roast turkey with giblet gravy, sage or oyster dressing, cranberry-orange sauce, snowflake potatoes, baked squash, creamed corn, lettuce with Russian dressing, hot rolls with butter, mince pie, chocolate nut cake, fruits, candies, nuts, and coffee.

For supper, more turkey—creamed on toast.

TURKS PREDICT U. S. 7TH ARMY TO HIT BALKANS

LONDON, Dec. 17 (AP).—The Ankara radio, quoting Turkish press reports, predicted today that Lt. Gen. George S. Patton Jr.'s American 7th army will strike soon in a Balkan invasion which it said had been presaged by recent concentrated allied bombings of Balkan bases.

"Big allied invasion armies in Britain, Corsica, Sicily, and other countries are ready for action, and it appears the allies are making large scale preparations for launching an invasion," the radio said. "Great numbers of landing barges are reported to have been concentrated in Sicilian ports.

"The Germans are said to be making final preparations for the zero hour, and Rommel's visit to Denmark is another pointer that the storm is about to break."

Daughter Born to Wife of French Throne Claimant

MADRID, Spain, Dec. 17 (AP).—Spanish press dispatches from Tangier announced today that the wife of the count of Paris, pretender to the French throne, had given birth to a daughter on Dec. 11 at the count's residence at Larache in Spanish Morocco. The child will be christened Claudie Mary Inez.

NEW FIRES GNAW AT BERLIN AFTER LATEST RAF RAID

Nazis Admit Damage in 1,500 Ton Attack.

LONDON, Dec. 17 (AP). — Fires which spread smoke thru many quarters of Berlin gnawed at Germany's capital tonight in the wake of the latest R. A. F. assault with 1,500 long tons of explosives, including about 20 two ton blockbuster bombs.

The strong force of Lancasters that hit the city last night in the sixth major attack since the "battle of Berlin" began less than a month ago swept over cloud covered Berlin at the earliest hour they have yet attacked the city—shortly before 7 p. m.

Thirty bombers — about average for a mission of its size—failed to return. At least five Nazi fighters were shot down.

The Germans acknowledged that considerable damage had been done the city, already scarred by 40 previous raids this year.

Spandau Area Hard Hit.

The Spandau district, named in reports to neutral capitals as one area particularly damaged, is the site of the immense Brandenburg aero engine works as well as other important war industries.

The city's governmental district also was reported to have been hit hard. One report reaching Stockholm said a train loaded with war prisoners was hit, resulting in 60 killed.

A Swedish business man who witnessed the bombing said the Lehrte railway station, one of the city's five terminals; the Halleschetor area at the foot of Friedrichstrasse, and a number of buildings along the Unter den Linden, Berlin's main thorofare, were badly damaged.

"A great many bombs blasted central Berlin again and many fires were still burning this afternoon when I left," he said at Stockholm. The raid lasted for half an hour and "the whole Tiergarten area where I was sheltered shook as blockbusters crashed down."

Nazis Use Rocket Weapon.

The Germans put up fighters all along the route, but ground defenses were forced to work blind because of the heavy cloud formations over which the R. A. F. operated and could do no more than throw up a wild and heavy barrage to keep the raiders high. Rocket gunned fighters, the night counterpart of the new weapon used against American day raiders, were reported to have attacked the R. A. F. bombers for the first time.

In its acknowledgment that Berlin had suffered considerable further damage, the high command disclosed that Bremen, one of Germany's principal U-boat and shipbuilding centers, was one of the places struck by American Liberators and Flying Fortresses making another assault yesterday on northwest Germany. The announcement admitted particularly heavy damage.

In announcing the daylight raid, the 8th air force command said only that targets in northwest Germany had been attacked by the American heavyweights and their squadrons of escort fighters. The Americans lost 11 bombers and one fighter, while the Fortresses and Liberators shot down 16 Nazi fighters and escorting Thunderbolts accounted for two others.

FLORIST TELLS BOMB THREAT IN UNION CAMPAIGN

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 17 [Special].—A Detroit florist today complained to Prosecutor William E. Dowling that he had paid $200 to an official of the Greater Detroit Retail Florist's association who, he said, had threatened that his place of business would be stench bombed unless he paid.

The florist said the official told him the money was needed "to grease some palms." After the money was paid, the florist said, his name was removed from a blacklist at a wholesale florist house where he had been unable to buy flowers because his drivers were not members of the teamsters union [AFL].

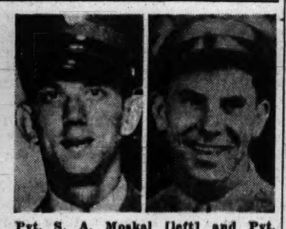

6 Wholesale Houses Closed.

The teamsters union currently is negotiating with the Wholesale Florists association for a renewal of a contract which expired early in October. One of its demands is that the association agree not to sell flowers to any nonunion retailer.

POPE'S YULETIDE TALK AND MASS TO BE BROADCAST

AT THE ITALIAN-SWISS FRONTIER, Dec. 17 (AP).—Pope Pius XII will broadcast his traditional Christmas message to the world from the Vatican radio, Dec. 24 at 12:15 p. m. Rome time [6:15 a. m. Chicago time] over wave lengths 3106 and 1987.

Christmas eve he will celebrate midnight mass which also will be broadcast, starting at 11 p. m. Rome time [5:00 p. m. Chicago time].

Altho the pope's annual Christmas address is awaited with interest, it is not generally believed that he will seek directly to influence the warring nations. His intense activity in the last few days, however, has fostered another series of rumors of peace negotiations, tho informed Catholics generally discount these reports.

ASSERTS HITLER JIBE KEPT SPAIN OUT OF THE WAR

BY JOHN THOMPSON.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

CAIRO, Egypt, Dec. 16.—If Generalissimo Francisco Franco had not seen Adolf Hitler making fun of him at a moment when Spain's entry into the war on the side of the Axis seemed obvious, the fortunes of the allies, particularly in the Mediterranean, might have been far different. However, it was Hitler's unexpected Teutonic humor that kept Spain ostensibly neutral.

This is the story vouched for by a Spanish diplomat who says he saw the course of history changed by a Nazi pantomine at the Spanish-French frontier after the fall of France in 1940. Following is the diplomat's version of the episode:

Hitler, Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering, and other Nazi dignitaries had driven to the border to confer with Franco. The Germans were confident he would fulfill his debt from the Spanish civil war, when Hitler and Benito Mussolini poured in men and material to turn the tide toward Franco.

Hitler Imitates Franco.

In high spirits after his sensational victory over French and British arms and with Britain apparently his for the taking, Hitler suddenly turned humorous. Gesturing in a manner he presumed to be Spanish, thinking himself unseen by the Spanish Fascists, he executed a grotesque imitation of Franco, who is supersensitive of his small stature.

"Goering and the rest of the Germans roared with laughter," the diplomat said, "but Franco and the others of our party had observed the insult. The generalissimo stiffened and I saw his face turn crimson with anger.

"Franco had not wanted more war at this time. However, because of his civil war obligations it was felt he would not be able to stand against the German demands. He was prepared to argue against Spanish commitment, but all were certain that would be unavailing. This one 'humorous' incident kept Spain neutral."

Refuses to Go to War.

Hitler requested a Spanish declaration of war, said this source, or at least permission to send troops across Spain to attack Gibraltar. Franco demurred.

He said his soldiers were weary from the bloody civil strife and his stores and ammunition were low. Only a few divisions had full equipment, while his air force was negligible.

His sympathies, the Spanish chief assured the Nazi boss, were with the axis, but Spain was desperately poor and the dictator feared the allied blockade. Even if he granted passage to German troops, Franco said, the temper of the populace was such that there would be constant outbreaks in the German rear and a new revolution.

Franco Wins His Point.

Franco presented his arguments to Hitler with unexpected force, as a result of the pantomime incident, and stood by them. Altho the Germans probably could have swarmed over the Spanish frontier and brought their own supplies, Hitler seemed to believe it was unnecessary to extend his lines, with the axis flushed with victory and the whole Mediterranean area apparently his for the taking.

Instead of pressing his point, Hitler acceeded to Franco's wishes by accepting from Spain something akin to benevolent neutrality. And the axis' golden opportunity went glimmering.

New Hat

[Associated Press Wirephoto.]

Prime Minister Churchill, now reported ill with pneumonia in the middle east, as he donned a new caracul hat given to him Nov. 30 by British newspaper men at Teheran, Iran, for his 69th birthday.

CHURCHILL BUSY; IMPROVES AS HE AWAITS CRISIS

Wife Flies to Side; at Cairo, Axis Says.

LONDON, Dec. 18 [Saturday]—(AP).—With the tenacity that lifted Britain from defeat, Prime Minister Churchill is directing the country's war from his sick bed in the middle east where he is fighting lobar pneumonia.

Mrs. Churchill.

The prime minister has been in communication with the war cabinet since he became ill, the Daily Mail said, and is "transacting urgent state business."

Mrs. Churchill reached her husband's bedside after a hasty flight from England. Official reports of the prime minister's improvement cheered every one, but it will be a few days before he passes the crisis.

Churchill was allowed to read important war dispatches, the Daily Mail said, and "is said to have insisted that nothing—least of all the operation of agreed war plans—should be delayed for one moment by his illness."

Doctors Tell Condition.

Churchill's change for the better—announced for a second time officially in the last 24 hours—came as anxious friends offered prayers for the recovery of the 69 year old war leader.

The prime minister's exact whereabouts was not disclosed, but the Daily Mirror quoted the German Vichy radio as saying he was ill in Cairo.

"The improvement in the prime minister's general condition was maintained," said a bulletin issued at No. 10 Downing street signed by three staff physicians.

No Spread of Infection.

The statement added there was no spread in the patch of pneumonia in the prime minister's left lung which developed in the wake of conferences with President Roosevelt, Marshal Joseph Stalin, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, and Ismet Inonu, president of Turkey.

REPORT GERMANS SMASH 3D COUP AGAINST FRANCO

Washington, D. C., Dec. 17 (AP).—Anti-Franco elements in Spain have tried three times to overthrow the generalissimo, it was reported tonight to well posted diplomats. Moreover, the dictator's foes are said to be persisting in their plans, despite failure.

The defeat of the latest attempted coup, in September, was attributed to the Germans, who helped Franco also when he overthrew Spain's republican government in the Spanish prelude to World War II.

Lean to Allies.

This information, from sources in touch with happenings in the still seething Iberian peninsula, named Madrid as the center of plotting by several factions bent on ousting Franco's Falangist party and installing a regime more favorable to the allies.

The group most active so far has been the pro-monarchist, which wishes to bring back Prince Don Juan from exile in Switzerland. But informed persons believe that the monarchists have delayed too long, and while Franco has in no way gained strength, the monarchists have dawdled away some of their power.

The most likely development is a coup d'etat carried off mainly from within the Spanish army, it is believed.

Would End Franco Rule.

All except one of the generals of the supreme war council in Spain recently signed a petition asking that Don Juan be returned to the throne.

That would automatically mean doing away with Franco, since the king has said he would not return as head of any single group. Franco's control now rests almost exclusively in the position of the Falange as the only legal political party in Spain.

It is doubtful that the prince could reach Spain so long as Switzerland is surrounded by the German army, however.

The unrest in Spain is based in part on feeling among Spaniards that they are fast falling out of step in European politics.

Believe Allies Will Win.

They have become convinced of an allied victory, and would like to improve their prospective position in reconstruction, at the peace table, and in post-war trade.

If a military junta should seize power, it is felt here that it might retain control for some time rather than immediately set up a monarchy.

Another possibility is that advocates of a second Spanish republic would then succeed in swinging the military to their camp.

Russia Postpones Election of New Supreme Council

MOSCOW, Dec. 17.—For the third successive year the presidium of the supreme council of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics has postponed for one year the scheduled December election of members of the supreme council. The terms of the present members, therefore, will extend until December, 1944. The outbreak of war in June, 1941, forced postponements that year and in 1942.

DEATH OF CHICAGO CAPTAIN IN MARINES REPORTED BY NAVY

Washington, D. C., Dec. 17 [Special].—Capt. George L. Hays, a marine, was reported dead in a casualty list made public today by the navy. His mother was listed as Mrs. Charlotte C. Hays, 5202 Kimbark avenue, Chicago.

Capt. George L. Hays.

One other Illinoisan was on the list. He is Jack Lloyd Boomer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Boomer of Decatur, who was listed as missing.

INDICT WASTE PAPER FIRM AS OPA VIOLATOR

The federal grand jury yesterday indicted a Chicago waste paper dealer on charges of violating office of price administration regulations and price ceilings, the first such indictment to be returned in the country.

Named in the complaint are the Thomas Paper Stock company, 860 Evergreen avenue, one of the largest dealers in waste paper in the country, and the company president, Alvin E. Sandroff, 540 Stratford place.

The indictment lists 47 alleged violations of price ceilings and "upgrading" of waste paper, J. Albert Woll, United States attorney said. William J. McCormack, Woll's assistant, said the company is accused of profiting to the extent of $25,000 in the sale of waste paper to paper mills during August and September in violation of price ceilings.

Woll said the indictment contains 20 counts, listing separate violations in which the company is accused of selling government printing office unassorted waste paper for $48 a ton in violation of the ceiling price of $14.

TELL OUR PEACE AIMS! BRITISH M. P. DEMANDS

Surrender Declaration Aids Hitler, He Says.

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Dec. 17.—Renewed demands that the government clarify its peace aims were made in the house of commons today. Rhys Davies, a Laborite, said the time is near when the troops must know the answer to the question, "What are we fighting for?" He criticized the unconditional surrender declaration.

"If there ever was a complete and abject failure of the gospel of unconditional surrender, it was provided up to the hilt in the case of Italy," he said. "There never was such a mess, diplomatic and military, as is found there now."

He criticized the government for not appealing to the Italian people on higher grounds and said that since there was no alternative to unconditional surrender, "we turned a people who wanted to be friendly into enemies straight away."

Forced to Back Hitler.

There must be millions of Germans who have not liked the regime of Adolf Hitler, but since the unconditional surrender declaration they have found no alternative except to rally to him against the allies' "sentence of death upon them," he contended.

He warned there could be no peace if three to five great powers imagined they could police the whole world. He contended also that Britain could not expect prosperity when most European factories were devastated, exclaiming, "A devastated and destroyed continent of Europe means a bankrupt Britain."

Comdr. Stephen King-Hall, an Independent, criticized the government's propaganda machine as calculated to impress the Germans that terrible things would happen to them if they were defeated and "they must hold out to the last."

Stanley Reed, a Conservative, said that when he heard "the fairy tales about sending young men from Oxford university out to Germany to reëducate the Germans or that we must split up Germany or de-industrialize it," he sometimes wondered "if we are living in Europe or Laputa [fantastic flying island of 'Gulliver's Travels']."

Denies War Doesn't Pay.

One member of parliament remarked, "War doesn't pay," to which R. W. Sorensen, a Laborite, replied, "I think the war is paying the British empire very sound dividends indeed. It has paid us in China after we secured certain territories including Hongkong from the Chinese; it has paid us in Burma which was a gain by war, and it has paid us in South Africa where each portion was acquired by the sword."

He urged political as well as military unity, saying that after the war Europe would be devastated, hungry, bitter, and famine stricken, and "unless we are very careful, we might be seeing the beginning of the end of western civilization," adding: "Revenge may be sweet, but in the end it recoils." Replying for the government, George H. Hall, foreign affairs undersecretary, said:

"If we could see the war over tomorrow, we would, but that must not be the result of a stalemate."

Youthful Gang Confesses Series of Recent Crimes

NAZI CHRISTMAS PLEDGE: ONE TOY FOR EVERY CHILD

Great Numbers Face Day with Strangers.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Dec. 17 (AP).—Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels and his propaganda machine have begun preparing the war weary German people for their gloomiest Christmas since 1939 by promising every child one toy—and a homemade one at that.

In a war front atmosphere of ruins and death due to allied air bombings, almost daily executions by Heinrich Himmler's Gestapo, and nation-wide shortages of every commodity, the German press is looking forward to Christmas by trying to answer the question "Is there anything to be happy about?"

Outlook Not Bright.

Two prominent newspapers published at opposite ends of the reich—the Voelkischer Beobachter and the Rheinisch West-Faelische Zeitung—acknowledged the outlook is not bright.

"The times have become even more severe, more serious," they both said. "Great numbers of our women and mothers with children must spend this Christmas in changed districts among strangers. They have no homes and therefore won't be able to celebrate Christmas among their families as was their custom."

The Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung said "The hours of the Christmas fete will lack most of their outward luster in this fifth year of the war. . . . In the cities hit by the enemy bombing terror it will be impossible to light Christmas trees in every house."

The newspapers, however, tried to console their readers by saying that with a few Christmas trees and candles the people, "who will be allowed to relax for a few days at Christmas and gain a breathing spell" from the exertions of war, will at least have a sham festival to celebrate.

Called Test Period.

Goebbels, as spokesman for the Nazi party, has acclaimed Christmas as a "test period" for the German people and has proclaimed this slogan in the press and from public platforms thruout the reich. The party has promised all those who have been evacuated from their homes or who have suffered damage thru air raids a "German war Christmas" with festivals on Christmas eve or the day before.

There will be lighted Christmas trees at those observances, but party spokesmen emphasized that there will be no presents given or received, except one toy to each child.

Millions of Hitler youth have been mobilized to make the playthings, mostly carved from wood—because there are no commercially manufactured toys on the German market this year. They will be distributed under the motto:

"For every German child—one toy at Christmas."

Probation Asked

Seven teen-age defendants pleaded guilty yesterday to charges of robbery, burglary, and auto larceny before Judge Harold G. Ward in Criminal court. They are Anthony Donuski, 14 years old, 2043 Coulter street; Raymond Nestor, 17, of 2341 West 21st place, and his brother, Richard, 16; Theodore Strzyskykowski, 17, of 2215 South Western avenue; Anthony Wallenberg, 16, of 2314 West 21st street; George Holk, 17, of 2300 West 22d street, and Vernon Strossner, 16, of 2306 Cullerton street. Defense attorneys filed a motion for probation and Judge Ward postponed sentences to Dec. 29. One of the stores burglarized by the gang is a sporting goods store at 3359 West 26th street, where $1,100 in merchandise was taken.

FOOD PLANT FIRE LOSS $350.

Damage estimated at $350 was caused by fire early yesterday in the food products plant of Charles Shapiro at 750 Independence boulevard.

U.S. ACCUSES 5 OF SENDING RUM TO BLACK MART

The federal grand jury yesterday indicted three Detroit gangsters and two Chicagoans on charges of giving false information to the alcohol tax unit in connection with the removal of 1,600 cases of whisky from a Kentucky warehouse in a $100,000 transaction. The indictment also contains a conspiracy count.

The Chicago defendants are Morris Margolis of the Surf hotel, 501 Surf street, former whisky salesman, and Edward Weaner, owner and president of the Peerless Distributing Co., Inc., 3006-08 East 88th street, wholesale liquor dealers.

The Detroit defendants are Pete Licavoli, reputed head of a Detroit gang, who was indicted in 1931 in connection with the slaying of a radio announcer, and two associates, George Massu, alias Mosey, and Sam Stein.

The indictment said the alcohol tax unit was told that the 1,600 cases were delivered to Dugan's Liquors, a retailer at 446 South State street; whereas, in fact, 1,100 cases went to the Lincoln warehouse, 4251 Drexel boulevard, and 500 cases were channeled into the black market thru underground sources in Michigan, a ration state.

JURORS CONVICT 4 OF VIOLATING ESPIONAGE ACT

Newark, N. J., Dec. 17 (AP).—Climaxing 10 days of testimony in Federal court, four naturalized Americans of German birth were found guilty tonight by a jury of violating the espionage act of 1917.

Federal Judge Thomas F. Meaney received the unanimous verdict and set Jan. 7 for sentencing. The men face possible 20 years imprisonment.

The defendants are: Friedrich Schroeder, former national leader of the German-American Vocational league in New York; Pvt. Hans W. Koenig of Fort Dix; Carl Kranz of Rochester, N. Y., and Eric H. W. Wedemeyer of Floral Park, N. Y.

FOOD BLOCKADE BLAMED ON OPA POINT BLUNDERS

High ration point values placed on foods by the office of price administration are causing stocks of butter, canned goods, and other items to "back up" in the stores, a Chicago retail grocery executive asserted yesterday after studying reports he obtained on sales trends across the country.

"All points must be reduced," he declared. "The OPA values are simply excessive, and consumers are depriving themselves of rationed foodstuffs because they do not have enough coupons. Stocks are beginning to back up on the storekeepers, and the ration values must come down to move the supplies. Meat points also must be reduced, or there soon will be spoilage."

Butter Sales an Example.

Butter sales dropped 20 to 30 per cent in many stores after the OPA increased the ration value of butter from 12 to 16 points, the grocery official said. Even tho butter may be short, he said, its value must be reduced or consumers cannot buy it. The record December storage of 176,045,000 pounds of butter in warehouses is nearly all owned by the government, he said.

"Generally, all canned goods are backing up also," he said. "Possibly this is because of heavy summer home canning and a growing fear among consumers that the government may release millions of cans of its holdings. A sign of hysteria is developing.

"People are confused. They hear talk of big stocks of meat—and God knows there are—and yet the points are too high. They can't understand it, and they are not buying. Cheese also should come down in ration value."

The executive said merchants "very definitely" will not reduce their prices 25 per cent or more to move their ration stalled stocks. The back up of canned goods is being indicated in some sales, he said.

No Interview Checks Here.

Chester Bowles, federal price and rationing administrator in Washington, D. C., who promised Thursday that meat rations will be revised downward, said the OPA keeps a close check on food supplies and consumption thru interviews with housewives and reports from food dealers. However, a representative of the Chicago regional OPA office said yesterday that no interviews are made here in America's second largest city, as far as he could learn.

"I read of Bowles' report on the interview system in THE TRIBUNE this morning," said the Chicago OPA spokesman, "but as far as I can learn this has been done only in Atlanta and Denver and in the east."

OPA Cuts Gas Rations of 26 Guilty of Speeding

Gasoline rations of 26 Chicago area motorists, all of whom had been convicted on speeding, were curtailed this week by local ration boards, Michael F. Mulcahey, area office of price administration chief, said.

CONGRESS VOTES DELAY IN BATTLE ON SUBSIDY CURB

Social Security Tax Also Frozen Until March 1.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 17.—Congress agreed today to wait until after the holidays to continue the wrangle over the administration's subsidy program.

The matter was postponed thru the expedient of extending temporarily the life of the Commodity Credit corporation. Still to be set, however, is the exact length of time for the extension. The senate agreed on Feb. 29, but house subsidy foes objected, insisting on Feb. 5. This prompted the senate to schedule an unusual Saturday session tomorrow to decide what to do about the house's action.

The house has passed a bill extending the life of the CCC for a year and a half, and outlawing use of CCC funds for price roll-back subsidies. A move is on in the senate to remove the ban in the bill against subsidies, or to reach a compromise on the subsidy. As a result, there has been no senate action on the house bill.

Success for Barkley.

Sen. Alben W. Barkley [D., Ky.], was successful in getting thru the senate his resolution to extend the CCC until Feb. 29, 1944. The resolution ran into a wall of opposition in the house, however, where Rep. Charles L. Gifford [R., Mass.], charged the move was an attempt by the administration to "stall for time."

The patience of subsidy foes, he said, is about worn out.

"They are trying to beat us down," Gifford exclaimed during his successful fight to get the house to change the extension date to Feb. 5. The vote was 103 to 27.

If the house prevails, it is likely the second session of the 78th congress will open Jan. 3. If the senate date should prevail, it is unlikely that congress will return to tackle the subsidy matter before Jan. 10.

Social Security Freeze.

Congress also today delayed final action on the question of freezing social security tax payments at the present rate of 1 per cent for employe and 1 per cent for employer. An increase in the rate to 2 per cent was scheduled for Jan. 1. In the face of this an amendment to the tax bill had been planned by a group of senators headed by Sen. Arthur Vandenberg [R., Mich.], to keep the rate at the present 1 per cent.

Because senate action on the tax bill cannot take place until after Jan. 1, Vandenberg today attached a rider to a house bill to freeze the pay roll tax at its present rate until March 1 of next year. The house agreed to the plan.

The move by Barkley to put off the subsidy fight came only after he had assured the senate that neither the CCC or other agencies which have power to use subsidies will expand existing program during the holiday recess.

Bankhead Regrets It.

Sen. John H. Bankhead [D., Ala], leader of the senate bloc opposed to the food subsidy program, told the senate he "regretted exceedingly" the extension of the CCC, with its subsidies, into next year.

"I will not relax my efforts in the least to do away with subsidies at a time when consumer income is the highest in history," he said.

Sen. Clyde Reed [R., Kas.] charged the administration is using subsidies in a way that congress did not intend. Congress, he said, provided they should be used to increase production, not to control prices.

The inflation scare, he contended, has been overemphasized by the administration. Exaggeration and distortion of economic issues by administration leaders also has led to general bewilderment, Reed said.

"It seems harsh to say that this bewilderment and alarm was deliberately caused," he said, "but surely administration spokesmen cannot be so dumb or ignorant of the facts as their public utterances would indicate.

Confusion Changed.

"Administration spokesmen, and this does not exclude the President, constantly have confused 'subsidies' with 'price ceilings' in the public mind."

He said there is a widespread belief that discontinuance of the subsidy program would mean the end of price control. Such is not the case, he contended.

"I cannot escape the feeling that administration spokesmen are deliberately trying to plant this fear in the public mind."

Reed presented figures in support of his contention that the inflation threat has been overplayed. He said the figures showed that with 1926 as a base year, food prices have remained level while incomes have gone up.

BELIEVE 44 LOST ON BOSTON SHIP CAUGHT IN GALE

Boston, Mass., Dec. 17 (AP).—The Boston collier Suffolk today was believed lost with her merchant crew of 38 and a navy gun crew of six off Block Island during last Saturday's gale. The vessel's owners have listed her as "overdue."

The Suffolk was reported as radioing that she was caught in a gale, had been blown 50 miles off her course, and was sinking. Most of her crew were New Englanders.

25 Soldiers Drown

Where army boat capsized.

25 LOSE LIVES AS TROOP BOAT UPSETS IN LAKE

Spilled Into Water 3 Miles from Shore.

New Orleans, La., Dec. 17 (AP).—Twenty-five soldiers lost their lives and a number of others were injured today when a military motor launch capsized in Lake Pontchartrain about three miles off shore. Announcement of the accident was made by Capt. T. F. Reece, public relations officer at La Garde General hospital.

The announcement said 72 men from Camp Harahan were involved in the accident. It occurred about 9:30 a. m., while the men were on maneuvers.

Next of kin were notified. A board of investigation from the New Orleans port of embarkation is inquiring into the accident.

The vessel involved was a naval motor launch which was used by the army for training maneuvers. It was 60 feet long.

Taken to Hospital.

The names of the casualties have not yet been announced. The victims were brought to La Garde General hospital and the survivors cared for there.

A stream of ambulances from military establishments and city institutions was sent to West End to receive the victims from coast guard rescue boats and convey them to the hospital.

Condition of a number of injured men was reported serious. The State Charity hospital here and the police department sent inhalators to the scene.

En Route to Rifle Range.

A fleet of rescue boats spent more than three hours picking up survivors from the capsized craft and transporting them to shore.

The men on the ill fated craft were being taken with some 250 additional soldiers aboard six other boats to the rifle range at Slidell for maneuvers. The other boats in the party turned immediately to rescue work after the overturning craft went down.

DELAY REFUSED AP BY 3 JUDGES IN TRUST TRIAL

New York, Dec. 17 (AP).—The special three-judge federal court appointed to hear the government's anti-trust suit against the Associated Press today denied the AP's request that the court delay its judgment long enough to permit the question of appealing the decision or amending the by-laws to be presented to the annual meeting of its membership next April.

The Associated Press has until Jan. 3 to file its proposed findings of fact, conclusions of law and form of judgment with respect to the recent decision that the AP by-laws "in their present form" violate the anti-trust laws. The court then will draw and enter its final judgment, the government already having filed its proposed findings of fact and form of judgment.

The federal statute provides that an appeal must be filed within 60 days after entry of judgment. Counsel for the Associated Press pointed out to the court today that if the court files its final judgment speedily, the 60-day period for appeal would expire before the annual meeting in New York, April 24.

New Auto Tags Held Up Until After Christmas

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 17 (AP).—The new cream and coffee colored Illinois license tags won't appear on automobiles until after Christmas. Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes said mailing of the 1944 fiber boards has been postponed until Dec. 24 so it would not impede Christmas mail. In former years first shipments went out Dec. 15. Over-counter sales will began at Springfield and Chicago Dec. 27.

Police Fire at Bandits After Holdup at Theater

Policeman Joseph Mueller of the Jefferson Park station exchanged six shots last night with two men as they fled in an automobile after they robbed Miss Violet Hall, 21 years old, a cashier in the Gateway theater at 5216 Lawrence avenue, of $86.

WALLACE LINKED TO REA PLOT TO RULE FARM VOTE

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 17.—The senate agriculture committee, pursuing the strange story of a New Deal plot to control 4 million farm votes by manipulation of the rural electrification administration, learned today that Vice President Henry A. Wallace, as secretary of agriculture in 1939, had promoted the originator of the plan to the post of acting REA administrator.

John M. Carmody, first REA administrator, now a member of the maritime commission, told this much of the story but the disclosure of further details, he remarked wryly, might conflict with a recent edict by President Roosevelt that government officials wishing to quarrel in public had better have their resignations ready.

Plan Called "Sinister."

Committee members did not press him therefore to ascertain if Wallace was aware of the bold plan conceived by Robert B. Craig, deputy REA administrator, which was exposed to the committee last Monday in a memorandum from John A. Becker of Milwaukee, former Wisconsin REA administrator.

This program, which Becker branded "sinister and corrupt," provided for the setting up of a nation-wide system of private purchasing groups under REA control and the collection of dues totaling $350,000 a year from farmers to maintain a pressure lobby in Washington.

Carmody did testify that when he resigned as REA administrator in June, 1939, in protest against its transfer to the department of agriculture, he consulted with Wallace about the appointment of his successor. He advised emphatically against Craig, asserting he was not the man for the job, he testified. Wallace, nonetheless, made Craig acting administrator and Craig served until Harry Slattery, the present administrator, was appointed late in 1939.

Boast of Intention Told.

Carmody identified the Becker memo in which Craig was quoted as boasting that he intended to "rule REA, from within or without" thru 1 million dues paying farmers who would control 4 million votes.

He was stunned, he testified, at the revelations in the document and added that Slattery, the present administrator, was similarly appalled when he showed it to him.

"I knew there were schemes and plans in the minds of some persons," Carmody remarked, "but I didn't think they'd come out in the open like that."

Put Under Wallace Control.

When President Roosevelt stripped the REA of its independent agency status in 1939 under the second reorganization act and made it subject to the rule of Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, Carmody immediately decided to resign, he told the committee. After he had testified regarding Wallace's decision to appoint Craig as his temporary successor, despite Carmody's objections, Carmody was urged to continue but remarked:

"The President recently became annoyed when some public officials [Wallace and Secretary of Commerce Jesse Jones] began quarreling and said any future criticism in public should be accompanied by resignations. Well, I've got a job to do and don't want to be put in the position of telling the President what to do."

Ward B. Freeman, former REA chief engineer, testified there was a concerted effort in the REA under Craig's management to substitute higher priced copper for aluminum in transmission lines.

Free Tickets, Trips Passed Out.

Craig was on intimate terms, he said, with officials of the Copper Wire Engineering association, which had "amusement headquarters in the Occidental hotel and issued free invitations to theaters, trips to New York, and football games" to REA employes.

The department of agriculture finally started its own investigation of REA, the committee was told, but Craig was permitted to remain on the pay roll for 14 months after the report was completed. After his resignation last May, Craig became assistant to the president of the Copperweld Steel company, a corporation which benefited largely from REA contracts during Craig's rule, according to the evidence.

Committee Counsel Carroll L. Beedy declared the evidence showed a well organized program within the REA to force upon farmers' cooperatives copper conductors at an increased cost.

PRESIDENT SIGNS BILL REPEALING BAN ON CHINESE

Washington, D. C., Dec. 17 (AP).—A bill repealing the 60 year old Chinese exclusion laws was signed today by President Roosevelt, who then announced:

"An unfortunate barrier between allies has been removed."

In a formal statement read to his first press conference since returning from the middle east war conferences, Mr. Roosevelt said:

"It is with particular pride and pleasure that I have today signed the bill repealing the Chinese exclusion laws. The Chinese people, I am sure, will take pleasure in knowing that this represents a manifestation on the part of the American people of their affection and regard.

"An unfortunate barrier between allies has been removed. The war effort in the far east can now be carried on with a greater vigor and a larger understanding of our common purpose."

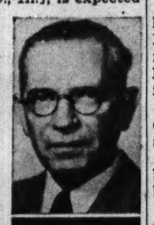

The President had urged the repealer law last October to correct what he called an "historic mistake." He also said it would silence "distorted Japanese propaganda."

The new law makes all Chinese living in this country eligible for naturalization and permits 105 of them to enter the United States annually on a quota basis.

LUCAS WILL URGE JUDGESHIPS FOR LA BUY AND SHAW

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 17.—Sen. Scott W. Lucas [D., Ill.], is expected to recommend early next week the appointment of Elwyn R. Shaw of Freeport, Ill., and Judge Walter J. La Buy, Chicago, to federal court vacancies in Illinois.

Elwyn R. Shaw [top] and Judge La Buy.

The appointment of Shaw, a former justice of the Illinois Supreme court, appears certain. Conversations with informed persons here indicate, however, that appointment of La Buy, of the Circuit court, is not so certain.

The Chicago appointment, to fill the vacancy created by the retirement of Judge William H. Holly, is slated to go to a person of Polish extraction. La Buy has the indorsement of Mayor Edward J. Kelly of Chicago, and the support thus far of Lucas.

Woll a Possibility.

The drive by some Polish Democrats to seat Benjamin S. Adamowski is causing trouble, however, and the opinion was expressed that unless the situation is straightened out soon, the appointment may go to J. Albert Woll, United States district attorney.

Decision to give the Chicago place to a person of Polish extraction was made to satisfy the swelling volume of demands for greater recognition from Democrats in the nationality group. Judge La Buy was reported to have the inside track several months ago, but since that time the name of Adamowski has frequently been mentioned.

Adamowski, when the late Henry Horner was governor of Illinois, was in a nearly constant battle with the Kelly-Nash organization in Chicago, and obtained at that time a close connection with Lucas.

Claim Organization Support.

Adamowski since has made his peace with the organization, and his proponent have claimed organization support for his appointment.

The downstate vacancy, which Shaw is expected to fill, was created by the death of Judge Charles E. Woodward a year and a half ago. Altho the judgeship lies in Chicago, the appointment is considered a downstate heritage since Judge Woodward practiced law in Ottawa.

$50 BUCK PRIVATE GIVEN CONTROL OF $1,300,000 ESTATE

John L. Grant, a buck private somewhere in an army specialist school, yesterday came into $1,300,000 to augment the $50 a month, less deductions, that the government pays him. The annual income is about $30,000.

The wealth is from the estate of his maternal grandfather, James F. Meagher, Chicago attorney and former president of the Peoples Gas Light and Coke company, who died in 1917.

Pvt. Grant was not in Probate court when Judge John F. O'Connell signed the papers giving him sole control of the estate, which had been held in trust for him until he became of age. He observed his 21st birthday Sept. 27, and last week conferred with his attorneys in Chicago. His present whereabouts was not disclosed. His mother died in 1936.

FUNDS TO BACK HUNT FOR FARM WORKERS VOTED

Washington, D. C., Dec. 17 (AP).—Without dissent on a voice vote, the house today passed and sent to the senate legislation appropriating $33,750,000 for continuance of the farm labor recruiting program for the next 12 months.

It followed a recommendation of its appropriation committee that the program be handled by the federal extension and the state extension services.

The program calls for an additional 287,600 man years of work by 126,700 domestic year around workers, 50,000 domestic seasonal workers, and 66,900 workers recruited in Mexico, the Bahamas, and Jamaica. The foreign group would include 25,000 workers now in the United States and 41,900 to be imported next year.

YOUR BOTTLE OF WHISKEY HAS GONE TO WAR . . . .

IF YOU MUST BLAME SOMEONE BLAME HITLER AND TOJO, NOT YOUR NEIGHBORHOOD LIQUOR DEALER

HERE ARE 9 POINTS BEHIND THE SHORTAGE SO YOU CAN DETERMINE DIFFERENT RUMORS AS TRUE OR FALSE?

1 My local retailer is hoarding whiskey so he can sell it more profitably later.

FALSE . . . Your local dealer needs your good will now and after the war. He probably has his entire capital invested in his business. He is able to obtain less than half as much merchandise as formerly. If he sells you the same amount he formerly did half of his regular customers will have none. All reputable liquor dealers sell their products at ceiling prices and expect ceilings to be in effect for a long time to come.

2 My liquor dealer seems to be always entirely out of whiskey when I want it.

FALSE . . . If he is out of whiskey he is not your local dealer. Let him know you are his Regular Customer. He cannot display whiskey without selling it to anyone who asks for it. Many persons wishing to capitalize on the situation go from store to store buying all they can lay their hands on. Employment agencies report that they have numerous requests for "shoppers" to go from store to store to buy liquor.

3 My liquor dealer told me no whiskey or spirits has been made in America in over a year.

TRUE . . . On October 8, 1942, all distilleries were put to work for Uncle Sam and have been working 24 hours a day ever since, making alcohol for munitions, medicine and synthetic rubber.

4 One of my friends told me that most of the whiskey being sold today is bootleg liquor.

FALSE . . . The Alcohol Tax Unit of our Government, under E. C. Yellowley, District Supervisor of the Chicago Area, is doing an outstanding job of protecting you on the liquor you drink. Dozens of his trained men, members of his staff, make hundreds of visits daily in licensed places inspecting the stock. The penalty is much too severe for a liquor dealer for him to risk a violation. In addition, it takes critical material and a lot of sugar to make bootleg alcohol. Both are more scarce than ever before in the history of our country.

5 The liquor industry is a source of revenue to the extent of two billion dollars.

TRUE . . . The liquor industry is one of the largest sources of revenue for both the STATE and FEDERAL governments, the amount of two billion dollars being divided about equally between the FEDERAL government and the 45 states where the sale of liquor is legal.

6 A liquor dealer told me the liquor wholesalers and distillers are to blame for the shortage and that is why he cannot get enough for his customers.

FALSE . . . This is the most unfortunate part of the problem. You (the public) have been blaming the retailer. The retailer blames the wholesaler. The wholesaler blames the distiller. The distiller blames Hitler, Tojo & Co., and the drys go around saying, "Well, during Prohibition you could at least buy a bottle of whiskey."

7 I am told that practically every package store is charging more than ceiling price for whiskey.

FALSE . . . The great majority of package liquor dealers are catering to their regular customers whose Good Will is their most valuable asset. Not only are they allocating their monthly quota of merchandise among their regular customers, but they are also charging only established ceiling prices made known to the public by extensive distillery advertising.

8 I read in one of the newspapers that the shortage of bottles had aggravated the whiskey situation.

TRUE . . . The War Production Board glass order limiting bottle purchases to 65% of 1942 sales is most severe. Many bottlers went out of business altogether in 1942 and 1943 and many others have been unable to obtain even their reduced quota of glass by reason of the paper carton shortage.

9 My local bar tried to charge me $10.00 for a fifth of whiskey.

FALSE . . . Perhaps he told you he could get $10.00 for it when he sold it by the drink. He did not want to sell you the bottle as he knew how hard it is to replace. If he sold you a bottle he might have to turn down 25 customers each of whom just wanted to buy a drink.

And now may we take just a few lines to tell our own story. With the turn of another year—1944—we are now in a position to sell 10,000 cases of BEN FRANKLIN Blended Whiskey to the first patriotic duly licensed retailers in Chicago who purchase a total of

One Million Dollars' Worth of War Bonds

We will sell one case at the listed OPA price with the purchase of each Hundred Dollar War Bond—limit five cases to a customer. Deliveries will be made starting the 10th of January and completed in February.

VURSELL OFFERS STATE PROGRAM ON SERVICE VOTE

Calls for Amendment of Absentee Laws.

BY LAURENCE BURD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 17.—A plan to strengthen the senate approved bill for service men's balloting by outlining definite instructions on voting procedure to the various states and the army and navy was outlined today by Rep. Charles Vursell [R., Ill.].

Vursell said in an interview the amended program has been worked out by several members of the house elections committee and will be presented to the committee for action early in January.

The new plan, like the senate bill, keeps control over voting machinery in the hands of the states. The senate bill, however, simply recommended that the states enact "appropriate legislation" to enable service men and women to vote and called upon the army and navy to coöperate.

State Amendments Asked.

The bill proposed by Vursell, however, includes the following definite instructions:

1. Each state is called upon to amend its absentee voting laws so that absentee ballots will be available for service men at least 30 days before the 1944 elections.

2. States are asked to advance the date of their primary elections if the time is so near to the general November elections as to interfere with getting ballots to soldiers in time.

3. The bill calls upon states to waive registration requirements for men and women in the army, navy, and merchant marine.

Postcard Deadlines Set.

4. The army and navy are instructed to distribute postcard applications for absentee ballots to all service personnel not later than Sept. 1, 1944, for those overseas or Oct. 1 for those stationed in this country.

5. The army and the navy are directed to give air mail priority to applications for ballots and to transmission of ballots both to overseas personnel and from them to state election officials.

Vursell said this program would assure every member of the army, navy, and other services a chance to vote, if the states carry out the wishes of congress as proposed in the measure.

Commission Plan Opposed.

He and a number of other members of the house elections committee have opposed adoption of a bill sponsored by Rep. Eugene Worley [D., Tex.], committee chairman, which would set up a federal ballot commission, appointed by the President, to administer the service vote.

This bill, sponsored in the senate by Sen. Scott Lucas [D., Ill.], was shelved in the upper house.

Worley said today he still hopes his committee will adopt his proposal, but Vursell and other members predicted it will be snowed under by their opposition to giving President Roosevelt control over the voting machinery of 10 million service personnel. Worley said the committee will meet soon after Jan. 1 to consider the question.

Meanwhile Rep. John E. Rankin [D., Miss.], in a radio address tonight, attacked the Worley bill, contending it violates the Constitution by usurping the states' election machinery and placing it in federal hands. Rankin has introduced a house bill identical with the senate approved measure.

The Inquiring Camera Girl
BY FREIDA ZYLSTRA.

[The Tribune will pay $5 for each interesting question submitted by a reader and used by The Tribune. Today's question was submitted by Art Kreitzer, 5127 South Laflin street.]

THE QUESTION.

In what situations are you tempted to give unsolicited advice?

WHERE ASKED.

The Burnham building, 160 North La Salle street.

THE ANSWERS.

Jack Davidson, lawyer, 5535 Quincy street—In cold spells I've been tempted to interfere with something that should be no concern of mine. The combination of heavy fur coats, wool scarfs over the head and bare legs irks me. Some day I'm afraid I'll walk up and tell the girls to go home and get dressed.

William S. Collen, attorney, 415 Aldine avenue—After each poorly played hand of bridge I can hardly resist the temptation to become analytical and tell my partner what she should have done to make the most of the cards we held. I am tempted often to tell my opponents, too, what obvious plays they missed.

Mrs. Ralph Mensch, housewife, 6854 Harper avenue—Sometimes I think I'm qualified to give my husband advice on driving the car. He often compliments me on my good driving and boasts that I've never had a ticket. We can't say the same for him. I'm always telling him about lights he didn't see and turns he should have made.

Mary Walker, stenographer, 1046 South Mason avenue—If I gave advice every time I was tempted to do so, I wouldn't have any friends left. I don't like it when people mispronounce simple little words like municipal and mischievour and others. And when they do, I'm often tempted to correct them.

Frances Krueger, saleslady, 6530 Lakewood avenue—It's easy to tell other people how their children should behave. It's always a bigger temptation for me to say something when I think the child's bad conduct is a direct result of his parents inability to deal with him. I never say anything tho.

L. A. Schohe, clerk, 1258 South Michigan avenue—I have no use for a person who is constantly complaining of his ills, maybe because I've been healthy for the last 20 years. I'm often tempted to tell people that many of their ailments are a direct result of their own poor living, but seldom do.

Doctor Robbed of $1,200 and Ring Valued at $1,000

Dr. William Francis Jakopich, 10344 South Leavitt street, a physician with offices at 1817 South Loomis street, last night reported to police that three men riding in a black automobile halted his car at 29th and Throop streets and drove it to 31st place and Lithuanica avenue, where they robbed him of $1,200, a ring worth $1,000, and checks totaling $50.

$150,000 BLAIR MANSION SOLVES PROTOCOL WOES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 17.—Blair house, the government official guest residence on Pennsylvania avenue near the White House, is a godsend to worried protocol officials of the state department because crowded conditions at the executive mansion do not permit easy entertaining of state visitors, a state department spokesman said today.

In the large, high ceilinged rooms of historic Blair mansion, King Peter of Jugo-Slavia once read American comic magazines and listened to a portable radio. In the same rooms Princes Amir Feisal and Amir Khalid, wearing gold trimmed robes and turbans, recently discussed international oil problems.

No Social Restrictions.

In short, Blair house gives foreign visitors a home where they can trasact their business with the American government without the social and diplomatic restrictions that would surround their stay in the White House as personal guests of the President.

The government started using the Blair mansion early in 1942, paying $100 a day. A year ago it was purchased thru the public buildings administration for $150,000. After renovations it was opened last January as the official government owned guest house.

The state department spokesman said a staff of servants is gathered only when guests are in residence. Mrs. Victoria Geany, housekeeper for the Blair family for 20 years, has been retained in the same capacity.

Built in Early 1800s.

Blair house was built between 1824 and 1827 by Surgeon Gen. Joseph Lovell. After his death in 1836 it was bought by Francis Preston Blair and remained in the Blair family until its purchase. Montgomery Blair, son of Francis, was Abraham Lincoln's postmaster general. It was in the Blair house that Gen. Robert E. Lee was asked to take command of the Union army, but refused and became leader of the Confederate forces.

The last owner of the mansion was the late Maj. Gist Blair, who remodeled the house to its present form—four story brick, covered with pale yellow stucco.

A central hallway divides the study and dining room from two large drawing rooms. On the second floor is a library running the entire width of the house at the rear, overlooking a formal garden. Also on that floor and on the ones above are large bedrooms, furnished with colonial four poster beds on which have reposed such distinguished visitors as King George of Greece, Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov of Russia, and President Manuel Prado of Peru.

FRIEND OF HAUPT ACCUSED IN NEW U. S. TRUE BILL

Walter Froehling, one of six friends and relatives of Hans Haupt, executed Nazi saboteur, whose treason convictions were reversed by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, was named in a new indictment returned by the federal grand jury yesterday, charging him again with treason and enumerating 15 overt acts in aid of Haupt.

Froehling, who was sentenced to death with Hans Max Haupt, father of the spy, and Otto Wergin, after their conviction in federal court more than a year ago, already is scheduled to go to trial under the original indictment Jan. 17 before Judge John P. Barnes. The second indictment will take precedence, said United States Atty. J. Albert Woll, and his assistant, Richard G. Finn.

RUBBING NOSES AN OLD CUSTOM OF ROOSEVELTS!

Washington, D. C., Dec. 17 (AP).—Rubbing noses in greeting Maori style is an old family custom with the Roosevelts and probably is much more sanitary than kissing, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt said today.

Explaining to her news conference how she came to rub noses with a Maori woman, the picture of which was published this week, the President's wife said she had been asked by Ragni, the Maori woman who was her head guide:

"May I greet you as we greet all distinguished visitors?"

It turned out as the photograph showed.

"I was very glad my father had taught me how to rub noses properly," Mrs. Roosevelt said. "When I was a child he used to say 'Let's have a Chinese kiss' and then we would rub noses."

Mrs. Roosevelt said she knew the picture had been taken, but did not know by whom.

Crack Down on Reporter Who Told of Gas Racket

Mark Miller, the newspaper reporter who went from Texas to Canada on bootleg gasoline and told about it in a national magazine, yesterday was denied rationed gasoline for six months and put on probation for a similar period by W. M. McFarland, regional hearing commissioner of the office of price administration. The opinion calls for a hearing in June to determine whether Miller will be given a stay for the last half of the year.

commitment to the maintenance of the British and Russian spheres of influence in Iran after the war.

The President said he would report to the people on the conferences in an address to the American army and navy to be broadcast from his country estate at Hyde Park, N. Y., on Christmas eve and in his annual message to congress on the state of the Union the first week of January.

Calls Parleys a Success.

The two conferences were completely successful, Mr. Roosevelt assured the press, not only because of the plans worked out for the future conduct of the war but also because of the declarations pertaining to the post-war world reflecting the thought that we don't want another war while this generation is alive. The President summed up his tour by saying he had had an awfully good time and that the negotiations had been very successful.

As to Stalin and Chiang Kai-shek, they lived up to his highest expectations, said the President. Getting to know them makes for excellent relations in the future, he added.

Asked what kind of a man Stalin is, Mr. Roosevelt said he is a man like himself—a realist. Stalin, said Mr. Roosevelt, shares the desire to prevent another war in this generation and people who desire that will work for it and back it up.

If world opinion counts for anything, it will count now, the President thought, for during the conferences it was figured out that the nations aligned against the axis represent between two-thirds and three-fourths of the population of the globe.

Special Message Planned.

Asked whether he thought Germany could be beaten next year, Mr. Roosevelt replied that he would set no dates but could say the allies are bending every effort to whip Germany as soon as possible.

The President said he is greatly worried by the illness of Churchill, tho he had received word from the British embassy that the prime minister is somewhat better.

Before the press conference there was a cabinet meeting attended by Paul McNutt, man power commissioner, who has been on the point of resigning since congress in the father draft bill took his power away and gave it to Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, selective service director. McNutt left the cabinet meeting appeased by Presidential plans to repair the damaged McNutt prestige.

To accomplish this purpose the President will send a special message to congress on the faults of the father draft bill, which he considered a low order of legislation because it provides that fathers shall go to the bottom of the list unless the President rules otherwise. So all congress legislated, said Mr. Roosevelt, was a pious wish.

ELEMENTS CAN'T STOP OLD SANTA; 12 AIDS PROVE IT

When Santa Claus came to work yesterday at 9 a. m. sharp, he discovered he looked a fright. His beard was matted, his red suit was soaking wet, his chimney was knocked over, and his tummy was lying on the floor in six inches of water.

This happened 12 times—to the 12 Santa Clauses employed by the Volunteers of America. When they arrived at their headquarters, 416 South Dearborn street, they found the building surrounded by fire engines called to combat a $10,000 blaze in a printing shop on the fifth floor.

Eventually the dozen got fitted out, but Albert Nelson, who is a major in the Volunteers of America and boss of the Santa Clauses, is looking around for new quarters and new uniforms.

That's not all he is looking for. In other years he'd have as many as 40 Santas out ringing bells. This year all he could find was 12, because there's a man power shortage in the Santa Claus business, too.

MASON FORESEES G. O. P. TRIUMPH; QUITS DIES GROUP

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 17.—Rep. Noah M. Mason [R., Ill.], with an eye on the 1944 elections, today resigned from the Dies committee investigating un-American activities. His place will be taken by Rep. Fred E. Busbey [R., Ill.]. Mason said that "with a change in administration in the offing," he would rather be chairman of a regular standing house committee than the special Dies committee, and so "I am resigning to clear the decks for future action." As the ranking Republican member of the Dies group, Mason would be the logical choice for chairman if a Republican house is elected next fall. He also is the ranking Republican on the house immigration committee and is thus in line for that chairmanship under a G. O. P. administration.

BILL TO ABOLISH PARK SET UP BY F.D.R. APPROVED

Washington, D. C., Dec. 17 (AP).—By a vote of 12 to 7 the house public lands committee today approved a bill by Rep. Frank A. Barrett [R., Wyo.] to abolish the 220,000 acre Jackson Hole national monument in Wyoming.

The monument, created by Presidential order last spring, aroused a storm of opposition from ranchers, who saw their grazing lands cut off.

Barrett moved to abolish the monument and Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney [D., Wyo.] introduced a bill to amend the antiquities act, under which the monument was created. The senate bill is still under committee consideration.

JUDGES TAKE 139 OFF COUNTY JOBS TO PARE BUDGET

$400,000 Ax Swung on Fee Offices.

By order of the judges of the Circuit court the 13 fee offices of Cook county will have to get along in 1944 with 139 fewer regular employes than they had in 1943, and also will have to reduce hiring of extra employes to equal 85 man years.

In approving their annual report on help requirements, issued yesterday, the judges informally estimated that the saving to the county by these cuts would exceed $400,000. The ax fell most severely on two offices—the sheriff's and the county treasurer's.

Ordered out of their jobs were three lieutenants, six sergeants, and 75 deputy sheriffs assigned to the often criticized sheriff's county highway police, as well as eight bailiffs. Their elimination and the consequent reduction in motor expense, it was estimated, would save $250,000.

Cut in Treasurer's Office.

Cutting in the treasurer's office was figured at 22 regulars and 71 man years for extra help, usually called in to work a few weeks at the busiest part of the tax collection period. The extra help cuts for the treasurer and the sheriff were expected to save $117,000. From the other 11 offices there were cuts aggregating 18 jobs, which would bring the total savings near the $400,000 mark.

The county highway police force will be left with only one lieutenant, seven sergeants, and 80 deputies, and no funds may be appropriated by the county board to employ more. The number of employes in the 13 offices will total 1,810, compared with 1,949 in the previous year.

The judges' summary showing 408 regular employes in the treasurer's office last year apparently was in error. Last year the budget called for only 373 regulars, and the granting of 386 this year was an increase of 13. Giving effect to the slash of 71 man years leaves the office with a net reduction of 58 employes.

Calls It "Great Mistake."

"We simply can't get up our work without more employes," said William J. Lake, chief clerk under Treasurer Victor L. Schlaeger. "We are just posting our books now for October. I feel that a great mistake has been made."

There was no protest from the sheriff's office, which has been without a permanent head since the death a few weeks ago of the incumbent, Peter B. Carey.

Next week the county board will begin making a budget. It fixes the number of employes in the county institutions and several offices; it also sets pay schedules for those authorized by the judges.

Douglas Sutherland, executive director of the Civic federation, said the judges' action showed "progress," but that further comment would be withheld until the federation had studied the report.

Yesterday the federation protested, in a letter to the Chicago policemen's annuity and retirement board, against the board's demand for a tax levy of $5,255,000, an increase of $1,700,000 over the last levy. The board was asked to withdraw the request and urge a smaller levy.

RITES MONDAY FOR B. E. COHEN, LAW FIRM HEAD

10 PER CENT HIKE IN LICENSE FEES COMES UP TODAY

The city council, in fulfillment of Mayor Kelly's promise that everything possible will be done to raise revenue for a general pay raise for city employes, will hold a special session today to consider a blanket ordinance increasing existing license fees 10 per cent.

Ald. James B. Bowler [25th], chairman of the finance committee, said the proposed increase would not apply to the new licenses and increased fees already imposed this week. It is the council plan, he said, to grant increases to approximately 21,000 employes. Those whose pay scale is regulated by unions, such as plumbers, electricians, and teamsters, and those regulated by statute will not benefit. The latest city pay roll listed 24,800 employes. estimate the amount of the raise for the 21,000 city employes.

A pay increase for deputy bailiffs of the Municipal court was in prospect after Albert J. Horan, bailiff, asked the finance committee for a $75,000 increase in his appropriation. Altho the salaries of deputy bailiffs are fixed by statute, Horan explained he wanted the money to give deputy bailiffs a car allowance, which would amount to about $300 a year. The committee took the request under advisement.

Silent on Size of Raise.

Neither Bowler nor members of the finance committee staff would estimate the amount of the raise. Bowler said the United States department of agriculture states that living costs in this area have increased 22 per cent since the start of the war and added that a pay increase of that amount is impossible. Police and firemen received a 12 per cent pay boost early this year and other workers a 10 per cent hike last year. These cost the city about $4,500,000 and on the basis of funds available now it is estimated the pay increase will average about 5 per cent.

A 10 per cent hike on licenses would net about 1 million dollars. A similar increase in inspection fees would bring in about $125,000 and the gain from permit fees would be about $65,000. The new fees and increases voted earlier are expected to bring in $968,000.

Affected by Fee Hike.

Businesses and occupations which would be affected by the fee hike are:

Hospitals; house movers; hydrogen or oxygen.
Ice dealers; ice vehicles.
Junk dealers, retail junk dealers.
Laboratories; laundries; laundry vehicles; wholesale leather and leather products establishments; livery stables; lumber yards and lumber stockhouses.
Machine shops; massage parlors; motor vehicle repair shops; moving picture film storage; moving picture machine operators' licenses; original and renewal; motion picture title and developing; music and dancing.
Natatoriums; nitro cellulose products storage.
Retail paint stores; pawn brokers; peddlers, pack, basket, and wagon; photographers; itinerant wholesale produce dealers, public card or autos.
Roofing or paving materials; roofers' vehicles.
Sawdust, shavings, and excelsior; night scavengers, offal scavengers, private scavengers; second hand dealers, itinerant second hand clothes dealers; shooting galleries; slaughtering, rendering, and packing soap manufacturers; spotters; sales stables.
Tanneries; tickers; wholesale tobacco dealers; trailer camps.
Undertakers.
Wholesale vehicle shops; veterinary hospitals.
Wearing apparel shops; public weighers, deputy weighers; window cleaners.

Ralph H. Burke, deputy coördinator of the office of civilian defense, told the finance committee that he would get along on $300,000 in 1944 and outlined the major savings contemplated in OCD. A $400,000 appropriation had been asked. The committee made the reduction Burke had suggested. In 1943 $500,000 was alloted to the agency.

Wants $240 a Week for Alert.

Burke said elimination of the OCD's monthly publication, Alert, which had a circulation of 1,250,000, would save $48,000 a year. When he said he intended to continue publishing the weekly Alert at a cost of $240 an issue Ald. Frank Keenan [49th] suggested he convert it to a monthly. Bowler suggested a bimonthly and Burke said the change was "possible."

Ald. James B. Waller [43d], who is not a member of the committee and who tried unsuccessfully Thursday night to learn the number of city employes lent to OCD by department heads, interposed to ask if the agency did not incur substantial expenses for radio time and speakers. Burke said the radio stations and speakers donated their time and services but that actors in dramatic skits were paid.

"Will you need city employes assigned to you during the coming year?" Waller asked.

"I'm absolutely banking on them because the amount of the appropriation is not enough to cover every action and necessity that might arise," Burke said.

There were cries of dissent from committee members when Waller said he wanted to ask another question. "We're having too many questions; let's get down to business," Ald. Walter J. Orlikoski [35th] urged.

Shouts Demand for Courtesy.

"I'm entitled to courtesy as an alderman," Waller shouted. "I'm just doing my duty and I'm getting damned tired of all these attempts to block my investigations."

When Bowler restored order, Waller asked Burke if it would not be prudent to relax some of the OCD overhead, such as control centers, in view of the improved war outlook. Burke said the centers were essential and that other expenses have been cut to the minimum.

When Edward S. Scheffler, chief justice of the Municipal court, appeared to discuss the appropriation for that branch, Ald. Nicholas J. Bohling [7th] complained that the South Chicago court no longer handled anything but disorderly conduct cases. He said south side residents had to travel downtown on minor cases at great inconvenience.

"There's too much specialization in Municipal courts today," Bowler said. "They seem to have got away from the original intention. They are poor men's courts and should be conducted in the neighborhoods."

BABY FOUND DEAD IN CRIB.

Melvin Taylor Jr., 7 months old, son of Melvin and Mildred Taylor of 857 West 50th street, was found dead yesterday in his crib.

RESCUERS HUNT MORE BODIES IN WRECKED TRAINS

Death Toll Now Is 70; Chicagoan Hurt.

Lumberton, N. C., Dec. 17 [Special].—While wrecking crews continued to cut into the mass of twisted steel for more bodies, the Red Cross tonight revised its figures downward and placed the death toll in the Atlantic Coast Line double wreck near here yesterday at 70, of whom 47 were service men and 23 were civilians.

Before the tracks were cleared late today of the telescoped cars of the two smashed streamliners, six more bodies were found—three sailors, two soldiers, and one WAVE. Whether there were additional bodies in the wreckage moved off the tracks was not known.

The war department announced tonight in Washington, D. C., the names of 28 soldier dead and 22 service men injured. The task of identifying the civilian dead proceeded slowly.

Chicago Soldier Injured.

One Chicagoan and two others from the Chicago area were among the casualties. Pvt. Raymond C. Conner, 22 years old son of Mrs. Raymond L. Conner, 6046 Wallace street, Chicago, was one of the soldiers injured. Staff Sgt. Clarence E. Allen, whose next of kin is his aunt, Mabel Baldwin of Bloomington, Ill., was listed among the soldier dead, and Paul F. Gagle of Portland, Ind., was among the civilians injured.

Meantime, federal agents announced their investigation had failed to produce any evidence of sabotage or foul play in the wreck, the southeast's worst railroad disaster. They said they found no signs of tampering with the rail, the breaking of which caused the derailment of one of the streamliners 40 minutes before the second one plowed thru it.

C. G. Sibley, vice president of the Atlantic Coast Line, said a formal investigation will be made to learn the actions of the crews of both trains.

Crash During Storm.

When the disaster occurred, shortly after midnight, the two crack trains were roaring thru a snow and sleet storm in opposite directions on the railroad's main double line between New York and Florida.

The southbound train struck the break and three of its cars were spilled across the double track. Despite a trainman's warning lantern and bonfire flares passengers said they lighted, the northbound streamliner rammed into the derailed cars, which until then were little damaged. However, most of the casualties were in the second train, of which six cars were derailed.

Sibley said a fireman of the first streamliner went ahead of his train to flag the northbound flyer with a fusee he carried, but he stumbled and broke the flare and had only his red lantern, with which he was unsuccessful in halting the oncoming train.

Four cars, stacked one on top of the other, were so jammed together they were little bigger than one car is normally. Strewn thruout the wreckage were Christmas packages and toys, many of the passengers being homeward bound for the holidays.

The passage of two days since the disaster without the disclosure of a full list of casualties focused attention on the action of military police who prevented a Red Cross disaster reporter and two newspaper men from obtaining news and pictures of the wreck.

Film Destroyed.

The Red Cross reporter, who had obtained permission from a public relations lieutenant to make official pictures of the wreck for Red Cross records, said an M. P. halted him, took his camera, removed the film, and threw it into a fire near the wrecked trains.

An Associated Press photographer said he was arrested by military police, escorted from the scene, and told by a provost marshal he could make pictures only with the permission of R. G. Murchison, district superintendent of the railroad, who refused, asserting his line didn't want "that kind of publicity."

An Associated Press reporter said military police barred him from an improvised morgue at Red Springs, where bodies of wreck victims were taken, and that they set up a machine gun in front of the mortuary.

ASKS CONGRESS TO PROBE WAVE OF TRAIN WRECKS

Washington, D. C., Dec. 17 [Special].—A congressional investigation of the "appalling" number of railroad accidents was asked today in a resolution which Rep. Louis J. Capozzoli [D., N. Y.] introduced in the house as a result of yesterday's wreck at Buie, N. C.

The resolution called for an inquiry "with the view to ascertaining all pertinent facts relating to the construction and maintenance of railroad locomotives, cars, tracks, and other equipment and facilities, the management and operation of such railroad lines, the laws and regulations and the administration of laws and regulations relating to operation and inspection of railroad lines, safety equipment, and devices; the advisability of the establishment of a system of priorities for passengers, and any other matters which such committee may deem it necessary to investigate for the purpose of obtaining adequate information to enable it to recommend action."

GEORGE N. PEEK DIES; DIRECTOR OF AAA IN 1933

San Diego, Cal., Dec. 17 [Special].—George N. Peek, 70 years old, former Moline, Ill., farm implement manufacturer who served as first administrator of the agricultural administration act, then broke with New Deal burocrats and became an outspoken critic of their farm policies, died tonight. Peek moved to near-by Rancho Santa Fe from his Moline home six years ago. His widow, Georgia, survives.

Mr. Peek, who was born in Polo, Ill., on Nov. 19, 1873, and educated at Northwestern university, formerly was president and general manager of the Moline Plow company and previously was a vice president of Deere & Co.

In 1921 Mr. Peek collaborated with Gen. Hugh Johnson, later NRA director under the New Deal, in writing a brief entitled "Equality for Agriculture," which later served as the foundation of the McNary-Haugen bill. He was a Republican until 1928, when he supported Al Smith and the Democratic farm program.

Peek supported Roosevelt for President in 1932 and was installed in 1933 as AAA administrator. For a time he enjoyed the favor of Vice President Henry A. Wallace, then secretary of agriculture, because both agreed upon the principle of processing taxes, but Peek's violent opposition to the secretary's policy of crop reduction resulted in his removal to an obscure post as head of the Export-Import bank, a post which he later resigned and became a severe critic of the New Deal.

BECAUSE TRAIN IS LATE BANDITS MUFF MAIL RAID

Tie 4; Rifle Unregistered Sacks at Harvard.

Because a Chicago and North Western railroad mail train was an hour and 43 minutes late yesterday in arriving at Harvard, McHenry county, four bandits were foiled in their plans to rob the mails of money consigned to that town.

The bandits, however, tied up four persons in the depot baggage room, slashed open and rifled eight mail sacks from an earlier train, and fled with one sack which they did not have time to open, being frightened away by the approach of another train. Postal agents said no registered mail was taken.

Sheriff Henry Nulle said the bandits evidently were planning to seize money that normally is sent to Harvard about this time each month. The cash is consigned to the town's two banks to cash dairy farmers' milk checks.

Delayed by Heavy Mail.

The train which carried the registered mail was due at Harvard, a town of little more than 3,000 population, 65 miles northwest of Chicago, at 2:15 a. m., but because of heavy holiday mails did not arrive until 3:58 a. m.

About 3 a. m., Luther McConnell, a repairman for the railroad, went to the depot to get warm. Three of the bandits, who had broken open the baggage room door, forced him into the room and tied him. Then they began to open sacks, sorting thru the mail.

Within 15 minutes three other persons who came to the railroad station were forced into the room and tied with rope. They are Joseph Dawson, relief baggage man; Ronald McCauley and Leslie Alderton, newspaper agents.

Work with Flashlights.

The four bound victims were unable to get a good look at the bandits as they worked in the dark baggage room with flashlights, each being careful not to shine them on their confederates' faces.

After 20 minutes of searching thru the sacks the bandits were startled by the headlight of an approaching train and seized the bag they had not yet opened and sped away in a waiting automobile with a fourth bandit at the wheel.

Sheriff Nulle said the robbers probably thought the mail train already had arrived at the depot and had deposited the mail when they went to the baggage room. Because the town postoffice is closed at night, the mail is kept in the baggage room until morning.

William Dalton, a telegrapher, who was in his office about 50 feet from the baggage room during the robbery, was unaware of the holdup.

PASSENGER DIES IN TRUCK CRASH; ARREST DRIVER

Michael Oldenberg, 23 years old, 7831 Emerald avenue, was killed last night when a speeding delivery truck in which he was a passenger overturned on an S turn at Harwood avenue and Birch street, Homewood. The truck was driven by Frank W. Deeyer, 22, of 7022 South Halsted street, according to Homewood county highway police, who booked Deeyer on a reckless driving charge. Police said the truck was traveling 65 miles an hour when it failed to negotiate the curve.

REPLY TO A SUBSCRIBER.

[A reply to the letter entitled, "He Wants to Start a Store," in the Voice of the People today.]

Yes, John, the spring is a good time to start almost anything. Nature means it to be so. That's when vegetation comes to life, animals awake from their long winter sleep, the birds come back, the farmer takes to the field, and we have marbles, baseball, baby chickens, and lambs.

But whether the coming season of rebirth is the time for you to start the business you have in mind cannot be determined by what happens to the birds, the beasts, and the trees. You ought to pause and consider all the angles. We can't size you up from a desk up here in the Tower. We know nothing about you or your financial resources, but even if we had this information we'd be taking a lot for granted if we told you whether to open up or not. What worries us is that we might say something which might influence you to make a misstep. However, some observations seem safe enough, founded on the contacts over the years we have had with a great many business firms, successful and otherwise.

Keeping store looks easy to one who has never been behind a counter. That's the way it strikes nearly everybody. So what do people do who have never had much cash at one time and suddenly find themselves with a big bunch of money from an estate or an insurance company? Why, they look around for a spot where they can open a store.

The results are nearly always sad. Success is rare, especially among amateurs. Storekeepers go broke every day, even in the most prosperous times. Any one who has never bought and sold can't imagine how hard it is just to break even. The costs of doing business are not apparent. It takes an expert to gauge public taste. Only from practice can you know how much to buy. Price declines have ruined hundreds of thousands of storekeepers. Style changes in no time can render merchandise worthless which looked irresistible when it was bought. And there are more deadbeats than any one but a merchant could imagine existed.

A shopkeeper these days has more to do than buy and sell. He must comply with innumerable government regulations and be prepared to justify his price tags. John, have you had any experience in filling out questionnaires? And are you much of a hand at making pay roll deductions for the income tax and social security?

You are probably right in assuming that people will have plenty of spending money next spring. The stores then which have the goods won't be short of customers. But many items aren't being made any more and few manufacturers can fill all the orders on their books from old customers. John, what assurance have you and your wife that you could obtain what you would like to sell in the spring when established merchants are being rationed?

You ask to whom you should write in order to get started. This makes it clear that you have had no store experience. You have some money you are anxious to put to work. Maybe it's what the insurance company paid you after your boy was killed in service. Don't risk losing that precious money until you know what you are doing. Why don't you and your wife work as clerks for a year or so in somebody else's store? Then you will be able to judge for yourself whether you are qualified to be a merchant on your own hook. Wouldn't it be better to find that out before you lost your capital than after? In the meantime you can put your money to work by investing in war bonds.

But, good luck to you, John, whatever you do.

Sincerely,
THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.

Note: For years the people of the middle west have asked us about their personal problems. Upon request we have sent dependable recipes for onion soup and cheese souffle. When the war strength cream didn't whip we were asked why. A 4-F wants to know what uniformed service is open to him. A convict's mother asks us if the time has come to ask for a parole for her son. In a year we answered 1,014 letters about boy-girl problems, 9,190 letters about stocks and bonds, 40,887 about health, and 7,529 letters about makeup. The foregoing answer to a letter from one of our subscribers seemed to be of sufficiently general interest to warrant its publication, with the name and the address of the subscriber deleted.

CHICAGO'S BIG POWER GRAB.

Canadian interests who are fighting Chicago's request for the diversion of an additional 3,500 cubic feet a second of Lake Michigan water thru the sanitary canal have cried out that the city's demand is just a power grab. They point to the fact that the sanitary district has an electric power plant at Lockport and say that the additional flow of water is wanted not to divert sewage and thus safeguard the city's health, but to create more power.

Since the Canadians normally divert 36,000 cubic feet a second for their power properties at Niagara under the boundary waters treaty of 1910, and have whooped it up to 50,000 feet a second under a war time international agreement, they might be expected to know what they are talking about. But the facts make them look silly.

The sanitary district built its power plant at Lockport in 1908 with a total generating capacity of 8,000 kilowatts. With the present flow of water [1,500 cubic feet a second from the lake and 1,700 cubic feet from the sewage system] allowed under war department restrictions, the district is able to run one 7,500 kilowatt generator all of the time and another 7,500 kilowatt generator one-quarter of the time. This gives the sanitary district a total average output of 8,300 kilowatts.

If the sanitary system would receive an additional 3,500 cubic feet of lake water, the amount necessary to remove germ-breeding stagnation at the lower end of Lake Michigan, it could produce another 8,200 kilowatts of electrical energy, according to engineering estimates. This would bring the Lockport power plant's output up to 16,500 kilowatts, which may look like an imposing figure until it is compared with the rest of Chicago's power pool.

The Commonwealth Edison company has just completed a 147,000 kilowatt generating unit, which brings its total net capacity to slightly more than 2,200,000 kilowatts. The Edison company's Fisk station, where the new generators are housed, will use 7,000 kilowatts of the additional energy for its own operation.

This is just 1,200 kilowatts less than the sanitary district could produce with the 3,500 feet of water it needs to wash away sewage. On that basis the district would hardly be entitled to consider itself in the power business at all.

Engineers figure that every kilowatt hour of electrical energy produced from water power saves a pound of coal. An additional 8,200 kilowatts of capacity at Lockport wouldn't add significantly to the city's power resources, but it would mean the saving of 36,000 tons of coal a year.

When a public body saves a ton of coal it doesn't put money directly into anybody's pocket, but it does save the transportation and the labor of a nation at war for more essential tasks. Since Canada is fighting on our side in this war it should be anxious to help us add 36,000 tons of coal a year to the allied war pool.

THE GRAND TOUR ENDS.

Mr. Roosevelt is back in this country. The viands for the Thanksgiving dinner at Cairo were flown from America and 30 odd toasts were drunk at Teheran. The two conferences produced two highly touted but largely ambiguous statements, and military plans of great moment were said to have been agreed upon. If the latter is true, it is to be hoped that the man whose strategic sense was measured by Pearl Harbor and Bataan refrained from interfering with the military experts.

The only noteworthy military event in the Mediterranean during the conferences took place at Bari, in Italy, on Dec. 2, when German bombers staged a surprise attack, sank or severely damaged 17 allied ships that were unloading military cargo in the harbor, and killed or injured more than a thousand persons. The surprise was laid to the lack of fighter plane protection, at a time when the presence of the national leaders in the Mediterranean vicinity obviously required detachment of a considerable force of allied planes to safeguard them against possible Nazi aerial attack.

Few Presidents of the United States, it is true, have had the opportunity to dash away on these Champagne Charlie trips, but there was never another occupant of the White House, we may be sure, who would not have had the good sense to refrain from them had such an opportunity arisen. Like the peculiar peregrinations of his wife, Mr. Roosevelt's touring has had no counterpart in history. Nero fiddled as Rome burned, but at least he stayed in Rome.

This nation has been concerned that Mr. Roosevelt should abandon the duties implicit in his office in time of war and go gallivanting half around the world, to undertake, for reasons of personal glory, tasks that properly belong to ambassadors. His fellow conferees, one of whom at least is reasonably familiar with the American Constitution, also might be concerned. It may well be that that concern was reflected in the ambiguity of the formal announcements.

Mr. Roosevelt is not a dictator, like Stalin or Chiang Kai-shek. The executive department of the British empire can make treaties without the consent of parliament, because it is the creature of parliament. That is not true in the United States. Mr. Roosevelt's powers to make any long term commitments are no greater than his ambassador would have had. In either instance, the commitments would be invalid unless ratified by the senate.

Whatever may have been done and kept secret at Cairo and Teheran may well be cause for anxiety to the other parties represented, but it need not distress Americans unduly, for Mr. Roosevelt returns to a country which, during his absence, has given clear political evidence of the doom of the New Deal. His mistakes are catching up with him. He is, thank heaven, all thru, and the country can go forward, discounting him in the future.

Editorial of the Day

A NOISY WORLD.

[C. E. M. Joad in the London New Statesmen and Nation.]

It is the increasing boringness of the conversation of one's contemporaries, the triteness of that of one's juniors, which brings up my second consideration, which is that one cannot shut it out; nor can you shut out the neighbor's wireless; nor his gramophone; nor the barkings of dogs; nor the palpitations of the internal combustion engine; nor the unchecked yelling of the human young; nor any of the other foes which, as progress advances, increasingly impede the concentration of the mind and disturb the tranquility of the soul. God, in short, who mercifully gave us eyelids, neglected to provide us with earflaps, an omission which, as the world grows noisier, has become such a disability that I confidently expect that the next mutation of a purposive life force, concerned to evolve those characteristics which are necessary to enable its individual expressions to carry life to a higher level, will be not long-livedness but the more humble acquisition of earflaps.

Liquor plentiful, congress probers report. Maybe they mean in Teheran.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

MR. PEPYS MEETS CRONIES.

18th Dec.—Went to dine with the press veterans at their annual assembly last Saturday night and greeted many old comrades after recognizing them by the names on their lapels, and we all talked of the "days that wuz," like Kipling's veteran soldier, Terence Mulvaney, and had a high time. All talk was off the record or "in the lodge," as we used to say, but F. P. A., the full-of-information man, told me a story I can repeat.

When he was in Hollywood a while ago he met the actor, H. B. Warner, famous for his "Jimmy Valentine," whom he had known 30 years ago or more, and greeted him with a "Hello, Harry." The actor stared at him blankly, and then a great smile of recognition came over his countenance. "Why, it's Frank Adams!" he exclaimed gleefully. "I thought we were both dead."

After the dinner, withdrew into my ivory tower and took up the study of astronomy, which is a nice, quiet subject, well suited to the need for recuperation after social festivities. A cold, dark observatory at the top of a steep flight of stairs is an ideal place for getting away from it all, and I would build one immediately on the top of my house, if I had a house.

The zeal for Christmas is so great this year that I would not be surprised to see it begin several days ahead of time. Shoppers have been buying gifts for months, and Christmas cards began to arrive this week, and on Dec. 13 I saw two households with lighted Christmas trees. Yet here am I, almost unprepared, except for Christmas poems to put into my column, of which I have several bushels.

HOME FOR CHRISTMAS.

Boys expendable,
Young and so dear!
Are they home for Christmas
This wistful year?
Are they home to feast,
Their last flight made?
Are they laughing in heaven,
Still unafraid?
Laughter in heaven!
Father above,
Let them have laughter,
Mirth, and love.
Home for Christmas!
While the host sings,
Heavenly Father,
Still give them wings! S'Amuser.

Ol' Timer Goes A-Huntin'.

Went down to Horseshoe lake, near Cairo, for some goose huntin' last week. Shot one big honker an' quit. Shucks, they sail into the decoys so slow, an' are so big, it's like shootin' at a flock of barn doors. An' say, that gander was so old even his breast meat was tough. I'll stick to green wing teal; they streak past your blind goin' 50 miles an hour an' they're the best meat that flies.

But it was a sight to cross over on the ferry to the state game refuge an' see 700 solid acres of Canada geese feedin', an' talkin', an' marchin' like the Wehrmacht. An' I did get a bang out of the tavern in Cairo, where the barkeep only charged us 44 cents for two shots an' a big beer—15 cents a shot plus 2 cents tax. I just looked at him with my mouth open, so paralyzed that Jake Lemm beat me to payin' for it. Happened twice.

That night we took off from Bill Brown's roadhouse at Frog City to go coon huntin'. Drove up highway 127 to Hogskin creek, where we parked an' let the dogs out. Got two coons an' nine possum. The other boys took the fur an' I brought home one coon carcass an' two possum carcasses. Now those Alexander county fellers think I'm a mite touched because I eat possum, an' my wife is fit to be tied because she had to "cook the nasty varmints—points or no points!"

A sophisticate in every phase,
She walks the flippant ways
Of modern times, cynical and brittle,
Scoffing at the sentiment of little Things.

The gifts beneath her tree are ultra smart,
Frivolous, and casual, with no heart;
Her house o'erflows with boisterous mirth,
Yet seldom laughter of joyous worth
Rings.

So blasé and shallow does she seem to be—
Strange then how loath that any one should see
Her at the window so enraptured stand,
When a Christmas caroling band
Sings! Cherida.

And Then There Were Seven.

There were eight customers waiting nervously in line at the meat counter in a small neighborhood store, among them a well dressed young woman. After ordering a choice steak and some spareribs, she found she lacked seven points. The man next in line, obviously in a hurry, called out:

"All right, can we let this poor lady starve just because she hasn't got seven points?"

Each customer contributed a point, the butcher handed the young woman her steak and ribs, and the line moved up one. Ipse Dixit.

Can't the Baskervilles [Dec. 13] do something about the current Sherlock Holmes shockers that are being presented via radio by some half-seasoned jugs of synthetic wine? The series is rapidly turning Holmes and Watson into a sort of Laurel-Hardy combination. At his start Dr. Watson [a fine gentleman always] was never a stooge, and neither was Holmes a tongue-in-cheek automaton who spoke the language of the Hollywood script writer.

EMOTIONAL FACTORS IN STUTTERING.

In olden times, stuttering was thought to be a disorder of the throat. Thus Greek and Roman physicians applied healing oils to the neck, or cauterized the tongue. Centuries were to elapse before any one — even the wisest savants—considered the advisability of speech training.

We are dealing with an ancient malady and the symptoms haven't changed thru the centuries. The victim seems to be unable to coördinate. Words flow too rapidly for expression. It does not seem long since we looked upon the defect as an evidence of some psychic disturbance.

In this connection, we have probably mistaken the nervous behavior of the sufferer for a mental peculiarity. Actually, only rarely will one of these unfortunates become emotionally upset because he cannot make himself understood. Fifty per cent of all cases, however, show an inherited disposition. Just why girls seldom stutter is not explained. Nevertheless, there are five males to each female who exhibits the trait.

What can we do? First of all we may correct an inferiority complex if it exists. Has the child felt slighted, ignored? Has he been criticized constantly and never praised? Second, we can make a careful examination to determine the presence of an abnormality. Occasionally, trouble will be discovered within the nose or throat while now and then basic nerve failure will be detected. But such physical factors are not often responsible.

More can be done by teaching rhythmic recitations, enunciating each syllable slowly and distinctly. With children, much good may be accomplished by placing the youngsters in groups. Adults, on the other hand, can practice alone.

The primary job is to break down a type of weakness which is largely embarrassment or a sense of inadequacy. No little value accrues to raising the voice, even shouting. If the fundamental cause continues to operate, improvement will be long delayed. For example, fear of father or mother or some one about the household will make normal response impossible. Occasionally, older brothers and sisters will exercise this influence.

A 10 year old girl stammered violently with trembling of the lower jaw and tightening of the muscles of the neck whenever an officious aunt came to visit the home. Another case, a lad of about the same age, naturally active and alert, had been repressed by both parents since he was able to walk.

We all have inhibitions. One may carefully rehearse a speech for delivery before a local club, but when called upon will be utterly unable to bring to mind the thread of his remarks. He has a "stammering" memory. Alone in the bosom of his family, he can recite his discourse word for word without hesitation.

We ofttimes confront defeat with the patient who declines to attempt the slightest utterance because he knows he will fail. The antidote is confidence. This may be accomplished with practice, aided by the sound of his own voice.

STAMPS CARRY GERMS?

A. M. S. writes: I have been wondering whether the licking of postage stamps may not have something to do with the spread of colds and like diseases. What do you think of this idea?

REPLY.

"Stickum" is largely dextrin and Uncle Sam is supposed to apply this in a sterile manner. If we were obliged to remove them with the tongue, you would have a strong point.

STIFF THUMB.

Mrs. J. writes: Would you advise surgical removal of adhesions within a thumb? I have tried heat, massage, and diathermy with only partial relief.

REPLY.

Yes, if you have given the lesion enough time to heal. Use, however, will do more to restore function than any other procedure.

DENTITION.

B. W. writes: My year old baby has just six teeth. Is this all right?

REPLY.

Perfectly normal. By the end of the first 12 months there should be two lower central incisors and four uppers. Within the next two or three months the lower lateral incisors will appear and perhaps some of the molars. Be sure he has plenty of cod liver oil.

GAS HEAT.

M. B. writes: When my apartment becomes chilly I've made a practice of turning on the gas stove. I have been told that, should I fall asleep, I might become asphxiated. Is this possible?

REPLY.

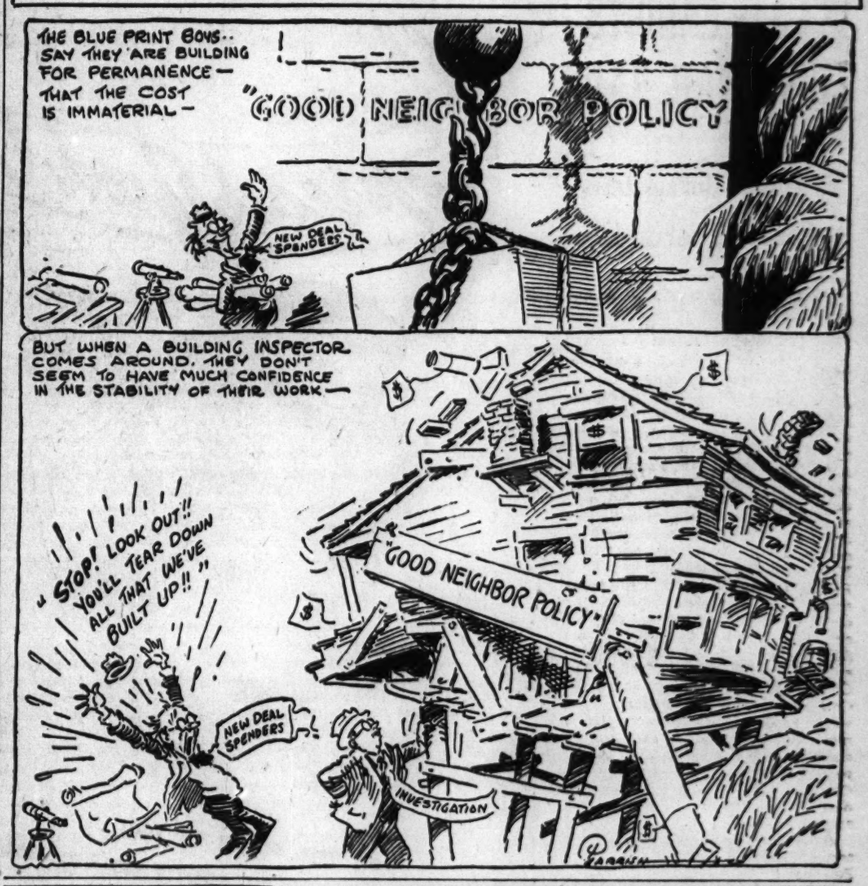

Not if ventilation is adequate. You are using up a goodly amount of oxygen from the air.

Education of an American.

OTTAWA, Ont., Dec. 17.—The education of an American has strange nuances. One has to come to Canada to learn a little known, if not completely unknown, chronicle in the history of the United States. One has to go over the iced streets of Ottawa, past the tower clock that is a replica of London's Big Ben, around the snowy hills and over the frozen river to Mme. Burger's French restaurant. Here, over flaming crepe suzettes, a Dutchman tells you of the first time the United States flag was saluted by a foreign power.

The date was Nov. 16, 1776, and a brigantine variously identified in the Dutch archives in The Hague as the Andrew Doria and the Andromeda hove into the harbor of St. Eustatius, a tiny island in the Caribbean. The ship flew a strange flag, one with 13 stripes of red and white and no corner field.

The man who shot the cannon in the harbor fortress of Fort Oranje was upset. He raced to Johannes De Graaf, governor of the tiny Dutch island.

"Sir," he said. "There's a ship coming in flying a flag I do not know. I think maybe it is the flag of those new United States."

"Well," said the governor, a canny lad who knew well that Dutch ships were smuggling arms out of St. Eustatius to the rebellious colonies of North America, "give the salute."

Word of this soon reached the governor of the neighboring island of St. Kitts, a British possession. He was appalled and sent a representative to make an informal complaint to De Graaf. De Graaf refused to receive the representative. Instead, he wrote a letter to the governor of St. Kitts.

"Any salute given on this island," he said firmly, "is a matter that concerns only me and my gentlemen and masters in The Hague and is no concern of his excellency, the governor of St. Kitts."

The governor of St. Kitts, who bore the ironical name of Greathead, replied angrily:

"History will teach whether this salute given to a rebellious brigantine was or was not an insult to his majesty's flag."

Four years later, in 1780, England declared war on Holland, and one of England's first acts was to send its fleet to the West Indies to capture St. Eustatius. A few shots, and this was accomplished.

Adm. Rodney, commanding the fleet, found tremendous booty in the warehouses there, for as many as 1,400 ships a year docked in the harbor, and he settled down for six pleasant, lazy months to auction off its riches. He was there in the spring of 1781 when the encirclement of Yorktown was threatened, and Adm. Hood, his vice admiral commanding a portion of the fleet, had word that the French fleet had escaped from the West Indies and was steaming up to help the Americans. He asked Rodney, in a series of tearful letters, to forget St. Eustatius and his booty and join forces with him to stop the French. Rodney smiled and stayed where he was.

And now the two British admirals are known best as the names of warships, H. M. S. Rodney and H. M. S. Hood [sunk May 24, 1941], and St. Eustatius is a desolate little island with a dead volcano at one end, and the only picture of Johannes De Graaf, the man who ordered the first foreign salute to the flag of the United States, is in the statehouse in Concord, N. H., where it was placed by a relative who had relatives in New Hampshire. And the only reason these facts are known in this order today is that the New Hampshire state librarian couldn't understand why the picture was ever painted and so wrote to The Hague. He then wrote a litle pamphlet about his findings. It was published in 1873 and has probably been read by six people in 70 years, one of whom is the Dutchman here in Ottawa.

SEY MADE SOME FRIENDS.

Mediterranean Theater, Nov. 15.—For some weeks, Mr. Seymour Korman of the staff of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE has been closely associated with this division. This period has included participation in two campaigns.

Mr. Korman, by reason of his professional competence, genial personality, and cheerful sharing of all dangers and hardships has come to be considered a member of the division.

The "All-American" division wishes to express to you its appreciation of his services and to assure you of his welcome, should future assignments again bring us together.

M. B. RIDGWAY,
Major General, United States Army, Commanding 82d Airborne Division.

SO THAT'S WHERE HE'S BEEN.

Chicago, Dec. 7.—Evidently the master mind who suggested taking horses' shoes off at night and changing the lambing season was brought to Chicago to arrange the schedules and routing of the elevated trains.

At present passengers boarding trains at stations between Wilson and Loyola, whose destinations are west of the loop, are compelled to change at Wilson to Evanston trains with scant standing room, as they are already filled with passengers from Evanston and Rogers Park. On the return trip in the evening this situation is reversed. Those living on the south side probably have their troubles getting to that district, but they do have Jackson Park trains on the west side of the loop going south.

The elevated advertises that it has 14½ miles of cars. Why not put every other Howard train on the loop?

T. C. FETROW.

ANTIDOTE FOR OWI.

Chicago, Dec. 13.—THE TRIBUNE has once more produced an editorial masterpiece, entitled "What a Pal," on Sunday, Dec. 12.

The facts of which it reminds us should be shown on the screen of every neighborhood picture house immediately following the OWI propaganda film which they are required to show, wherein some draft age New Dealer stands up and tells the people how much food they are wasting and what a sin it is, or tells us how much paper, or tin, or just anything "the people are wasting," tells what a crime it is to spend money or even to have it.

The headlines from the then current newspapers in support of the disgraceful facts named by THE TRIBUNE'S editorial, should be filmed and shown immediately after each and every OWI propaganda film, to show up that bunch for what they are.

L. G. TOOTHAKER.

THE FATHERS' DRAFT JOKER.

Chicago, Dec. 14.—Of all the cheap political maneuvers foisted on the American public by the Democrats the recent draft fathers last legislation is the worst. This legislation sounds good but does absolutely nothing to relieve the situation. It was passed purely as an attempt to relieve the party in power of the political consequences which are sure to follow the needless breaking up of homes.

I do not believe that any father who is forced to break up his home while he knows the war plants and farms teem with men who should be inducted before him will soon forget which party was in power when this occurred.

MAC.

HE HASN'T FOUND OUT YET.

La Salle, Ill., Dec. 10.—Wendell Willkie received the Republican nomination in 1940, not thru any organized stampede by a financially powerful minority in the Philadelphia convention, but because of the tremendous support given him nation-wide by an army of unpaid and unsolicited amateurs like myself who were, and still are, sold on his sound philosophy of government. No one, whether he be of Wall street, La Salle street or Main street, solicited my support of Mr. Willkie. Nor did any one reimburse me for whatever time or money I may have expended in his behalf. All of this was done of my own volition. Still you aim to convince the American electorate that it was otherwise, and I retort that you are not only unfair, but downright dishonest, editorially speaking.

It isn't a question of Mr. Willkie's fitness which stirs your emotional opposition, as you would have the reading public believe. Rather, it is your opposition to the liberal and democratic concept of government which he represents. In short, this is a battle between the reactionary conservatives and the progressive liberals represented by Mr. Willkie. You may succeed in clouding the issues—God knows that you are trying hard enough to—but that is the picture, precisely.

STEPHEN L. FALETTI.

HE WANTS TO START A STORE.

Blankville, Wis., Dec. 9.—Would like to know if next spring would be a good time to go into business. Also if you could help me in giving me some information as to who to write to or contact to get started. My wife and I would like to open a joint shop. She to handle women's hats, stockings, silk lingerie, and junk jewelry. I to handle men's hats, shirts, ties, handkerchiefs, scarfs, sox, etc. Would like to open in some other city with a population of about 20,000 somewhere in Wisconsin. We would like to carry a good grade or medium priced goods. Inclosed please find self-addressed envelope for answer. Hoping you can help us.

WOMEN'S WORKING HOURS.

Chicago, Dec. 11.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—What restrictions are placed by Illinois law on the number of hours a woman may be employed?

J. S.

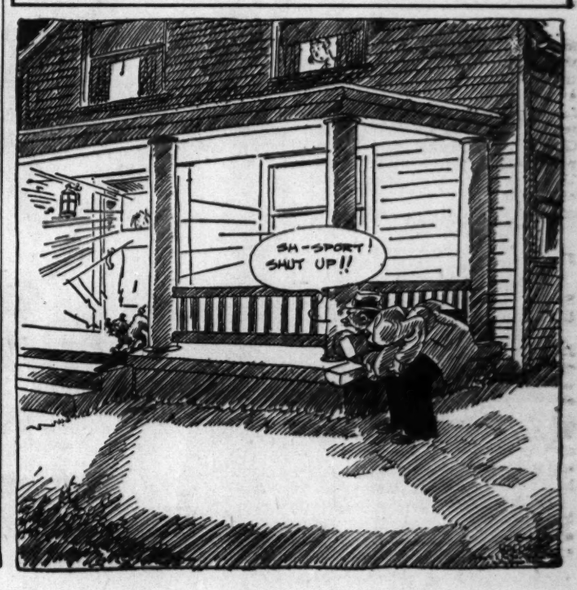

"No female shall be employed in any mechanical or mercantile establishment or factory or laundry or hotel or restaurant or barber shop or beauty parlor or telegraph or telephone establishment or office therefor or any place of amusement or by any person, firm, or corporation engaged in any express or transportation or public utility business or by any common carrier or in any public or private institution or office thereof, incorporated or unincorporated in this state, more than eight hours during any one day nor more than 48 hours in any one week." Illinois Revised Statutes, chapter 48, section 5.

The act excepts, with certain qualifications, nurses, phone and telegraph operators with sleeping facilities, emergency operation of public utilities, canning establishments in season, nonmercantile long day staggered with a short day, and mercantile nine hour day or 54 hour week for not over four weeks per year.

Barbara Wakeley's Betrothal Is Being Made Known Today

BY JUDITH CASS.

AT A SMALL tea today in their home in Kenilworth, the Arthur W. Wakeleys will be introducing Edward Anderson Wheeler, the young westerner who has been a guest in their home this week, as their future son-in-law. Yesterday the Wakeleys' daughter, Barbara, arrived at home from Vassar college, and today her parents are announcing her engagement to Mr. Wheeler, who is the son of Mrs. Louis McLaughlin Blankenhorn of Pasadena, Cal., and of the late Harold Sayre Wheeler of Tacoma, Wash.

Pretty Miss Wakeley, who attended the North Shore Country Day school before entering Vassar, made her debut a year ago in June at the Saddle and Cycle club with Miss Joan Ralston. An ardent sailor, she serves as fleet captain at the Lake Geneva Country club in Lake Geneva, Wis., where her parents spend the summer. By coincidence, her fiancé shares the same name as her grandparents, the Harry A. Wheelers of Chicago, Lake Geneva, and Altadena, Cal., altho the two families are not related.

Miss Barbara Wakeley.

Mr. Wheeler attended the Polytechnic Elementary Day school in Pasadena, the Shawnigan Lake school near Victoria, B. C., and California Institute of Technology, and was graduated in September from Stanford university. He recently arrived from Parris Island, S. C., where he has been stationed with the marine corps. His sister, the former Laura Wheeler, is married to Albert Harris MacLeod, grandson of the Albert W. Harrises of Chicago. Their mother, Mrs. Blankenhorn, is here now but will be returning to California Tuesday. Mr. Wheeler will remain with the Wakeleys thruout the holidays.

Debutante Parties.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip K. Wrigley's "homecoming" tomorrow for their younger daughter, Dorothy, will have a novel and welcome feature, for a hot buffet meal will be served continuously from 4 to 7 p. m. during the party. Altho Miss Wrigley is of debutante age, the party is not being called a debut, and there will be no assistants. Only young friends of Miss Wrigley and of her sister, Mrs. William J. Hagenah Jr., and of Ensign Hagenah, who are here for the holidays, have been invited. Today Miss Wrigley is arriving from Poughkeepsie, N. Y., bringing with her several Vassar classmates who will be here for the festivities tomorrow.

The Francis Hardys are expecting more than 100 young persons, including all the season's debutantes and midshipmen from the naval reserve school at Northwestern university, at a luncheon which they are giving at 1 p. m. tomorrow at the Indian Hill club for their daughter, Anne. Here for Miss Hardy's debut is her Mount Vernon Junior college roommate, Miss Mary Montgomery. Since Miss Montgomery's home is in San Marino, Cal., she will remain with the Hardys for the holidays.

Mrs. Bolton Sullivan has invited young friends of three of the season's debutantes, Miss Kathleen Ball, Miss Gwenyth Bingham, and Miss Betty De Lescaille, to a teadance in her home this afternoon. From 5 to 7 p. m. the John F. Jelkes will be entertaining at cocktails in Lake Forest for another of the season's buds, Miss Marion Carry.

News of Births.

When Dr. Trevor Stamp arrives in Evanston for Christmas, he and his wife will select a name for their new son, born Wednesday in the Evanston hospital. Mrs. Stamp and 8 year old Buster have been staying with her mother, Mrs. Charles H. Bosworth of Evanston, for the duration. Dr. Stamp arrived in Canada last month from England, where he and his wife reside.

The son that was born yesterday at the Presbyterian hospital to Comdr. and Mrs. William J. Widhelm has been named for his father, who led the "Bombing Fools" on the airplane carrier Hornet and twice was awarded the navy cross for distinguished heroism. The baby is a grandson of the Harold Clark Cheneys of Barrington. Comdr. Widhelm is on duty outside the United States.

Week-End Events.

The gayest benefit of the Christmas season is the "pop" concert the woman's board of the Travelers Aid society is giving at 8:30 o'clock tonight in the Drake hotel, with Druke and Shaw, duo-pianists, as the artists. The program will be followed by refreshments and dancing. The ballroom will be decorated with Christmas trees which will be hung with sheet music. The trees' stay in the Drake will not be long, for after the party members of the board and their husbands who subscribe for the trees will carry them away to use as Christmas decorations in their own homes.

A number of former board members have returned to Chicago for the party, among them a former president, Mrs. Harry Vested Jr., now of Lancaster, Pa., who may be prevailed upon to sing, something she has been doing at eastern benefits, her friends have heard. She will be with her parents, the Robert Tansills, over the holidays. Also here for the party is Mrs. Charles F. Cutter, now of Washington D. C., whose husband, Lt. Cutter, is at sea. Nearly 800 guests are expected at the concert, including many debutantes of the season.

At least 100 children and an equal number of parents will gather at the Tavern club today for the annual Christmas entertainment, which will start at 2:30 p. m. This family party is one of the gayest of club events, and a capacity crowd is expected for holiday music and refreshments.

The Saddle and Cycle will usher in the holiday season with a buffet luncheon party tomorrow, followed by dancing and carols sung by the Great Lakes Dredge and Philharmonic [Friends of Music] society. About 50 midshipmen from the naval reserve training school at Northwestern have been invited to the luncheon, with an equal number of young women as partners. Louis Sudler will be soloist with the carolers, who include Albert D. Erskine, the only surviving founder of the club, and many club members.

Spiritual Life of Child Must Be Nourished

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1943: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

The churches all over the country are filled as they have not been in generations.

For these are tragic times. Lives are filled with sacrifices, grief, loss, deprivation. Where these are not present as personal experiences, still many persons feel the impact of war as a spiritual thing. All this creates an inner need which, for many persons, is filled by religion, and an increased closeness with their church. We surely know that more prayers, both in and out of church, are being said in this land than ever were before. And many a boy overseas has been heard to say, "I know it was my mother's prayers that saved me."

Off and on letters have come to me from parents on the subject of religious training for their children.

Naturally these letters have not come from those whose association with the church of their faith has been close and unbroken all their lives. The letters have come, rather, from men and women whose approach to religion is different, but who have nevertheless a profound yearning for a satisfying faith themselves, and who wish to inculcate such in their children. They ask, "What shall I tell my child about religion?"

I have said before that we can really give our children only what we believe. For many parents this belief may range from a deep and abiding faith in a personal and omniscient God, to a sure but vague feeling that there is a force, an order, a law in our universe that is fundamentally beneficent.

A most important phase of this subject of religion for our children we sometimes forget. And that is that there are stirrings or emotions in the child himself which, properly nourished, will be the religion for him. Any one who has been near the heart of a little child [before he may have had the concepts of others imposed on him] has oftentimes marveled and been touched by his deeply spiritual quality of thought. Too often we neglect to nurture this intuitive knowledge and searching of children. Their spiritual life receives too little attention from us.

There are "sublime possibilities that dwell in the individual." In every human being there is a "vital spiritual force." The best that we as parents can do is to give it a fruitful soil to develop in; to see that our child's vital spiritual forces are liberated. How they will be set free is an individual matter. The religious truth can take many outward forms.

Like all generalizations, this is not as helpful as more specific instructions would be. But with anything so big, so full of personal implications as the subject of religion must be, only basic thoughts can be suggested. The working out of this problem by each parent for his or her own children must be an individual concern.

Women in War Work

By Kate Massee

Sapphires and rubies of microscopic dimensions pass by the thousands thru the dexterous, trained fingers of women war workers at the jewel bearing plant of the Elgin National Watch company in Aurora, Ill.

The tiny bearings go into hundreds of instruments of war which call for harder-than-metal jewels to operate between metal friction surfaces. It is estimated that 5,000 jeweled bearings go into a battleship's mechanisms, and more than 100 into the instrument panel of a bomber plane. The bearings also are used in navigation watches, tank clocks, air speed and rate-of-climb indicators, and scores of other devices used by both the army and navy air forces and also in land and sea based war instruments.

A week's production of diminutive jeweled bearings numbers in the thousands, but the parts are so small that they fill only a case comparable in size to that of a woman's compact.

Many operations are necessary to make each little jewel, and women, who constitute slightly more than 80 per cent of the craftsmen, have a hand in virtually all of them, because feminine deftness is especially suited to the work. They are trained on the job by technicians who received instruction thru the training-within-industry program of the war production board.

Among the operations which women perform, most of them under microscopes or magnifying glasses, are cementing, sawing, grinding, polishing, drilling, and inspecting. Several women are supervisors. The nature of the work makes good vision imperative, so employes are required to take sight examinations.

Women at the jewel plant entered war work from many peace time occupations, and a number came directly from the home when sons, husbands, and brothers entered service. The minimum age of women employes is 16. There is no maximum age, provided an applicant can pass the sight test.

The jewel plant, the only one of its kind in the middle west, won the Army-Navy "E" early this month. Forward-looking executives have planned a post-war industry in which present employes will engage. The company plans to manufacture, for peace time industrial uses, precision gauges made of the synthetic sapphires and rubies, which are said to have 30 times the wearing power of steel gauges.

Women first went to work at the Aurora plant when it opened in February, 1942. Because the jeweled bearings are made for army and navy ordnance, the feminine employes last March formed a post of the WOWs [woman ordnance workers].

The post is No. 13, and its president is Mrs. Merrill Karsten, a member of the staff in the final inspection department. Before entering war work Mrs. Karsten was a practical nurse in the Springbrook tuberculosis sanitarium, Aurora.

The Elgin company has three plants, and employes of all of them contribute to and read the monthly house organ, the Watch Word.

A Child's Gifts Might Include Some of These

BY REA SEEGER.

Tiny tot delights from the shop of whimsey include such ideal gifts as musical teddy bears, the maestro cub himself not only equipped with an inner sprightly tune device but apparalled in a jaunty green felt jacket appliqued with felt edelweiss and leaves and a tie of tasseled crimson yarn. And, there's miniature stationery also gayly printed with a heart and flowers border in scarlet with scarlet lines to guide baby hand writing. Or a Bambi fawn with a yuletide necklace around his neck, speckles on his haunches, and perky tail and upturned ears to accentuate his full 17 inches of height.

There are mittens in scarlet and white, felt suspenders with appliqued flowers on the chest panel, hand knitted caps and scarfs in red, green, white, and navy ablaze with trim of flowers in contrasting colors, and a cunning little felt bag with long carrying straps also appliqued with felt flowers and yarn embroidery. Amusing costume jewelry pieces are of a leather and felt, tricky little things to pin to tiny lapels. A little horse will blink his eye lights when his tail is pinched; a rabbit has a tiny white cotton tail and long wiggly ears and a mushroom pin also boasts speckles to make it eye catching.

If you want more practical gifts, with the same lilting colors, embroidery, and appliqued motifs, all festive in scarlet white and green, see the vastly becoming small dresses, dirndl skirts, puffed sleeved peasant style snow white blouses, and the suspender skirts. They are enchanting dress up models to provide the right holiday spirit for little girls from 2 to 6.

Idamay Minotto's Marriage to Marine Officer Revealed

FROM Quantico, Va., comes news of the marriage there yesterday of Miss Idamay Minotto, daughter of James Minotto and of the late Mrs. Idamay Swift Minotto of Phoenix, Ariz., to Lt. George S. Walker of the marines, son of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Walker of Phoenix.

The ceremony took place at 5:30 p. m. in the post chapel of the marine corps base in Quantico, and the bride's father gave a small reception afterward at the Shoreham hotel in Washington, D. C. Among the guests present to congratulate Lt. Walker and his bride were her cousins, Lt. and Mrs. Gustavus F. Swift Jr., Col. John C. Mechem, Mrs. Chauncey Parker Jr. of Chicago, and Maj. Gen. and Mrs. Clifford L. Corbin.

The new Mrs. Walker is a granddaughter of the late Louis F. Swift of Lake Forest. Her first marriage to Lester Sanborn ended in a divorce. Lt. Walker has served in the marines for three years and has seen action at Guadalcanal and other parts of the south Pacific. He now is instructing at the marine corps school in Quantico, where he and his bride will live.

The 14 huge wooden crosses that make such an effective decoration in St. Chrysostom's church when topped with candles will be put in position down the aisle today and draped with smilax for the marriage of Miss Mary Bates Harrington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Bates Harrington, to Lt. [j. g.] James McClintock Snitzler, son of Mrs. James M. Snitzler. The Rev. Dudley Stark will read the ceremony at 4:30 p. m., and a reception will follow at the Fortnightly. Both the ceremony and reception will be small.

The bride will be attended by her sisters, Mrs. Jacob Bischof, and Miss Ann Porter Harrington, who returned from Washington, D. C., for the occasion. Harry L. Marshall of San Francisco will be his nephew's best man, and ushers will be David Dangler, James Brown IV., Carl Bingham Jr., and Mr. Bischof. One of the bridegroom's oldest friends, Ensign Aldis Browne Jr., was unable to get leave to usher, but his pretty wife came from Miami, Fla., in time for the bridal dinner last night and the wedding today.

As the bridegroom's leave was extended, he and his bride will be here until after Christmas, which they will celebrate in a family party at the Bischofs' Lake Forest home.

Southern smilax, cybotium ferns, and tall Swedish steel standards holding while snapdragons and snowball mums will be used to decorate Maj. Frederic McLaughlin's home in Lake Forest today for the marriage of his daughter, Barbara, and Yeoman Irving Kreutz of Darlington, Wis. The ceremony at 4:30 p. m. for members of the family and a few close friends will be followed by a larger reception at the Onwentsia club.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Irene Castle McLaughlin. There will be three 6 year old flower girls, Mr. Kreutz's cousin, Cynda Curry, and Coco and Kitten McLaughlin, among the attendants, who also will include the bride's brother, William Foote McLaughlin. Yeoman Kreutz and his bride will live in Lake Forest.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathan D. McClure of Geneva and their three younger children, Douglas, Barbara, and Ann, are in Cumberland, Md., for the marriage today of Lt. McClure Jr. and Miss Charloette Bender. The ceremony will take place at 6 p. m. in the Cumberland Lutheran church, and later the bride's parents, the Christopher C. Benders, will give a reception at the country club. Lt. McClure will bring his bride to Chicago Thursday for five days, and on the 26th his parents will entertain at tea for them at the Geneva Country club.

The marriage of Miss Barbara Lea Mitchell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Homer Mitchell of Evanston, to Cadet George Lawrence Stutz of the army air forces will take place at 8 o'clock tonight in St. Matthew's Episcopal church, Evanston, with a reception following in the Georgian hotel. Miss Marilee Elwood will be maid of honor, and William Warmington of the navy medical corps will be best man for Cadet Stutz, son of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Stutz of Evanston.

Dr. and Mrs. George Livingston Robinson have come from San Antonio, Tex., where Dr. Robinson is a visiting member of the faculty this year at Trinity university, for the marriage tonight of their daughter, Helen, and Lt. Tilton Davis Jr. The ceremony will take place at 8 o'clock in the Presbyterian Theological seminary chapel, with a reception following in the seminary commons. Miss Robinson's matron of honor will be Mrs. Warwick Woods Butler, the former Lucia Sellers, who is a cousin of Lt. Davis. Miss Charlotte Ann Fischer, the bride's cousin, is to be maid of honor, and Miss Virginia de Hart of Philadelphia will be bridesmaid. Sellers Davis will be his brother's best man, and among the ushers will be the bride's brother, David L. Robinson.

For her marriage tonight to Lt. [j. g.] Herbert Bricker, son of Dr. and Mrs. Albert E. Bricker of Downers Grove, Miss Jane Bevan Hoops will wear the bridal gown and veil in which her cousins, Mrs. Rutherford D. Brosious and Mrs. William S. Howe, were married. The ceremony will take place at 8:30 o'clock in the Children's chapel of the Winnetka Congregational church, with a reception following in the home of the Arthur M. Barretts of Winnetka, parents of Mrs. Brosious and Mrs. Howe.

Women's and Men's Evening Shoes to Go Off Ration List Today

Washington, D. C., Dec. 17 (AP).—The OPA came thru with some holiday cheer for the ladies today, but for harried husbands and fathers it means another bill for shoes.

Beginning tomorrow, the OPA announced, women's and misses' evening slippers of all types go off the ration list. The man of the house can spruce up in his dress clothes, too, for the new order also makes men's patent leather shoes available without a ration stamp.

The OPA said the action is being taken in time for holiday selling to help dealers dispose of evening wear shoes, slow to move because coupons have been saved for more essential types.

White Collar GIRL

BY RUTH MACKAY.

O. K.

Lila Hasper relates the embarrassment of a warm blooded steno who wore a pair of snuggies to work on a 1 below zero morning this week. In the office [which had been supplied with extra heat] she found them a little uncomfortable. So she slipped them off and put them in an O. K. and Return envelope.

The O. K. and Return envelope speedily went on its way unnoted by the steno until the end of the day when, after going the rounds of the various departments, the snuggies were returned with "O. K." written all over them.

Added Color.

Two service minded white collar girls, one a bookkeeper, Grace Clark, and the other a secretary, Dolores Fleschauer, are devoting several evenings a week to tinting the pictures service men develop and print at the U. S. O. club, 131 South Wabash avenue. Photography is a hobby with both girls, and now, with Christmas close at hand, they are lending added color to the camera club facilities at the U. S. O. for service men in Chicago. NORMA.

Women Patent Attorneys.

I thought perhaps your readers might be interested in the fact that there are in the United States at the present time 21 women patent attorneys registered to practice before the patent office. Of these, one is a Chicagoan, Bertha L. MacGregor. Also, there are two women patent brokers and agents in the United States, Elizabeth A. Krider of Washington, D. C., and Mary Lue of Los Angeles, Cal.

SGT. CHET L. SWITAL.

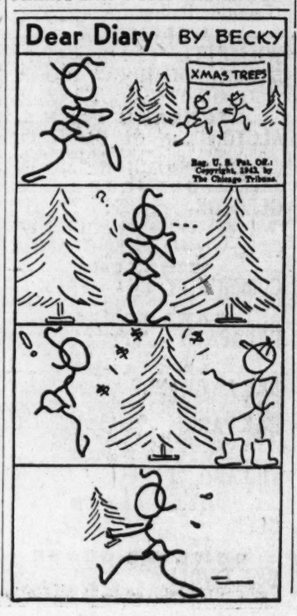

The Bosses at Play.

Impressions from "Christmas Spirits," the Chicago Bar association annual revel:

The aggregation of lawyers and judges on the stage—and the table of secretaries viewing the antics with no small amusement. . . . The service flag with 799 stars—about one for every five members. . . . The secretary of one of the former stars of "Christmas Spirits" watching it quietly without comment—her lawyer-boss is overseas.

The lawyer at our table describing the legal stenographer in his office whose age is in the 60s and and her tale of one employer who interviewed her. "What a pity," said he sorrowfully, "that a woman of your age should have to work." "Not at all," she interrupted briskly, "I like to work!" . . . The waiter, erroneously speaking of a "writ of demurrer," saying he "had had two years of law" and the observation of one of the barristers that if the waiter were serving a doctors' convention it would be two years of medicine.

"The Wolf of La Salle Street," a contributor to this column, looking quite lamblike between his pretty wife and good looking secretary. . . . The white haired attorney whose son, a script writer, was with Bob Hope on the African tour. . . . The manufacturer insisting that "women love repetitious tasks so they can day dream. In our company we've found that as soon as we change the routine so that it requires concentration the women don't like it" . . . and a chorus of feminine protests. . . . The sly dig in one of the skits regarding the higher pay of stenographers as compared to that of beginning lawyers. . . . The hot turkey dinner relished after a bout with the flu.

U. of C. Gifts in Six Months Are $589,325

The University of Chicago received $589,325 in gifts during the last six months, it was announced yesterday at mid-year commencement exercises in Rockefeller Memorial chapel.

One gift of $14,500 was made by the Rockefeller Foundation to cover a three year period for the ethno-history project. Three gifts for $10,000 each were made by the Farm Foundation, Oscar Mayer & Co., and the Armour laboratories. the announcement revealed.

Two hundred twenty bachelor, professional, and advanced degrees were conferred by the university yesterday at its 215th convocation. Khaki and navy blue uniforms dominated the ceremony, many of the graduates already having entered service with the army or navy. Of the 46 men graduated from the school of medicine, 24 are army men and 18 are in the navy.

Vice President Emery T. Filbey, taking the place of the university president, Dr. Robert M. Hutchins, conferred the degrees. The convocation speaker, Dr. A. Eustace Haydon, professor of comparative religion and a member of the new federated theological faculty, spoke on "Toward a New Synthesis in Culture."

Graduation exercises for 159 students of the University of Illinois medical school in Chicago were held yesterday afternoon in the new First Congregational church, 1613 Washington boulevard. Thirty-three graduates took the oath as officers in the navy's V-12 program for the training of medical students and 73 took the oath of officers under the army specialized training program. The commencement address was delivered by Dr. Donald C. Balfour, director of the Mayo Foundation.

Army and navy commissions today will be awarded 145 of the 434 graduates at Northwestern university's first mid-year commencement exercises in Scott hall on the Evanston campus. Kenneth F. Burgess, president of the board of trustees, will deliver the commencement address. The charge to graduates will be given by President Franklyn B. Snyder.

At the graduation exercises of Loyola university, at 10 a. m. today in the Madonna Della Strada chapel on the lake shore campus, 153 graduates from 20 states will receive degrees from the Rev. Joseph M. Egan, president. A high mass will precede the awarding of degrees.

Baptists Buy Lawson Estate in Wisconsin

The Northern Baptist convention has arranged to buy the 1,070 acre estate of the late Victor F. Lawson, newspaper publisher, at Green Lake, Wis., known as Lawsonia, and will dedicate it as a memorial to the cause of religious freedom, it was announced yesterday. The memorial will be known as Freedom Acres and will be controled by a new corporation, the American Baptist Assembly, it was said.

The estate, on which Mr. Lawson and subsequent developers spent several million dollars, will be devoted to Christian education and training, college extension courses, and related activities of the agencies of the Northern Baptist organization, said Dr. Luther Wesley Smith of Philadelphia, executive secretary of the American Baptist Publication society. The denomination's board of education is interested in 62 schools, colleges, and seminaries, including the Northern Baptist Seminary in Chicago and the divinity school of the University of Chicago. James L. Kraft of Chicago is chairman of the board of education committee in charge of the new development.

The Lawson property, which includes 40 buildings, is being acquired from the Continental-Illinois National Bank and Trust company, owner of the capital stock of the Lawsonia Operating company, which holds title to the estate, under a contract to purchase which will be fulfilled before Dec. 31, Charles H. Binney, vice president of the bank, said. The purchase price was not disclosed.

The Northern Baptist organization traces its development to Roger Williams and his fight for freedom of conscience against colonial theocracy in Massachusetts. His banishment in 1635 by the Massachusetts general court led to his founding of Rhode Island. Williams was baptized in his colony of Providence by Anabaptists who had come from continental Europe and England and who migrated to Rhode Island from other colonies.

The Baptists, Dr. Smith declared, had suffered imprisonment in Virginia and elsewhere because of their devotion to individual religious liberty free of repressive control by civil authorities. Their influence for the inclusion of a guarantee of religious freedom in the Constitution, as embraced in the Bill of Rights, was recognized, Dr. Smith emphasized, by no less authorities than Thomas Jefferson and James Madison.

The role of the church in the fight for full liberty of worship on American soil will be memorialized at Lawsonia which, Dr. Smith said, will serve the 7,500 churches of the denomination and their 1,500,000 members. The first church conferences there are scheduled for the summer of 1944.

The present equipment includes an 81 room modern fireproof hotel, completely furnished; 16 summer homes; a casino seating 450 with a second floor of 13 bed chambers, and other buildings. It is planned to expand facilities after the war to provide for an additional 1,000 guests, Dr. Smith said.

Thru the Looking Glass

Of all straight floral fragrance, honeysuckle seems to us one of the most endearing and interesting. Of course it may be that our favorite version of honeysuckle is unusual; we know that while it is sweet it isn't boresome and the sachet in it, for one thing, is something to rave about. It's utterly beautiful.

This honeysuckle is the product of one of the great houses; it's one of a small series of florals that includes an unusual clover and a spring bouquet and the scent that gives each sequence its name is captured in just about everything for the bath, from soap to sachet.

The honeysuckle sequence is pretty to look at—in bright, butterfly spattered boxes and bottles that have all the gift appeal any woman could want. But the things are even prettier to smell and use. The soaps are particularly charming, with a butterfly sculptured on each cake, and in quality they're everything you could ask. They make a creamy lather quickly, they're heavily perfumed, and they're easy on the skin. One box of three cakes of this is a nice gift in itself, but not an expensive one.

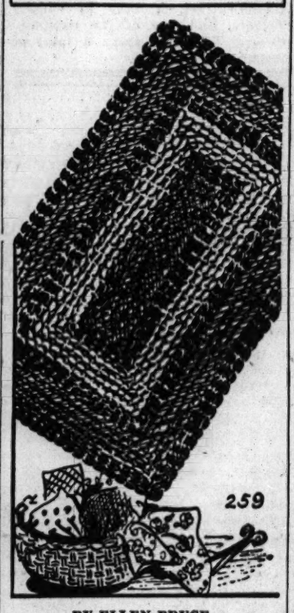

There is a straight perfume in this honeysuckle, a beautiful, lush perfume that has all that southern charm you read about. It's the perfect choice for the feminine woman. The way this fragrance has been caught in the other preparations—the sachet, for instance, the bath powder, talc, cream cologne, and regular cologne—is impressive. There is a beautiful water softener in the family, too.

You can buy these honeysuckle charmers in good groups as well as singly. They're a breath of southern summer that will be welcome on a nippy Christmas morning.

Quaint Rag Rug

BY ELLEN BRUCE.

There is nothing like a crocheted rag rug to complete a picture of cheerful, domestic tranquility. Such rugs are so easy to make that every home should boast at least one. Strips from old rugs may be cut, dyed any color, and combined with strips of printed material. A large, wooden crochet hook may be used.

For instructions in crocheting the rag rug, No. 259, send 10 cents in stamps or coin, plus 2 cents to cover mailing cost, to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 Fifth avenue, New York City.

Shirley Effenbach Shows Real Talent in Piano Recital

BY ALBERT GOLDBERG.

Shirley Effenbach, who gave a piano recital at Kimball hall last night, has temperament and technic, both in abundant quantities. That the former sometimes verges on unbridled impetuosity, and the latter sometimes degenerates into uncontroled speed, is symptomatic of youth. Both defects can be remedied, and when they are, what is now a finely talented student will have become a sound and interesting artist.

There are few dull moments in Miss Effenbach's playing as it is. Even when she runs away with the Bach-Busoni Toccata and Fugue in D minor it is exhilarating. And you can admire her full round tone quality even while you wish she had better taste than to program Ignaz Friedman's unpardonable transcription of Gluck's "Dance of the Happy Spirits." Brahms was treated well when he was dramatic, as in the E-flat minor Intermezzo of Opus 118 and the Scherzo, Opus 4, in the same key. But the soul probing A major Intermezzo was so literal as to be meaningless.

Rachmaninoff is congenial to her present style, but she will have to acquire a rhythmic balance wheel before she can play the E flat Etude Tableau effectively. The climax of the short program properly came last with a dashing, sonorous publication of Prokofieff's concise and gusty Third Sonata.

A new oratorio, "A Christmas Lament," with music by Bethuel Gross and text by Thomas Curtis Clark, will have its first Chicago performance under the composer's direction at St. James Methodist church, Ellis avenue and 46th street, at 4:30 p. m. tomorrow. The work had its premiere performance in Akron, O., last week, where the composer is director of music at the University of Akron.

Kitchen Pointers

By Mary Meade

"How do you use dehydrated bananas?" This question has been asked several times during the last few days. Dehydrated bananas in the market now come in two forms—flakes and strips. One product is from Mexico, the other from Brazil. Their chief use is for baby food, since fresh bananas generally are not available now. But they may be used in cookies, pies, milk shakes, and in other ways in which fresh bananas are used. They are easily rehydrated by the addition of warm milk or water.

Lard is the best shortening to use in pastry making. This is the consensus among authorities on baking, and answers many a question put to the cooking department. Luckily, lard is only 2 brown points a pound on December's ration point charts. Other shortening is 5 points. . . .

Here's the solution to stretching that 10 point cheddar cheese: Slice it thinly and serve skimpy portions . . . make your Welsh "rabbit" a cheese sauce, instead of all cheese. Use a white sauce as base . . . season the macaroni well with salt and pepper, add onion and maybe some green pepper, and it will taste wonderful with only half the usual amount of cheese. Don't forget that if you serve a cheese dish you won't need meat in the same meal. Get acquainted with lower point brick, gouda, and edam cheeses.

Several Tales Interwoven in Superb Movie

"FLESH AND FANTASY."

By Mae Tinée.

Good Morning!

Here's entertainment that gets you nowhere but hands you a darned good time on its vagabond journey.

As the ads say, "Flesh and Fantasy" is for those who do—or do not—believe in dreams and fortune tellers. . . . It offers lush evidence that either or both can be right—or wrong.

Several stories, involving different sets of people, are cleverly introduced and dovetailed thru the medium of two men, who meet in a club and read a book of strange tales.

Robert Benchley, as a man-about-town, starts the ball rolling. . . . There he sits in his club, over numerous Scotches 'n' sodas, all a-dither because of a dream he'd dreamed the night before. . . . A friend to whom he tells his nightmare pooh poohs—and brings forth the aforementioned volume from the library. . . .

And so—to the story of a Cinderella [Betty Field] who follows strange advice and finds happiness. . . . And to the story of a prominent tycoon [Edward G. Robinson] who puts faith in the prophecy of a fortune teller [Thomas Mitchell] that he will commit murder. . . . And to the adventures of a circus performer [Charles Boyer] and a lovely mysterious lady of his dreams [Barbara Stanwyck]. Their lives merge because of—ah, of WHAT? Should I tell you? NO!

Acting and direction are smooth. Suspense is electrically maintained. The film is lavishly and appropriately staged and costumed. . . .

I enjoyed every minute of "Flesh and Fantasy."

Sinatra Gets a Penny for His Thoughts and Gives Out with a Few

Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 17 [Special].—Frank Sinatra turned on a youthful audience during his first appearance at a theater here today and flung a challenge at a heckler who flipped a penny onto the stage. Halting his song and the orchestra, the singer, who weighs 135 pounds, snapped:

"If you want to throw pennies, why don't you save them and buy war stamps? And if you still want to throw pennies, I'd like to see that guy backstage. If I can't lick him I've got a big boy with me who can. Now we're going to get along, or aren't we? For if we're not I can go home and play with my little girl."

They got along after that, but not quietly.

Looking at Hollywood

By Hedda Hopper

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Dec. 17.—If Nunnally Johnson can get Orson Welles to play in and produce it, he'll buy "Goodnight, Sweet Prince," the life of John Barrymore by Gene Fowler. Orson never has been known as the great lover, and if he does it, the picture would have to stress Barrymore's acting ability rather than the love angle. How could we disassociate one from the other—those of us who saw "Redemption" eight times and "The Jest" six? There's no doubt about it—it would be an interesting combination and would leave Errol Flynn right out in the cold, cold world. He wanted to do it, too. . . . It's going to be a gay day for our town when reindeer begin arriving from Canada. Yes, sir, they're being shipped down for the Bing Crosby and Bob Hope picture "Road to Utopia," to be used in a gag Santa Claus sequence thought up by H. Allen Smith, and that gag will set the studio back $27,000. . . . It's option time in the Smith family. He doesn't know whether to linger or return to his quiet mode of life back east. His wife calls him "a sensitive cucumber."

Off the Sidewalk.

When I gave a lift to a young man on crutches I didn't know he was Leif Argo, who left "Oklahoma!" for a dancing job in "Incendiary Blonde." He broke his foot when he tripped over a loose board. A dancing pal in the same picture got his face stepped on by Betty Hutton, but that, too, was an accident. . . . Les Brown parks himself and his band at Paramount for "Bring on the Girls" with Veronica Lake and Sonny Tufts. . . . Milton Berle, who was built up into a nice guy, returned the compliment by firing the guy who did it, as of Christmas day. Many's the time I've thrown him out of my office for taking up time to tell me what a swell person Berle is. This proves it.

Try to Top This.

Not since "A Pretty Girl Is Like a Melody" have I watched a scene that will top that—until I saw Esther Williams' swimming sequence in "Mr. Co-Ed," with a bevy of mermaids swimming on or under the water, plus dancing girls beside the pool. It will have fireworks and fountains such as some of you saw at the world's fair—a curtain of fire and another of water. Esther Williams swims in what looks like her own epidermis, with diamond shaped mirrors pasted on her. They did a complete engineering job in the largest studio at Metro, built a new camera, inclosed it in a steel crane that does almost as many tricks as the girls in the water. It's the darnedest thing you ever saw. Esther is a refreshing American girl who's learned to act as well as swim. Her swim-in is none other than the national champion backstroker, Edith Motridge. They've been five years dreaming and planning this sequence, and if it doesn't knock your eye out, we might just as well stop making pictures.

Why Linger?

Ann Richards, who played opposite Brian Donlevy in "America," spends Christmas holidays in New York with relatives she's never seen. Her mother's in Australia, her brother Rodney's been a Jap prisoner for eight months, so there's no use of her staying home. . . . The Joe E. Browns celebrate their 28th anniversary Christmas eve—Joe in China, his wife here. . . . Mary O'Hara, author of "My Friend Flicka," has sold "Thunderhead," sequel to "Flicka," to Twentieth Century. . . . Buddy Lighton is housing Buddy Rogers' four polo ponies at his Nevada ranch, while Lighton rents himself a horse to ride here. He'll produce "A Tree Grows in Brooklyn." Incidentally, his wife, Hope Loring, is off crutches. She's now decorating a cane.

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
Pass	1 diamond	Pass	1 spade
Pass	2 no trump	Pass	3 no trump
Pass	Pass	Pass

West, taking warning from the original diamond bid, led the heart jack. The king won and the two top diamonds were cashed by declarer. When the break was revealed the suit was abandoned, and a spade was led toward dummy. The ten lost to the king and East returned a club. Declarer put up the ace and led his last spade. The drop of West's jack was fortunate, and now the entire spade suit could be run.

Declarer now cashed his queen and ace of hearts, in that order. This left all hands with two cards each. Dummy's were a diamond and a club; declarer's were the K-J of clubs. On a club lead from dummy, declarer faced this proposition: East's follow-suit plays and discards had revealed that he had started with exactly four spades, four hearts, one diamond and four clubs. West, who had discarded a diamond and was now marked with the diamond queen, also had started with four clubs. Hence, after East played the club ten on the lead from dummy, his remaining card was either the club queen or a lower club. West's one club might be the queen, or it might not. This made it an absolutely even bet for and against the club finesse, but with this important qualification: if declarer finessed and lost, West would win the last two tricks, whereas if declarer put up the king and failed to drop the queen, he at least would have taken one of the last tricks. On this analysis, declarer refused to finesse and was duly rewarded.

$5 PRIZE RECIPE

Apples on a Stick.
[10 to 12 apples.]

2 7-ounce packages of chocolate chips
1 15-ounce can sweetened condensed milk
Few drops vanilla
10 to 12 firm, medium eating apples
10 to 12 wooden skewers

Melt chocolate chips in top of double boiler over simmering water. Stir until all are melted. Add condensed milk, mix thoroly, and cook over simmering water for three minutes. Add vanilla, stirring well. Remove from heat. Stick pointed end of skewers into blossom end of well washed and dried apples. Dip in hot chocolate mixture, turning to coat well. Lift out. INSTALMENT XXX.

BROCK SHOT.

Dunn rose and tested his revolver. He made sure the draw was easy.

Neal spoke to all in the room. "I tried to talk Brock out of this, boys. Allan offered to meet him half way, but he wouldn't have it. Remember that, whatever happens."

They walked out of the place to the sidewalk. Dunn crossed the street to the doorway of a vacant store. "I'll wait for him here," he said.

"Luck," Driskill wished him, and took a position beside a hitching block 40 yards farther down the street.

Neal moved up to the postoffice entrance. One or two men passed along the walk on their way home to supper. A horseman cantered down the road. After that, traffic died away.

The clump of boots sounded on the sidewalk. A man came out of the growing dusk, two others trailing him 15 yards in the rear.

Brock was the man in the lead. "Where is he at?" the cattle detective demanded hoarsely.

"He's down the street," Neal answered quietly. "Still time to turn back, Brock."

"Quit skulking and show yourself," Brock cried, and jerked out his gun.

Neal stopped the men in the rear supporting Brock. "Far enough, gentlemen. We're seeing fair play. You're not in this."

"That's all right." They crowded into the entry beside MacGowan, to be out of the way of bullets.

The sound of a .45 went crashing up the street. A second and a third shot picked up the echo of it. Neal saw Brock's body plunge into the dust.

Dunn moved forward, very slowly, his gaze clamped to the huddled figure on the ground. Already men were coming out of stores and saloons.

"He asked for this," the rustler said. "I couldn't help it. But he had it coming. Brock sold his saddle when he killed Norwood and Thorne for pay."

"That's right," a voice shouted.

Finn Wood was one of those present.

"Did you see this killing?" Neal asked him.

"Yes. Brock passed me farther up the street. I didn't know what was up, but I heard one of the men with him say, 'You'll get him sure.' His gun was out before the first shot sounded, but I don't know which of them started the shooting."

"He did, as it happened," Dunn said. "But that doesn't matter. He was out to get me—had sent word for me to be ready."

Neal corroborated that. "You had better give yoreself up to the sheriff," he advised. "Plenty of witnesses will prove you couldn't avoid this."

A minute late Sheriff Cullen arrived on the scene. He listened to the evidence and took Dunn to the prosecuting attorney, who released the rustler on bail offered by Neal and the owner of the Round Up.

Neal had ridden into Sundog in a gay and happy mood, an accepted lover returning from a meeting with his sweetheart. He left it feeling depressed and unhappy.

That his enemies would not listen to reason Neal knew. Whatever he did turned out wrong and could be twisted to support the prejudices of those who despised and hated him.

As he took the short cut hill trail for the ranch he smiled sardonically. He was thinking how every move he made mired him more. Even the trip taken to the scene of the stage holdup had been given a false construction. It was claimed that he had gone there to blot out any sign he might have left at the time of the robbery. He had killed Blackburn on account of a row about the division of the spoils. He had obtained an appointment as deputy United States marshal to protect his rustler friends. To keep Russ Miller from betraying him he had saved the boy's life and later arranged a jail break for him.

Neal could not feel that he had been wrong-headed and obstinate because he had stood up for the rights of the little fellows. A man had to do right as he saw it.

His relation with Eleanor complicated the difficulty. Some of these men's wives were her friends. They visited back and forth. The managers and owners of the big outfits were in constant association with her brother. If she married Neal she would be cut off from any social outlet.

Pete Driskill left him alone with his thoughts while they were taking the steep hill trails. But as soon as they could ride two abreast he began to ask questions about the changes that had come to the Flood valley since he had left.

"Ten years from now there won't be any very big ranches left," Neal explained to him. "The large outfits depend on free grass, and that's going. The wise stockman now must breed up his cattle, buy and fence land, and raise hay. I think the smartest cowman I know is Austin Reynolds. Men like Cross can't see the handwriting on the wall. They will stick to the old way till they go broke."

Next day Neal drove across to Squaw Creek to see Janet. Presently she sent the children out to dig some potatoes for dinner, and as soon as they had gone congratulated Neal on his engagement.

"Eleanor is the finest girl I know," she said. "If you are not happy it won't be her fault?"

"No, it will be mine," he assented. "I'm a little worried about it, Janet. If she marries me she'll have to give up so much."

"Does that matter, since she loves you?"

"I don't know. I'm going to do well. That's not the trouble. It's my reputation and my standing. They get worse all the time."

"I heard about yesterday. Some people blame you. Tell me about it."

He related to her what had occurred at Sundog.

"I don't see how you could be blamed for that, except maybe for going on Allan Dunn's bond. He's one of the Gap gang. Did you have to do that?"

"I felt I must. If he stayed in jail there I think he might have been lynched, and he really wasn't to blame. . . . How did you hear about it?"

"From Finn Wood. He thought you did right. And this morning Eleanor and Austin were here. He brought me my contract for the school. Austin did not give an opinion, but I don't think he agrees with Mr. Cross and some of the others about how guilty you are, tho he doesn't at all approve of you."

BAR OF IRON IN GIRL'S DRESSER SHOWN TO JURY

State Begins Case in Brother's Killing.

BY CARL WIEGMAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Burlington, Ky., Dec. 17.—A mysterious iron bar about 18 inches long, found in Joan Kiger's dresser drawer along with her silk underwear, was placed in evidence today at her trial on a charge of murder in the Boone county Circuit court.

The 16 year old defendant chewed gum calmly thru all the day's session of court, and her nonchalance was unbroken even when the prosecutor told the story of the killing last Aug. 17 of her father, Carl C. Kiger, 49, and her brother Jerry, 6.

Joan and her mother, Mrs. Jennie Kiger, 49, were indicted jointly for the two slayings. They asked for separate trials, and the state elected to try Joan first. A jury was completed today to hear the charge that she killed her brother.

Policeman Identifies Bar.

State Highway Policeman Melvin Huff, one of the first witnesses for the state, identified the iron bar, and said he found it beside Joan's "slips and other silk things" when he searched her room across the hall from her parents' room, where Carl Kiger was slain in his bed.

Also in the drawer was a pair of boy's gloves, the policeman said. State's Atty. Raymond L. Vincent said later testimony would be concerned with the iron bar and gloves. Farmers in the courtroom said the bar is a wrench used to tighten silo hoops.

Another witness for the state today told how Kiger came to him shortly before he was slain and asked advice about the problem of handling his daughter. This witness, Robert Mayo Sr., a neighbor, said Kiger asked him:

"Bob, did you ever have any trouble with your daughter—any trouble about her going with boys?"

"Bring 'Em Home First."

"No," Mayo said he replied. "I just told her any boys she went with would have to be brought home so we could see who they were."

"That's what I wanted to ask, because I did have a little trouble," Kiger replied, according to the witness.

Mayo told of arriving at the Kigers' summer home shortly after the shooting. He said Joan had driven to his home half a mile away a little after midnight, and had cried: "Mother and daddy and Jerry have been shot."

"My son and I got in her car and we drove to the Kiger home," Mayo continued. "Joan said, 'be careful, somebody's shooting in all the rooms.' We went upstairs into Mr. and Mrs Kiger's room and Mrs. Kiger handed me a gun.

"'My God, who done this?' I asked her, because I could see Carl was dead. She said 'will you look and see if I'm shot very bad, and go see if Jerry is hurt.' So I went in the next room and Jerry looked like he was trying to crawl and I laid him over on his back.

Tells Her He's Shot.

"Then I told Mrs. Kiger 'Yes, Jerry's shot thru the head.' Who done this? And he said, 'It was an intruder' and she turned to Joan and said, 'Did you have a nightmare?' but Joan didn't answer. Then I called the sheriff and the state police and the undertaker."

Mayo's son, Robert Jr., 19, told of finding two .38 caliber pistols and six empty cartridges in the cistern under the back porch.

"I brought 'em up and gave 'em to pop," he said.

Other witnesses who arrived soon after the shooting quoted Mrs. Kiger as having told her daughter, "You go down and get the money." They said Joan went downstairs and got $1,450 in bills pinned to the back of a sofa.

Bed Not Slept In.

The witnesses also said Joan's bed had not been slept in, altho she told them she went to bed an hour and a half before the shooting. They quoted her as saying she shot at an intruder on a staircase landing, but said they could find no bullet marks there.

Policeman Huff said 15 empty cases were found and 14 bullets were traced. Of these, six entered the body of Kiger, two were found in the mattress of his bed, three in the headboard of the bed, two in the body of Jerry, and one in Mrs. Kiger's hip.

The state charges all the pistols used had been given to Kiger by the police of Covington, where Kiger was vice mayor and a potent political figure.

Two Sons Assist Mother.

Mrs. Kiger, who was wounded in the hip during the shooting in which her husband and son were slain, still uses crutches. She was assisted up the courthouse stairs by her two sons, Lt. Joseph Kiger, 23, of the marine corps, and Gunner's Mate John Kiger, 20, of the navy. Both were given leaves to attend the trial.

Sixty-four prospective jurors were examined before the jury was completed. Many veniremen were excused by Judge Ward Yager when they explained they had cattle and hogs to care for and could not hire helpers. Fifteen were excused after they said they had conscientious objections to the death penalty.

Gets Divorce

MRS. NANCY M. GRECO.

Charles Greco, 32 years old, would rather stay out with the boys and play cards than come home, and when his wife, Nancy, 26, of 6459 Oxford avenue, protested, he deserted her and his daughter, Susan, 5, she testified in obtaining a divorce yesterday in Circuit court. At the request of her attorney, Samuel M. Starr, Judge Robert J. Dunne gave her custody of the child and ordered Greco, who lives at 6240 Oliphant avenue, to pay $10 a week for support.

HOLDUP SUSPECT RELEASED IN 1941 ARRESTED BY FBI

Max Somach, an ex-convict and bookies' guard who was freed in 1941 in the Criminal court of extradition proceedings to stand trial in Milwaukee, Wis., for the robbery of a theater there, was arrested yesterday by agents of the federal bureau of investigation for the same holdup.

Max Somach.

Federal agents seized Somach on a warrant charging him with flight across state lines to avoid prosecution for the holdup. He immediately was taken before United States Commissioner Edwin K. Walker. He indicated he again would resist his return to Milwaukee. Commissioner Walker set his bond at $25,000 and continued hearings on the charge until Dec. 29.

Somach is accused of being one of two men who held up the Riverside theater in Milwaukee on April 2, 1941, and escaped with $7,200.

G. O. P. OF COUNTY ACTS ON TICKETS IN THREE FIELDS

BY GEORGE TAGGE.

Cook county Republicans went into action on a broad front yesterday, while Democrats scheduled a meeting of state leaders for Dec. 23 to discuss who shall be pitted against the nearly complete G. O. P. slate.

At a meeting of the 80 city, ward, and country township committeemen, the Republicans:

1. Authorized Chairman John T. Dempsey to appoint a committee to recommend candidates for state's attorney, sheriff, and other local offices.

2. Agreed to caucus in each of the 10 congressional districts here to choose candidates for congress, delegates and alternates for the 1944 national convention, and central committeemen.

3. Indorsed the state ticket headed by Gov. Dwight Green for reëlection and Richard J. Lyons for United States senator.

Rips Democratic Fumbling.

Indicative of growing Republican strength, Chairman Dempsey gave Cook county Democrats a verbal shellacking before the committeemen in closed session.

"We want a good ticket made up of candidates who can win and reflect credit upon the Republican party," Dempsey said. "The Democrats seem to be having great difficulty in deciding upon candidates.

"In the sheriff's office vacancy the majority on the county board has been waiting a long time for the Democratic boss to tell them whom they should appoint.

"The Democrats could not induce a reputable business man to take the job because such men know they would be only a front if appointed.

"If the impasse continues, we will be glad to recommend any one of several Republicans who can clean up the mess and the Republican county committee will back him up in shouldering responsibility for the result."

Confident in Leadership.

Dempsey was overruled in his attempt to have committeemen in various sections name colleagues to compose the subcommittee on candidates. He was given the power amid speeches expressing confidence in his leadership. The appointments probably will be made next week, Dempsey said.

In suggesting congressional district caucuses, Dempsey said the party must have delegates and alternates who will stand together without faltering at the 1944 national convention to give Illinois its maximum power.

"Regardless of delegates' personal preference for Presidential candidates, after full discussion the delegates should be willing to abide by caucus decision as to who gets the support of Illinois," Dempsey said.

One committeeman for each congressional district was appointed to set the date for a caucus.

Seeks Support for Stratton.

Only two dissenting votes were cast in the indorsement of the state ticket. Henry A. Gardner of New Trier township and Merle H. Potter of River Forest said they were opposed more to the procedure by which candidates were selected than to the candidates.

Potter spoke in behalf of State Treasurer William G. Stratton, an announced opponent of the administration choice for secretary of state, Arnold P. Benson, president pro tem of the Illinois senate.

Stratton is receiving overtures to induce him to run instead for the Supreme court clerkship, and has left the door open to return to the regular organization fold.

Custody Denied

MRS. HELEN DOOLEY.

Mrs. Helen Dooley, 26 years old, a typist, was denied the custody of two of her children, John Jr., 5, and Daniel Michael, 3, yesterday by Judge Robert J. Dunne in Circuit court, when her husband, John, 29, of 4852 Quincy street, a shipping clerk, denied the paternity of a third child, Mary Frances, 7 months old. Judge Dunne directed Dooley to keep the two boys, and Mrs. Dooley the girl, and denied temporary allimony requested by the wife. The couple was married Oct 30, 1937, and separated June 28, 1943. Mrs. Dooley's divorce bill, which charges cruelty, will be heard Jan. 13.

FREED IN QUIRK TRIAL, SEIZED BY MILITARY POLICE

John Williams Taken in Texas Auto Chase.

John Joseph Williams, south side handbook operator acquitted Monday on a charge of murdering Martin [Sonny Boy] Quirk, is under arrest in Texas on a charge of aiding and abetting the escape from Camp Wolters of his former gambling partner, Pvt. Harry Roberts.

Williams was arrested Thursday night as he raced along a highway toward Mineral Wells, four miles from the camp. An army officer had seen him stowing Roberts into the trunk of the car and sounded an alarm.

Moved to Fort Worth Jail.

Last night J. R. Wright, United States marshal at Fort Worth, transferred Williams to the county jail at Fort Worth. He said Williams will be arraigned today before United States Commissioner R. H. Milam.

Chicago friends said Williams took a plane to Dallas Thursday after saying he wanted to see Roberts on business. Arriving in Dallas, Williams rented an automobile and drove to Camp Wolters, where he obtained a pass to the nonrestricted area and visited Roberts in a hospital ward for more than an hour. Then he drove to Mineral Wells.

About dusk he returned to the camp, parked the car in the rear of the hospital, stowed Roberts in the baggage compartment, and was overhauled by military police on motorcycles within a mile or so.

Silent on Motives.

When Marshal Wright asked his purpose in trying to slip Roberts out of the camp, Williams refused to explain.

Policemen Charles Edmonson and Clay Dyer of Mineral Wells quoted Williams as saying he did not know Roberts was in the back of the car when he drove from the camp.

Army officers said Roberts, invalided with a slight ailment, could have gone into Mineral Wells on a pass if he had asked.

VOGEL GETS OFF ONE WARM SPOT TO TRY ANOTHER

Eddie Vogel, head of the slot machine racket for the Guzik syndicate, was speeding toward Florida last night after refusing for the second time to testify before the Cook county grand jury investigating gambling.

Eddie Vogel.

He previously refused to testify before the jury Dec. 2, on the ground that his testimony might tend to incriminate him. He was told to return yesterday. He did, accompanied by his attorney, George Bieber. Vogel paced back and forth in the jury anteroom while waiting.

Two hours later he got into the jury room. A few minutes later he emerged, all smiles, with instructions to return Jan. 27, and darted for a taxi to catch a Florida train.

The jury yesterday returned two indictments against accused gamblers in the Town hall district, William Nichol, alleged to operate books at 1213 Wilson avenue and 4654 Clifton avenue, and Manuel Kemp, accused of violations at 916 Buena avenue and 4226 Broadway.

OPA Sues Liquor Firm; Asks $483,978 Damages

A triple damage suit for violation of price ceilings was filed in federal District court yesterday against W. M. Culhane & Co., 176 West Adams street, brokers in whisky receipts, and five of the company officers. The suit seeks a total of $483,978 in damages.

BY FRANK NORRIS.

Catholic High school came out of Joliet to eliminate Fenwick of Oak Park from the tenth annual St. George pre-season senior basketball tournament last night in Evanston, 35 to 25. The second night of the tourney attracted 750 to the St. George gymnasium.

Center Jim Sticklen with 12 points and Guard Ray Burien with 11 were the Hilltoppers' pacemakers as they qualified for the quarter-final round this evening.

Joliet came from behind after the Friars went into a first quarter lead of 6 to 5. Catholic, using a fast breaking offense, with Burien popping in five points in the second quarter, took a 14 to 13 lead at the half.

Joliet Stalls It Out.

The Hilltoppers really began to connect in the third period, with Burien and Sticklen leading the way. The attack netted 13 points and a 27 to 19 third quarter margin.

The Friars tried hard in the final period, but expert ball handling by Joliet enabled it to stall for the final three minutes. During this time it held Fenwick to a free throw. Joliet scored eight points to Fenwick's six in the final quarter.

Fenwick's two forwards, Bill McElroy and Jim Walsh, kept the Friars in the game until midway in the third period. Each scored seven points.

St. George Wins, 50 to 38.

St. George, defending north section champion of the Catholic league, was too powerful for St. Philip, defeating the Gaels, 50 to 38, in the second contest. Co-Capt. Don Sherwood, 6 foot 2 inch Dragon center, who excells in one hand push shots, tossed in 20 points on nine field goals and two free throws. Bob [Whitey] Jones, star of St. George's football victories over Phillips and St. Michael, scored 13 points before he was banished on fouls in the final quarter.

Mount Carmel, defending Catholic league and city-wide champion, had too much staying power for a fighting St. Mel five, subsequently winning, 43 to 33. The losers barged into a lead of 9 to 5 midway in the first quarter, but the Caravan rallied to take a 21 to 17 advantage at the half.

With Frank Lake turning on the power in the second half, Mount Carmel soared ahead and at one time led, 41 to 29. Lake scored seven baskets for the night. Don Spehn collected 13 points for St. Mel. Lineups:

Steve Warga Jr., an air lines radio operator of Miami, Fla., took the half-way lead yesterday in the annual $5,000 Miami Open. His 139 total was two strokes better than the 36 hole score posted by Joe Zarhardt, defense plant worker of Norristown, Pa.

Warga Takes Over Lead in Miami Open

Miami, Fla., Dec. 17 (AP).—Steve Warga Jr. of Miami managed to put together a par 70 on the rain soaked, wind swept Miami Springs municipal golf course today to take the half way lead in the $5,000 Miami open tournament with a 36 hole 139.

The first round pacemaker, Craig Wood of Mamaroneck, N. Y., came in with a second round score of 75 for a total of 143. Warga trailed by a stroke yesterday to Wood's opening 68.

Warga, an air lines radio operator who moved over to the night shift this week in order that he could compete, was making his bid for his biggest golfing victory since he became a professional seven years ago. He formerly was of Peekskill, N. Y.

The Chicago Blackhawks, who watched the Toronto Maple Leafs take a 4 to 1 whipping Thursday night at the hands of the refurbished Detroit Red Wings, tonight will see if they can do as well against the Leafs when they meet the Toronto lads in Toronto in the front end of a week-end home and home series. After the game the teams will entrain for Chicago to meet tomorrow night in Chicago Stadium.

The engagement tonight will start with the competitors in a third place tie, with the Hawks enjoying a victory edge of 2 to 1 in the season play to date. The Leafs beat the Hawks, 4 to 1, in the Chicago season opener, Oct. 31; the Hawks beat the Leafs in Toronto on Nov. 13 and again in Chicago last Sunday night by a score of 3 to 2. The success the Hawks accomplished on Nov. 13 was their last away from home and one of a pair of victories the Chicagoans have been able to register away from their West Madison street ring.

Another Big Crowd.

Regardless of the outcome of the match in Toronto tonight, there will be another whopper crowd in Chicago Stadium tomorrow night. In the Chicago season opener 17,124 saw the Leafs win. That was the largest crowd ever to view a National league season opener, but the total was topped when the Leafs returned last Sunday night. On that occasion 17,365, largest crowd in the league this season, turned out for another look at the Leafs.

Going into tonight's meeting the showings of the Hawks and the Leafs against A-1 competition indicate the present tie is accurately representative. In 18 games the Leafs have accumulated 75 goals and the Hawks have accounted for 67 in two fewer engagements.

Hawks' Line Effective.

The Hawks' leading line is far ahead of the Leafs' leading trio, even tho the Hawks have played two fewer games. Bill Mosienko, Clint Smith, and Doug Bentley have totaled 77 points, made up of 32 goals and 45 assists. Lorne Carr, Gus Bodnar, and Bob Davidson, Toronto's No. 1 forwards, have scored 24 times and have accounted for 40 assists.

The player whom the Hawks fear the most, however, is not a forward. It is Babe Pratt, rugged defense man who frequently barges out of his defense zone to make things tough for the opposition. Tho a defense man, Babe is seventh among the league's point scorers, with nine goals and 14 assists.

If the Hawks win tonight that will make three road victories for the season and that is as many as the Red Wings and the Leafs have won away from home. The league leading Montreal Canadiens have won four away from home, altho they are handicapped because they have several players who do not cross the Canadian border.

RUFFIN FLOORS ANGOTT; LOSES BOUT ON POINTS

New York, Dec. 17 (AP).—Sammy Angott, N. S. A. lightweight champion, punched out a 10 round decision over Bobby Ruffin tonight in Madison Square Garden. Angott scaled 137; Ruffin, 135½.

Down for a one count in the first round, Sammy took the play away from the Long Island youngster most of the rest of the way, staggered him twice, and won by a clear cut margin.

A crowd of 11,844 chipped in for a gross gate of $30,784.

COMDR. GENE TUNNEY recently was quoted in dispatches from the South Pacific as advocating the abolition of college football for the duration. . . . That is an old theme with the commander, but a few nights before he left for the Pacific he asked this department to correct the impression that he was hostile to football or any other competitive sport. . . . He said he had been misquoted in the press and his remarks carried only in part or distorted. . . . Apparently he has been misquoted again. . . . A few hours after Mr. Tunney had let loose his blast on football from the Pacific, Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox was quoted as saying the navy was entirely satisfied with the conduct of football by colleges and universities having naval units and had no plans for a change of policy. . . . It will pain the commander no end to learn that many of the universities which dropped their athletic programs because of anticipated man power shortages and transportation difficulties will resume full scale activities in the immediate future. . . . Tunney has been away so long he perhaps doesn't know that even the little group of sports writers who thought they would be acclaimed as patriots by crusading for the abandonment of athletics have given up the fight.

Clarence Dykstra, a 4-F from Racine, not the university president, is a forward on the Wisconsin basketball squad. . . . Bud Taylor, once one of the greatest bantamweight fighters in the world, has left his old home in Terre Haute, Ind., to join his 17 year old daughter, Barbara Jean, in Los Angeles. . . . Maj. Frederic McLaughlin, owner of the Chicago Blackhawks, gives a $10 hat to each Hawk who performs the "hat trick," the scoring of three goals in a game. . . . In past years hat purchases were not made until three players rated. . . . Then Press Agent Joe Farrell would take $30 and lead the lads to a haberdashery. . . . Before the deal was completed Farrell would point out that while $30 would buy three $10 hats it also would buy four $7.50 numbers. . . . Thus Mr. Farrell, who cannot skate, would score as well in the haberdasher's as the hockey players. . . . He tried it on Cully Dahlstrom, Doug Bentley, and Fido Purpur the other day, but instead of voting him the hat they voted him the best dressed man on the team with his old hat. . . . Basketball double headers which now draw near capacity crowds to Chicago Stadium attracted only 342 paid customers when Judge John Sbarbaro and Arthur Morse presented the first one at a west side armory six years ago.

GIANTS SET TO HURL 3D STRIKE TO REDSKINS

Finish Practice for Tomorrow's Game.

BY EDWARD PRELL.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Dec. 17. — The New York Giants, still considering themselves like uninvited guests, today concluded pre-game preparations for Sunday's meeting with the Washington Redskins, just as they have these last two Fridays. Each succeeding week the Giants have become increasingly bolder, and tonight their followers were cautioning them against falling a victim of overconfidence.

Three Sundays ago the Redskins came to the Polo Grounds needing nothing more than a tie with the Giants to become eastern champions of the National Football league. A victory for the defending league standard bearers was considered a foregone conclusion. With four minutes to play, the Giants sprung loose Bill Paschal for 54 yards and a winning touchdown. The following Sunday the rivals were in Washington. A tie still would do it for the Redskins. To the consternation of their partisan Washington supporters, not to mention themselves, the Redskins were taken for a 31 to 7 ride.

Originally Scheduled Oct. 3.

It is because of what has happened these last two Sundays that these old chums of the gridiron are meeting for the third straight week, a freakish happenstance in a league whose schedule complications would cause an Einstein to yell for help. Last Sunday's game, to cite a classic example, originally was scheduled for Oct. 3 in Griffith stadium. The Senators were busy at the time with the business of clinching second place in the American league and the alternate spot, Baltimore city stadium, could not be obtained.

This playoff for the eastern title has had its reverberations at the western end of the league where the Bears, between drills, are watching their Hotel or apartment house tabs grow. One thing is certain, this is the last Sunday the Giants and Redskins will meet. The winner will head west Friday to engage the Bears in Wrigley Field for the 1943 league championship.

Win or Lose Proposition.

The football bookmakers today were reported as having established the Giants as favorites for Sunday's battle in the Polo Grounds. Those who fancy the Giants must lay 8 to 5 while the Redskin adherents put up 5 to 7.

A crowd of 40,000 to 45,000 is expected.

Today's weather, with the temperature ranging in the middle 20s, would have been desirable for football. There is no snow here, but the Polo grounds terrain is reported to be frozen hard. The Redskins, still shaken at the turn of events since their 21 to 7 victory over the Bears, worked out yesterday at Westchester Country club in Rye, 30 minutes from Grand Central station.

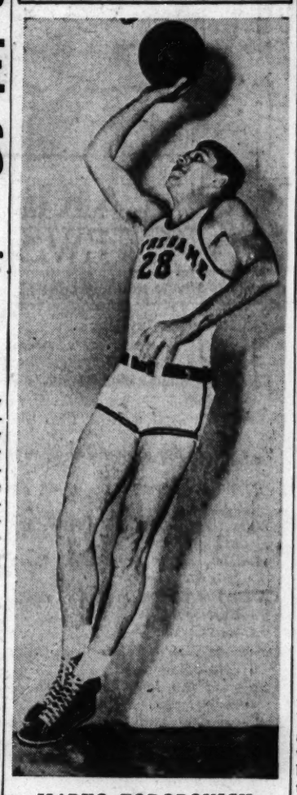

"We've got two strikes on George Marshall [owner of the Washington Redskins]," said young Jack Mara, president of the Giants, "and, we're going to throw that third strike past him Sunday."

Wisconsin and Marquette to Play Tonight

Milwaukee, Wis., Dec. 17 [Special].—Marquette university's basketball team will be seeking its first clean sweep in six years over the University of Wisconsin when it meets the Badgers in the Milwaukee auditorium tomorrow night at 8:30 o'clock.

The Hilltoppers recently trimmed Wisconsin in Madison, 51 to 43. A victory tomorrow would give the Blue and Gold its first double in the annual intrastate series since the 1937-38 season. The teams split in the three ensuing years, and Wisconsin made a sweep in 1941-42 and again last winter. In a series which began in 1917-18, Marquette has won 13 out of 33 games.

Two Veterans in Lineup.

The usual Marquette array will be ready to start. Only veterans in the lineup are Forward Howard Kallenberger and Guard Bill Chandler Jr. The Hilltoppers have won two games—from Wisconsin and Lawrence college.

The Badgers trimmed the DePauw Navy V-5 quintet and then lost to Marquette, Notre Dame, and Camp Grant.

DE PAUL FACES INDIANA FIVE ON STADIUM CARD

Graham Returns to Wildcat Lineup.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Notre Dame and Northwestern will resume their basketball rivalry tonight at 8:15 in the Chicago Stadium with the Wildcats seeking to break the Irish supremacy which now lists five consecutive victories. Indiana university's all freshmen quintet meets the undefeated De Paul squad in the second game tonight.

While Notre Dame-Northwestern basketball relations date back to 1915 when the Irish won, 24 to 21, the annual series of two games each season is only in its 17th year. The all-time record shows 29 victories for Notre Dame and 13 for Northwestern with one tied game, a freak result attributed to a mistake of the scorekeepers.

Irish Five Improved.

Ed Krause, Notre Dame coach, who played six games against the Wildcats for his alma mater, brings a quintet to the stadium which has won two games and been defeated by Western Michigan. Notre Dame trounced Wisconsin a week ago, and, according to Krause, his inexperienced team has improved sufficiently to warrant assertion that tonight's battle will be as closely fought as any in the series.

Northwestern lost its opening game last week but played without the services of Capt. Otto Graham. Graham returned to practice this week, however, and Coach Dutch Lonborg expects him to start at one of the forward positions. Graham was runner-up in Western conference scoring the last two years.

While Northwestern is far from being ready for its championship bid in the Big Ten race which starts next month, Coach Lonborg apparently has the material for title consideration. Regardless of tonight's outcome, many of these players will see action. Joe Schmidt, a letter man from South Dakota State who is a navy V-12 student, may get the starting forward assignment with Graham. Ronnie Schumacher, a Northwestern letter man who saw considerable service last year at center, is another possibility.

Felt at Center.

George Felt, Northwestern junior, has earned the starting center job as he did last season as a sophomore. Felt was sent to the sidelines a year ago, however, because he was scholastically ineligible. Felt's 6 feet 4 inches and agile deportment under the backboards are advantages Northwestern needed last season when the Wildcats might have finished better than third in the Big Ten standings had Felt gone all thru the campaign.

Nick Vodick, who replaced Felt at center last season, where he earned his letter, now has been shifted to guard. Four sophomores, all members of Northwestern's freshman team last year, are in the running for the other varsity guard position. They are Duane Sickels and Ben Schadler of Benton Harbor, Mich.; Jack Harker of La Salle, Ill., and Frank Clawson of Sheldon, Ill. Jerry Carle, a transfer student from Minnesota, where he won a basketball letter last year, is another candidate.

De Paul Risks Streak.

De Paul places its record of six consecutive victories at stake tonight in its scrap with Indiana. The Hoosier quintet, which defeated Wabash Tuesday night for the second time this season, is composed of freshmen but the squad has developed a team strength which may be sufficient to topple the Blue Demons. This means, of course, that the Indiana defense must stop George Mikan, De Paul's 6 foot 8 inch center. Mikan and Dick Triptow are the only De Paul veterans and are co-captains of the squad.

Indiana's guards are Bob Roland and Sam Young, who play a rugged defensive game. The Hoosier attack probably will revolve around George [Red] Tipton, 6 foot 3 inches, who is the key to the semi-pivot style of attack taught by Coach Harry Good, who served 15 years at Indiana Central colleges before taking over at Indiana this year.

HUSBAND AND WIFE PIN MEET TO OPEN TODAY

900 Couples Entered at Cascade Center.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

The first annual Husband and Wife bowling tournament will go to the line this afternoon at 2:10 o'clock when the opening squad of a field of 900 couples assembles at Lloyd Wevang's Cascade center, 3825 West Madison street. Bowling combinations from Chicago, its suburbs, downstate, and Indiana, Wisconsin, and Michigan will be represented in the tournament, in which first prize will be $250.

Each couple will bowl three games across six of the west side establishment's alleys, with a 60 per cent handicap allowance up to 200 pins. For those pairs which do not have an established league average, handicaps will be adjusted off their actual performances.

Tourney to End Jan. 2.

The field will bowl today and tonight, with 70 minutes allotted for each squad, repeating the procedure tomorrow. The tournament schedule will be resumed on Sunday, Dec. 26, following thru the four days thereafter, and concluding on Sunday, Jan. 2.

Tonight's opening program carries a baseball complexion, in that it will witness bowling by two of that game's greatest catchers, Bob O'Farrell and Ray Schalk. O'Farrell is scheduled for the 8 p. m. squad with wife, Arolene, a group which includes Johnny and Anne Ryan as members of the second Waukegan squad. Schalk, the old time Sox backstop will team up with spouse Lavinia on the Evergreen Towers delegation at 9:10 p. m. The 10:20 o'clock set tonight includes three members of the world champion Logan Square Buicks ladies' team and their mates. They are Capt. Tess Morris and Tom; Nina Van Camp and Hillis, and Ruth Hartmann and George.

Match Game Battle Tonight.

Two of the outstanding women bowlers of the country, Tillie Kagel of Indianapolis, and Betty Brugman of Chicago's Bowling Lanes, will open a two day, 20 game match battle on the latter's drives, 5221 Broadway, at 9:30 o'clock tonight. They will roll the second 10 games tomorrow night, beginning at 8:30 o'clock. Miss Kagel was the winner of the $500 Bowling Lanes Classic, while Miss Brugman carried off first prize in the $500 Detroit Classic.

University Is 33-30 Victor Over Parker

Mike Clarke scored six field goals and two free throws to lead the University High quintet to a 33 to 30 victory over Francis Parker on the latter's floor last night in a Private School league game. It was the south siders second triumph in three games.

In another league encounter, Harvard school registered a 44 to 33 victory over Concordia of River Forest on the Harvard floor.

Hey, Girls—A MAN!

Tribune headline: "Suggests Calling Lamont." Not a bad idea, Arch. Always liked her stuff in the Wake, but how about a little more information before a fellow calls her. After all, that's a swell way to get in trouble. I'm over draft age and wish you would get that information to her or to Virgie, Stormy, or Virginia Pennock, who I think are single from the things they write. Hilda Farr is okay, but I know she's married. Not-so-old-Joe.

Honorable Intentions.

Soldiers of the land of the rising sun hope that their efforts will make them eligible to join their "honorable ancestors." Our fighting men in the Pacific are trying to provide every opportunity for the Japs to join their honorable ancestors as soon as possible, for our boys have something honorable in mind, too. It's the end of the war and their honorable discharge. J'Oshkosh.

Chicago Radio School Beats Camp Skokie, 49-35

The University of Chicago Radio School won its third consecutive game in the Chicago Area Servicemen's Basketball league by defeating Camp Skokie Valley, 49 to 35, at Camp Skokie last night. Center Robert Hechtman and Guard Don Moody of Camp Skokie stole individual honors with nine points apiece to lead Chicago's top scorer, Robert Dillan, by a single point. Chicago led at the half, 18 to 16.

Thornton Five Tops Bloom; Sets S. S. Pace

Thornton of Harvey moved into the South Suburban league basketball lead by turning back Bloom, 38 to 20, last night at Chicago Heights. It was the second straight victory for the Thornton quintet. The visitors were out in front, 18 to 12, at half time. Their attack was led by Joe Ross with 10 points.

Calumet City, playing on its own floor, turned back Lockport, 55 to 43, to hand the latter its first defeat in three games. The triumph for Calumet City placed them in a second place tie with Lockport. Ed Nondorf led Calumet City with 18 points, while close behind him was Wally Horvatich with 15.

In the third league encounter, Blue Island nosed out Kankakee, 50 to 43.

2,260 PLANTS CERTIFIED FOR CIVILIAN GOODS

Controls Over War Surplus Urged.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 17.—The Smaller War Plants corporation today announced it had certified 2,260 manufacturers as qualified to participate in next year's increased civilian production program. Officials said smaller factories should share extensively in the 15 per cent increase in the civilian goods quota for the first 1944 quarter above the present quarter, recently allowed by the war production board.

Officials said certification of the 2,260 manufacturers to WPB for allocations of steel, copper, aluminum and other materials is an entirely new program undertaken by SWPC, an agency established by congress to aid small business men.

Chosen from Thousands.

The eligible companies selected by SWPC were screened from thousands of applicants who replied to a recent invitation from A. M. Carter, acting chairman of the agency, to offer their facilities for the manufacture of more than 700 types of consumer goods permitted by WPB next quarter.

Eligibility to participate in the civilian production program was based on each manufacturer's business in 1941, SWPC said. Manufacturers could qualify to make only those articles which they made in 1941. They were required to demonstrate their experience in making these articles.

Actual allocations of materials to certified manufacturers are being distributed by the WPB industry division, which has final authority to decide which manufacturers will be allowed to share in the program and how large each quota will be.

What Companies Make.

Of the total number of companies referred, 742 made textiles and clothing; 571—consumer durable goods; 394—building materials; 155—plumbing and heating equipment; 67—chemicals; 42—service equipment; 83—safety and technical equipment; 13—radio and radar; 5—tools; 5—farm machinery; 17—government requirements; 26—general industrial equipment; 87—paper and pulp products, and 5—containers.

Meantime Rep. Forest A. Harness [R., Ind.] proposed a plan for centralized control over disposal of surplus war materials designed to prevent the planless dumping of billions of dollars of goods into private channels. The proposal, introduced as a house bill, would also set up federal machinery to control postwar disposition of government owned war plants built at a cost of more than 16 billion dollars.

8 Man Board Planned.

The Harness bill would place authority for the disposal of both materials and plants in an 8 man reconversion board to be appointed by the President with senate approval. Members would include one each from the war, navy, and treasury departments and the Reconstruction Finance corporation, and four industry representatives.

The board would be directed to hold government owned plants in stand-by condition for at least five years after the war, except that sales might be authorized if the board found a shortage of goods which the plants produce. Companies which have operated government plants would be given a prior right to buy them when offered for sale, by meeting the highest bid.

Predicts Vast Volume.

"The volume of surplus materials and plants may be so tremendous when the war ends," Harness said, "that only a special agency operating under specific authorization by congress and working along clear cut lines of policy will be able to handle the job. So far we have no clear cut policy for disposing of surpluses."

Under the bill, no sales of "strategic materials" could be made without the approval of the central board. The board further would be directed to forbid such sales within three years after the war's end unless there were a shortage in private channels or spoilage were threatened.

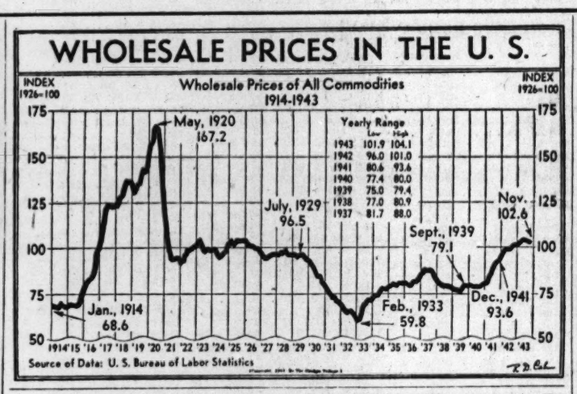

ROHR AIRCRAFT DELIVERIES ARE TRIPLED IN YEAR

Rohr Aircraft corporation, Chula Vista, Cal., organized in August, 1940, made deliveries valued at $52,003,648 in the fiscal year ended last July 31 and earned a profit of $3,178,040 after setting aside $7,461,299 for federal taxes, the company reported yesterday.

In the preceding year deliveries amounted to $15,647,968 and profit to $1,269,181, after providing $2,978,000 for taxes. The company reported that it is making use of 5 million dollars of a 10 million V-loan credit extending to Jan. 2, 1946.

Pullman Sleeper Travel Tops 1942 Level 21 Pct.

Pullman sleeping car travel for the first two weeks in December rose 21 per cent above the level in the comparable period of 1942 and indicates one of the highest month's volumes in the company's history, George A. Kelly, vice president of the Pullman company, said yesterday. By the end of the year it is estimated Pullman will have carried more than 30 million passengers, about equally divided between civilians and military personnel.

Saks to Spend 2 Million to Expand Store

BY AL CHASE.

Nearly 2 million dollars are involved in a post-war expansion program by Saks-Fifth Avenue, women's apparel store, at the northeast corner of North Michigan avenue and East Erie street, the recording of a $900,000 real estate purchase disclosed yesterday. This will be the second enlargement of Chicago operations of the big New York concern.

Saks bought the land and five story building at 665-69 North Michigan avenue and the property adjoining it on the south, thru the Chicago Michigan corporation, Saks subsidiary, for approximately $900,000. When war time building restrictions are lifted it is understood the company plans to add four more stories to its present structure and build a 10 story addition on the corner—representing a construction expenditure of about $800,000.

Sketches Being Made.

The top floor of the corner 10 story section and the roof of the nine story addition to the north are to be used for recreation purposes for the store's employes, it was said. Holabird & Root are making preliminary sketches for the construction.

Saks-Fifth Avenue had its first Chicago store at the southwest corner of Michigan and Chestnut. In 1936 it leased a building built for it by Murray Wolbach at a reported cost of $500,000 at 665-69 North Michigan. This was purchased yesterday from Wolbach for $645,000, and the corner parcel was bought from the Illinois Automobile corporation for $181,000. It was understood, however, that other considerations brought the total price up to about $900,000. Murray Wolbach was broker in both purchases.

Leased in 1940.

The corner parcel was leased in 1940 to Louis Berman & Co., fur dealers, and remodeled extensively. The lease has seven years to run, but it is understood that it can be canceled if post-war conditions warrant. The Berman building once was the residence of the late John Ryan, well know Chicago Board of Trade broker.

The two properties purchased yesterday will give Saks a total frontage of 109 feet on Michigan and 144 feet on Erie.

GRAIN MARKET PRICES EXTEND RECENT DECLINE

Grain prices eased again yesterday on the Chicago Board of Trade. At no time was wheat above the finish of the preceding session and closing sales were ½ to 1 cent a bushel lower. Rye was ¾ to 1⅝ cents lower. December oats closed at the ceiling price of 82 cents with the deferred months off ⅛ to ¼ cent. Barley finished unchanged to ⅜ cent higher.

Announcement that a senate committee had approved a bill permitting imports of feed grain duty free for 90 days had a depressing influence. However, traders said this would not result in a flood of grain into this country from Canada as imports this season have been held down by lack of transportation facilities.

Eversharp Put on $1.20 Annual Dividend Basis

Directors of Eversharp, Inc., yesterday placed the common stock on an annual dividend basis of $1.20 a share, payable quarterly, plus whatever extra dividends the board may decide to declare. A quarterly dividend of 30 cents and an extra of 25 cents were voted. The preceding dividend was 75 cents, paid last June 15.

CORPORATE PROFITS, AFTER TAXES, SET AT 8 BILLIONS FOR 1943

Washington, D. C., Dec. 17 (AP).—Corporation profits for 1943, after taxes, will reach an estimated 8 billion dollars, an all time high, the department of commerce said today.

Profits before taxes are expected to range between 22 billion and 23 billion dollars, also a new peak, the department said.

"These figures indicate that while performing miracles of war production the corporations are pouring back into the United States treasury in the form of taxes roughly two-thirds of their unprecedented earnings," the department said.

Profits after the taxes for the first nine months of this year aggregated 5 billion 900 million dollars, a rise of 11 per cent over the same period of 1942. Aggregate corporate profits before taxes for the period were 16 billion 600 million dollars, 20 per cent above 1942.

Crops Below Year Ago, but Top Average

Washington, D. C., Dec. 17 (AP).—The department of agriculture, in final figures for the year, reported today that total crop production this year was about 6 per cent below the record harvest of 1942 but topped the average of the five preceding years by 9 per cent.

Total production of all foods, however—including the live stock products of meats, milk, poultry, and eggs produced largely from feed grown in previous years—set a new record of about 4 per cent above last year to meet unprecedented war time requirements.

The final totals showed record production of potatoes, beans, peas, soybeans, peanuts, rice, and various minor crops, including nuts, hemp, and some commercial vegetables, particularly snap beans, carrots, and lettuce.

This year's corn crop totaled 3,076,159,000 bushels, compared with last year's record 3,131,518,000 bushels and a 10 year average of 2,349,267,000. Wheat production this year was 836,298,000 bushels, against 974,176,000 bushels last year and the 10 year average of 738,412,000. Production of oats was 1,143,867,000 bushels, compared with 1,349,547,000 last year and the 10 year average of 1,018,783,000.

The potato crop this year was 464,656,000 bushels, compared with 370,489,000 last year and a 10 year average of 363,332,000.

ICE BOX QUOTAS FOR 1ST QUARTER BOOSTED BY WPB

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 17.—The outlook for the resumption of mechanical refrigeration production in 1944 is poor, the war production board said today in releasing quotas for the manufacture of 269,809 household ice boxes in the first quarter next year. The quotas are an increase of about 40,000 boxes above production in the last quarter this year and more than three times the pre-war production rate.

"The increased output is expected to meet the rising need for ice refrigerators resulting from the unavailability of mechanical refrigerators for all but the most essential purposes," WPB said.

South Shore Chamber Re-elects R. M. Lenihan

Richard M. Lenihan, vice president of the South Shore National bank, has been reëlected president of the South Shore Chamber of Commerce, it was announced yesterday. He is the first man in the organization in 33 years to be elected to succeed himself in office.

Tax Work Is Increasing

Mail Forms Soon

Washington, D. C., Dec. 17 (AP).—The treasury announced tonight that the new federal income tax forms will go into the mails shortly after Jan. 1 These forms have to do only with 1943 income and do not have to wait for the further complications of the tax bill now taking shape.

Most of the 50 million taxpayers must wait until they receive from their employers a statement showing 1943 earnings and the amount of tax already withheld.

In the main, returns will have to be filed next March by: Any single person whose total income in 1943 was $500 or more; every husband or wife whose individual income was more than $624; every husband and wife whose combined incomes were $1,200 or more; every individual who paid or owed a tax on 1942 income.

Taxpayers with gross incomes below $3,000 will be able to use a simplified short form to eliminate several tedious steps.

52 Federal Visits

By the end of 1944 Chicago business firms will have more than a casual acquaintance with the tax collectors. So far, 77 visits have been scheduled on the 1944 annual tax calendar, an increase of 17 above the 1943 collection dates.

Next year's obligations will entail 52 separate payments to the federal government, 21 to the state, three to Cook county, and one to the city. Most of the additional tax dates have been fostered by additional federal levies. Only one obligation has been eased—that of making quarterly returns on the discontinued victory tax.

The scheduled tax dates include 12 monthly returns on the 20 per cent income tax withholdings on pay rolls and four quarterly returns to reconcile differences in the deductions; final income tax returns due in March in settlement of 1942 and 1943 incomes, and the quarterly payments on 1944 incomes from persons required to revise their original declarations.

Free System in Foreign Oil Policy Urged

Washington, D. C., Dec. 17 (AP).—The foreign operations committee of the petroleum administration for war today strongly urged a foreign oil policy based on private enterprise and supplemented by government efforts to reduce "political risks" abroad.

In a report made public by Harold L. Ickes, petroleum administrator, the committee asked the government to organize the nations into a compact and establish an international agency that would assure "equitable distribution" of the world's oil to all nations.

Headed By Harden.

The committee is composed of 12 oil industry leaders, and represents the viewpoint of major oil companies. The chairman is Orville Harden of Standard Oil of New Jersey.

Ickes issued the report without comment, except to say he had not known the committee was making the study and he had not had time to analyze the report fully.

Ickes also is president of the Petroleum Reserves corporation, which he has said is designed to provide "government assistance and participation" in establishing a national position in foreign oil activities, to the extent that private capital is unable to do the job.

Seek to Aid in Policy.

The committee's report asked that the American petroleum industry be admitted more fully into the "policy councils" of the government. [The industry works closely with PAW in coördinating oil production and distribution, but a frequent complaint of oil men has been that they were kept in the dark as to the plans of the Petroleum Reserves corporation.]

The report agreed with the stand taken by Ickes that the United States soon may be forced to become an importer of oil instead of an exporter, and argued that the national security depends on having an adequate stake in foreign oil.

The report urged "an international oil compact" with adequate political machinery to assure efficient development of oil fields and to assure that private capital invested in oil facilities will be safe.

STANDARD GAS TRACTION STOCK SALE APPROVED

Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 17 [Special].—The securities and exchange commission today granted the application of the Standard Gas and Electric company to sell for $800,000 cash its interest in the Market Street Railway company, San Francisco, Cal., to A. C. Allyn Co., an affiliate, and the Equitable Securities corporation.

The Standard Gas holdings consist of $863,094 open account indebtedness, 39,250 shares of 6 per cent cumulative preferred stock, 25,500 shares of 6 per cent second preferred stock and 61,900 shares of common stock. The stock represents 30.67 per cent of the voting securities of Market Street Railway. The remainder, a minority interest, is publicly and widely scattered.

Ambassador Hotel East Buys Amberg Property

The Ambassador Hotel East yesterday bought property adjoining it on the north, at 1311 North State street, 25 by 125 feet, thru Cornelia Ensinger, from Mrs. John Ward Amberg, for $22,000. The land is improved with a three story residence.

10 MILLION RISE IN CONTINENTAL CAPITAL VOTED

Effected by 20 Pct. Dividend in Stock.

BY PHILIP HAMPSON.

Stockholders of the Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company—the nation's fifth largest bank—at a special meeting yesterday approved an increase of 10 million dollars in the bank's capital to be effected by a 20 per cent dividend payable in stock. The directors previously had approved, subject to the action on the stock dividend, the transfer of 10 millions from undivided profits to surplus. The 10 million covering the stock dividend likewise comes from undivided profits.

As a result of yesterday's action the capital stock of the bank is raised from 50 to 60 million dollars and the surplus is increased from 50 to 60 millions—a total increase of 20 millions in these two capital accounts.

Voted by Wide Margin.

Walter J. Cummings, chairman of the board who presided at the meeting, said that more than three-fourths of the total stock was voted in favor of the dividend.

The stock distribution will be on a basis of one additional share for each five shares held. It will be made Dec. 28 to stockholders of record yesterday. Authority for the action was received yesterday from the controler of the currency.

The capital stock outstanding is being raised from 1,500,000 to 1,800,000 shares. The par value remains unchanged at $33 1/3 a share.

Under the present income tax law a stock dividend of this type is not taxable as income. In a letter sent stockholders proposing the stock dividend it was stated that when cash dividends are declared in the future they will be payable on the increased stock. It also was stated that it is planned to continue the present dividend rate per share. The bank has been paying $4 per share a year.

Undivided Profits Large.

With the steep growth in the bank's deposits it was believed the capital and surplus should be increased and that with so large an amount in undivided profits—$26,257,967 on Oct. 18, 1943, the date of the last bank call—there should be a distribution to the stockholders. The changes in the capital accounts just put into effect will be reflected for the first time in a public statement of condition as of Dec. 31.

Earnings since Oct. 18 will go into undivided profits and it is expected that by the end of the year this account will be near 10 million dollars. Transfer of the 20 millions to cover the new capital changes reduced the undivided profits as of Oct. 18 to $6,257,967.

The earnings outlook of the bank was reported to be favorable. Loans show an increase, resulting in increased earnings, and the increased amounts of government securities held by the bank increase the interest from this source. Indicated earnings of the bank from Jan. 1, 1943, to Oct. 18 were approximately $11,300,000. Net profit during the full year 1942 was $12,588,713, equal to $8.39 a share, indicating that last year's earnings will be exceeded this year.

The bank's deposits on Oct. 18, 1943, totaled $2,385,685,229.

Continental Illinois stock closed yesterday at 90½ bid and 93 asked compared with 99½ bid and 103 asked a month ago and 76½ bid and 79 asked a year ago.

BOULWARE GETS KEY OPERATIONS POST WITH WPB

Washington, D. C., Dec. 17 (AP).—The WPB's chief bottleneck buster had a new title today—vice chairman in charge of operations.

The appointment of Lemuel G. Boulware was announced by Charles E. Wilson, WPB executive vice chairman. Boulware succeeds H. G. Batcheller, who resigned Nov. 25 to return to the steel business.

Boulware has been a WPB executive since March 30, 1942, and WPB associates give him credit for making some of the toughest production programs stick. His appointment appeared to indicate that Wilson has decided to continue indefinitely in his WPB post.

Voluntary Meat Ration Urged; End of Market Glut Forecast

Reports Supply Large

A voluntary system of rationing meat would operate much better than forced, or point, rationing, George Dressler, president of the Retail Meat Dealers Association of Chicago, said yesterday in commenting on Washington reports that point value may be reduced on meat to move surpluses.

"Voluntary rationing would appeal to the public and would provide more equal distribution to consumers as opposed to the black market and chiseling caused by forced rationing," Dressler said. "The retail dealers, as well as the other branches of the meat industry, believe that thru concerted efforts in advertising and thru the retailer the public could be instructed in voluntary rationing."

Voluntary rationing is working out well in Hawaii, Dressler asserted.

Plenty in Chicago, He Says.

He said there is more than enough meat in Chicago, asserting the packers and wholesalers are "begging the dealers to take more merchandise, altho six months ago the dealers begged the packers for meat supplies."

Within the last six or eight weeks there has been some spoilage of meat in retail shops because some dealers bought too heavily and the consumers did not have the points to purchase available supplies, he said.

Cold storage occupancy in Chicago warehouses is larger than usual, especially in butter, canned eggs, poultry, meats, frozen fruits, and vegetables which require freezer space, said E. C. Erickson, vice president of Central Cold Storage company.

Packers Do the Job

Altho packers are handling the largest volume of live stock in history with fewer employes than in past periods of big supply, John Holmes, president of Swift & Co., yesterday expressed confidence that the industry would be able to handle the record marketing of hogs without serious delay.

John Holmes.

Stock yards thruout the midwest have been jammed with hogs in recent weeks.

"In another six weeks," Holmes said, "the bulk of the big winter supply will have been processed, probably not without some delays in some localities, and the immediate strain on meat packing employes and facilities will have passed."

"No one realized the tremendous capacity of the meat industry to process live stock."

Praises Workers' Help.

Holmes credited the coöperation of employes for Swift's ability to establish new records in hog dressing for three successive weeks.

Commission men representing farmers who send their hogs to market have criticized the packers at recent meetings in Chicago for continuing large scale purchases direct in the country at times when the established markets are glutted. Packer representatives replied that direct purchases were necessary to obtain specified types of hogs and to maintain normal customer relationships.

INVOLUNTARY CONVERSION.

Fire totally destroyed our lumber yard, office building, and inventory. The insurance adjuster placed the loss at $26,372, and our total insurance was $22,000. The sheds and buildings cost $16,000 when built but would probably cost $30,000 to replace. The stock loss was $8,000. We are rebuilding and expect to spend more than the insurance will cover. Can we take an income tax loss of $4,372? F. & J. Co.

Answer: Instead of a loss it is likely that a taxable gain has been realized. This gain would be the difference between the insurance money received, and the cost, less depreciation, of the inventory and property destroyed. The replacement value of the buildings would not determine the gain or loss for income tax purposes.

However, because the insurance money is being reinvested in property similar to that destroyed, the transaction is considered an "involuntary conversion," and the gain will not be taxed. Permission for establishment of the replacement fund should be sought from the commissioner of internal revenue.

LEWIS PLEDGES NO COAL STRIKE FOR TWO YEARS

Operators Sign New Pay Pact.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 17 (AP).—President John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers signed a two year no-strike agreement tonight with more than two-thirds of the soft coal industry and submitted it to the war labor board.

Lewis signed the agreement at his home, where he is ill, after a joint conference of the union and operators had approved it. It provides that no strike shall be called or maintained during the period of the agreement. The base date is last April 1, which means that the agreement may be opened March 31, the end of the first year, if either party wishes to negotiate general wage terms. It also may be reopened if "a significant change" occurs in the government wage policy.

Travel Added to Pay.

The wage terms for the miners are substantially the same as those in force under the agreement between Harold L. Ickes, secretary of the interior, as federal custodian of the mines, and John L. Lewis, UMW president, plus a $40 individual retroactive payment for underground travel time.

It will become a binding contract between private operators and the mine union [with the government relinquishing control] when, and if, the WLB approves it, and the office of price administration grants price increases satisfying the operators.

The agreement, negotiated by a subcommittee, was accepted by northern, western, and Alabama operators at a conference today after Ickes announced that 12,975,000 tons of soft coal—a near record—were produced last week. He estimated that the rate per miner was 38 tons, and the UMW said this figure meant that miners have increased their daily output by 1.15 to 1.20 tons a day under the agreement between Ickes and Lewis.

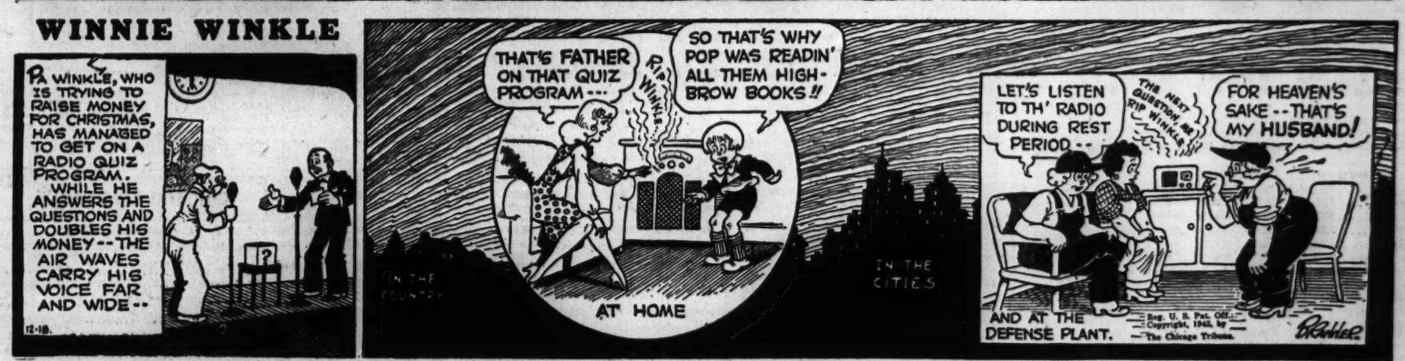

Burke Group Holds Out.

The Southern Coal Producers' association, headed by Edward R. Burke, former Nebraska senator, became the lone important holdout when the Alabama group signed. Alabama operators are not members of the southern association.

In a statement to the operator-union conference Burke said that if the WLB approves the contract and if additional price increases are granted, "it may be that our members would then feel that they would have no further freedom and would be constrained to go along with the rest of the industry."

STOCKS HIGHER DESPITE LIQUOR PROFIT TAKING

Rail, Farm Machinery Issues Chief Gainers.

New York, Dec. 17 (AP).—Liquor shares encountered profit taking handicaps in today's stock market, but rails and specialties came to the fore and enabled the list to emerge higher.

Liquor stocks, buoyed by whisky dividend hopes and expanding earnings for most distillers, moved up 1 to 3 or more points in the forenoon, but selling soon appeared and top prices were reduced or converted into declines here and there at the close.

Carriers were aided by the belief the rail wage dispute would be adjusted amicably. Farm implements showed a fair amount of strength as machinery allotments to this industry were expected to be increased.

Some Traders Mark Time.

Continuance of reinvestment demand in the wake of waning year end tax adjustments again was a helpful influence. Some customers maintained a watchful attitude pending possible important European happenings and more light on the forthcoming revenue bill.

The Associated Press 60 stock average was up 0.2 at 49.2, its third successive moderate comeback. Turnover was 874,650 shares compared with 761,420 yesterday.

A secondary offering of 25,000 shares of du Pont at 141½ was announced after the close. This was 1¾ points below the last quotation Thursday.

RAIL BONDS GAIN.

New York, Dec. 17 (AP).—Sizable gains by secondary and reorganization rails stood out in an otherwise steady bond market today, some of the carrier gains ranging to more than 2 points.

Baltimore and Ohio, and Southern Pacific loans were prominent in the rise. B. & O. "F" bonds of '96 rose 1⅞, the stamped "A" loan 2¼, and the convertibles ⅞. Southern Pacific 4½s of '68 gained 2¼ and the 4½s of '81 were up 2½.

Volume, chiefly accounted for by dealings in carriers was $10,197,700 against $10,054,000 yesterday.

CHICAGO STOCKS RISE.

Gains were well distributed thru the Chicago Stock exchange list yesterday, with volume expanding to 32,000 shares. Chicago corporation, in which transactions totaled 11,650 shares, Middle West corporation, and Commonwealth Edison made fractional advances. Alfred Decker & Cohn, Midland United A preferred, and General Candy reached new highs for the year.

PRICES OF HOGS STEADY; 4,000 REMAIN UNSOLD

Only slight changes were registered in the market for hogs yesterday. Both the top and average prices were steady at $13.75 and $13.45, respectively. Volume at most markets was lighter than a week earlier, but about 4,000 farmer-owned hogs remained unsold at the close of trading in Chicago.

Demand expanded for all except "government weights," which comprised nearly all of the hogs left at the close. Some of the lightest, below 200 pounds in weight, were sold at strong to 10 cent higher prices, and some sales of butchers over 270 pounds were strong.

Lambs sold steady to 25 cents lower, and steers steady to weak.

SENATORS MOVE TO EXPATRIATE DISLOYAL JAPS

More than 6,000 Refuse Their Allegiance.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 17.—Defiance of American born Japanese who refuse to swear allegiance to the United States was answered in the senate today with the introduction of a bill to expatriate them.

The bill was proposed by Senators Ernest W. McFarland [D., Ariz.] and Tom Stewart [D., Tenn.].

4,850 Answer No.

Sen. McFarland told the senate that the war relocation authority received a negative reply from 4,850 when it submitted this question to 19,979 American born male Japanese 17 years or older:

"Will you swear unqualified allegiance to the United States of America and forswear any form of allegiance or obedience to the Japanese emperor or any other foreign government, power or organization?"

The same question was submitted to 18,486 American born female Japanese in the same age group, Sen. McFarland said, and 1,487 gave "no" for an answer.

"Should Be Deported."

"Any men or women born in the United States," Sen. McFarland said, "who have enjoyed our nation of liberty and justice and who, in this crisis, thus admit they owe allegiance to the Japanese government, are no longer entitled to call themselves citizens of our country and should be deported immediately after the war.

"We cannot afford to allow these people to continue to enjoy the blessings of our great nation. It is time we see to it the United States is 100 per cent American. Let us send these people to the country of their love. We have no place for them here."

The bill would amend the nationality act of 1940.

Crash Victim Identified as Illinois Lieutenant

Lincoln, Neb., Dec. 17 (AP).—The Lincoln army air base said today that the 16th victim of a four engine bomber crash near Council Bluffs, Ia., Tuesday night has been identified as 2d Lt. Elbert James Finley Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Finley Sr. His mother lives at Normal, Ill., his father at Irwin, Ill., and his widow at Plainfield, Ill. Lt. Finley was a recent graduate of the weather school at Chaunte field.

Friend of the Yanks

[The Friend of the Yanks department will answer questions about the draft and military service, both in the daily columns and by mail, if stamped, self-addressed envelopes are sent with queries.]

T. P. S. asks: "Will the University of Chicago start another pre-induction military training program this winter? When will enrollments be open?"

ANSWER: Yes. The university will repeat the same courses, beginning in the January quarter and running thru three months. It is expected the enrollments will be very heavy particularly from among the married men. The Institute of Military Studies at the U. of C. is accepting enrollments now.

I. J. G. writes: "I am being discharged from the army. Will I be able to keep my uniform or will I be issued civilian clothing? I've heard there is to be a rescinding of 'clothing rights' to discharged men."

ANSWER: Every soldier discharged honorably from the service is permitted to retain in his possession certain articles of army clothing including coat, trousers, and shoes. We are informed, however, that the army's need of such clothing is critical and it is asking soldiers who are or were honorably discharged to contribute articles of clothing to the nearest army installation. The parcel may be taken personally or shipped by railway express collect if under 30 pounds.

A. O. W. asks: "Are soldiers permitted to work for profit in off duty hours as, for instance, where our station is near a defense plant and many of us are skilled men who would like to make a little extra money on our off hours?"

ANSWER: The war department has authorized commanding officers to permit soldiers to work during off duty hours in near-by communities, provided an emergency exists because of a shortage of available labor. The permission has thus far been largely restricted to farm work and food processing, including canning, freezing and dehydrating, and packing of fresh commodities.

B. S. W. asks: "Can servicemen who have been honorably discharged be reclassified and inducted? Also what about the men transferred to the enlisted reserve corps inactive?"

ANSWER: Men discharged for any reason other than physical or mental disability; "inaptitude" or "undesirable" shall be reclassified available for military service and processed for reinduction. Local board memorandum 77-A states that men discharged from service for mental or physical disability must be forwarded to a member or members of a selective service medical advisory board for examination before being ordered to the induction station and only if the medical board indicates he may pass current physical standards for induction. Enlisted reservists [inactive] are under army jurisdiction.

NOTE: Persons receiving slips listing gifts for men in veterans hospitals are advised these men now have a civilian status hence any clothing requested should be civilian clothing.

PUBLIC AUCTION
OF FIVE FARMS CONTAINING APPROXIMATELY 2,500 ACRES SURROUNDING THE VILLAGE OF KIRKLAND, ILL., DE KALB CO. OWNED BY MR. JOHN MACQUEEN. 4 SETS OF BUILDINGS AND SIX HOUSES. GREATEST INVESTMENT OF ALL TIME. WILL BE SOLD SEPARATELY, NOT AS THE ENTIRETY, AT PUBLIC AUCTION
Wednesday, Jan. 5, 1944
AT FARM No. 1 AT 1:30 P. M. BY
J. Clinton Bowden
Nationally Known Land Auctioneer of Oak Park, Ill.

Farm No. 1
Contains 482 Acres
of absolutely the prize soil of the great State of Ill. Rich in humas, potash, phosphoric acid and nitrogen. The land for years has had many thousands tons of good manure spread upon the soil. This year 125 bu. per acre of corn was harvested from a great many acres. Soil has been tested by superior experts which pronounced this great soil the best, considering the number of acres. BUILDINGS ARE WONDERFUL, arranged to make plenty of money. A new corn crib has capacity for 12,000 bushels. This farm at the price it will sell for will pay for itself in five years.

Farm No. 2
Contains 360 Acres
Another Great Farm, soil is also black, level and equally as good as No. 1. One of the most attractive farms you will find anywhere. This great farm also has been well taken care of, thereby making this 360 acres one of the great producers. BUILDINGS ARE ATTRACTIVE and in splendid condition. Farm this great place as it should be, it won't take long for it to pay for itself.

Farm No. 3
of marvelous soil, rich in everything pertaining to a wonderful production of crops. Many people have said we expect to own this farm at any cost. Well, you just can't blame them, when you inspect this great farm.
There is approximately 1,262 acres in the three above farms which if all the soil this year had been planted in hemp, the crop would have amounted to enough to pay for every acre.

Farm No. 4
Contains 436 Acres
Situated on the north side of the railroad; very good producing soil. It is also great pasture soil. A soil expert who examined the soil pronounced it to be some of the best alfalfa and corn soil in the community. Buy this soil; it will make you plenty of money. BUILDINGS are frame, located on the main road, only a few minutes walk to Kirkland village.

Parcel No. 5
Contains 730 Acres
No buildings. No doubt will sell at a bargain. There is many acres of extra good soil. The 65 acres of hemp produced on this land this year surely was an enormous crop. There is also many acres of good pasture and several acres of valuable timber.
NOTICE: The Milwaukee railroad main line from Chicago to Omaha which bisects land equally from east to west; also State Highway 72 runs full width of property. Adjacent to village is the site of the Kirkland Feeding Yards, a railroad owned yard used in the feeding and grazing operations connected with the feeding in transit of western live stock enroute to the Chicago market. This tract of land has always made money. It would not be for sale if the advanced years of the owner weren't so many. It is a wonderful opportunity.
SYNOPSIS OF TERMS: 15% day of auction, bal. and final settlement on or before 60 days. Owner will take back a 50% mortgage. Open for inspection every day. INFORMATION: J. Clinton Bowden, auctioneer, Box 386, Oak Park, Ill. Phone Forest 2017. Chicago office, Central 4069. OR Ambassador 3122. OR Phone Mr. James D. Edwards, Kirkland Ill. Phone 11.

Special Loan Service for Folks in a Hurry

Short of time as well as cash? Don't borrow unnecessarily, but if a loan of $10 to $250 or more is to your advantage, see us. We make cash loans with a minimum of delay. Outsiders not involved.

No Fussing Around

Just come in, or better still, apply by phone. Call us, then make one visit to sign and pick up the cash. You'll get the same courteous, private attention as though you applied in person.

Sensible Cost

Loans are made on signature, furniture, or auto, without involving others. $30 for 2 weeks costs only 45c. Let us know today how we can serve you.

PICK YOUR OWN MONTHLY PAYMENTS.

CASH You GET.	3 payments.	4 payments.	6 payments.	9 payments.	12 payments.
$ 50	$ 17.68	$13.45	$ 9.23	$ 6.42	$ 5.02
